

Shiloh Baptist to host women's workshop

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Shiloh Baptist Church's annual women's workshop leading up to Women's Day will be held Friday, Nov. 12, from 6-8 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 13, 9 a.m. until noon. Lunch will be served at noon.

The theme for the workshop is "Christian Women Preparing for Y2K." The following topics will be discussed: "Health," "Finance," "Religion," "Emergencies." Mrs. Cheryl Renee-Chapman Hanna, currently residing in Delaware and a student at Princeton Divinity School, will be the leader of this workshop. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Rosie L. Feemster and the late Mrs. Annie M. Chapman.

The auctioning of baskets will be held Saturday, Nov. 13, from 12:30 p.m.-2 p.m.

All women of Shiloh are asked to attend. The entire membership is asked to attend the auctioning.

Cheryl Renee-Chapman Hanna has been married to Michael C. Hanna for 18 years and has four children: Natalie, 16 years old; Michael, 14 years old; Adese, 11 years old; William, 9 years old. A member of Pilgrim Baptist Church of Newark, Del., she has been a deaconess since 1994 and a church school teacher since 1981. Cheryl also worked as a Chaplain Extern at Grace Hospital in Detroit for several years.

After graduation from Kettering University with a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering, Cheryl was employed by General Motors Corp. as a project engineer, plant engineer and manufacturing supervisor. The call of God in her life led her to leave industry and pursue full-time ministry. Cheryl is currently enrolled in the master of divinity program at Princeton Theological Seminary in her second year of study.

Mrs. Hanna has presented deaconess training in Detroit, Mich., Wilmington and Newark, Del., and has been a workshop presenter for missionary, youth ministry and church leadership conferences.

The annual Women's Day Celebration will be held Sunday, Nov. 14. Rev. Annie Dalton, associate minister of Emmanuel Baptist Church, will be the guest minister for the 8:15 a.m. service and the 11 a.m. service. All women are asked to make a special contribution.

Rev. Annie H. Dalton is a native of Lexington, N.C. Her parents are Ms. Pearl Hairston and Mr. Baxter Hoover of Lexington. She attended the Lexington City Schools and graduated from Dunbar High School. Rev. Dalton furthered her education at Kate Biting Nursing School and Winston-Salem State University. In addition, she completed the clinical pastoral education internship at the Wake Forest Baptist Hospital Department of Pastoral Care.

Hanna

Rev. Dalton is currently enrolled in the Shaw University CAPE Program in High Point, where she is majoring in sociology.

Long

Rev. Dalton was baptized at an early age and was a member of Files Chapel Baptist Church in Lexington under the leadership of Rev. F.D. Betts. She joined Emmanuel Baptist Church on Oct. 3, 1975.

Rev. Dalton has been active in the church for many years. Some of her past positions and activities included Sunday school teacher, Sunday school superintendent and program chairperson. She has been a vacation Bible school teacher and president of the EBC Chorale Choir as well as chaplain of the Choir and the Missionary Department.

Rev. Dalton has served as chair of the Church Anniversary Committee. She has been a delegate to the Congress of Christian Education, the Progressive National Baptist Convention and the Overseas Mission Training Center in Vintner, N.J.

Rev. Dalton is a licensed associate minister at Emmanuel Baptist Church. The Rowan Baptist Association, at the General Baptist State Convention in July 1998, ordained her.

Rev. Dalton

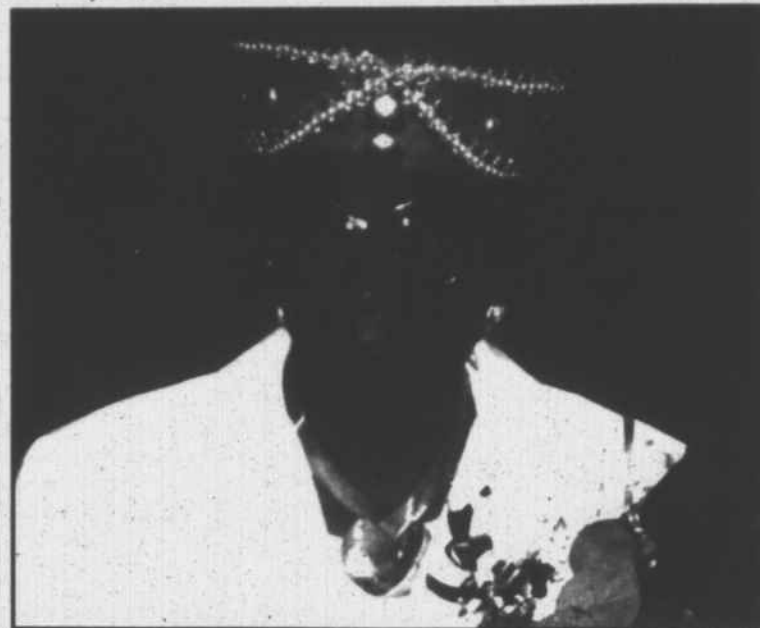

Rev. Dalton retired in April 1998 after working 30 years at Bell South Telephone Co. During those years she held positions as directory assistance operator, service representative and in the collections and sales department. Currently she is a substitute teacher in the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County School System.

Rev. Dalton is active in community service. She has participated as a past volunteer spiritual care giver and volunteer chaplain for Hospice of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County.

Rev. Dalton is married to James William Dalton and has four adult children and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Wilhelmina L. Long is leader of women 1999.

Lizzie Settles honored

The first Women's Day at Union Baptist Church was observed in 1949. The late Iveynele McDaniel, the wife of the late Rev. A. H. McDaniel, organized the program. The congregation of Union Baptist observed the 50th annual Women's Day celebration on Sunday, Nov. 7. Lizzie Settles, the only surviving member of the 1949 Women's Day Committee, received honor as one of the founding contributors to this tradition. Settles also served as one of the past chairpersons of the event. The other deceased members of the original 1949 committee were Iveynele McDaniel, Naomi Gaither, Vira Goodson, Pearl Harding, Marie Lewis, Katie Murray, Bertha Palmer, Liza Sullivan and Mary Weatherspoon. The 1999 chairperson was Cheryl S. Harry. The guest minister was the Rev. Constance M. Prince, associate minister, New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church, Durham.
