

Myth about separation of church and state

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

For many years, there has been very heated debate on taking prayer out of the schools. Many parents felt there was no way out. Thanks to a 50-year-old Supreme Court ruling and an innovative program experimented by Hanes Memorial CME, Galilee Missionary Baptist Church and Goler Memorial AME Zion Church, churches and parents can finally learn how they can legally impart the spiritual, moral and ethical values in their children during the school day.

Rev. Lartey

The program, "Released Time," is being overwhelmingly accepted across the state by parents, educators and churches. The Bladen County Board of Education and the Bladen County Ministers Alliance have recently endorsed having the program in their school system, and training has been set for parents and churches in the Fayetteville area as well.

By putting this program into effect in our school system, parents and churches can literally change the outcome in a child's life, deterring violence and drugs, and instilling values not taught in school systems today.

Citizens will gather to find out more information about the program on Saturday, Sept. 8, beginning at 9 a.m., at 630 N. Patterson Ave. Rev. Seth O. Lartey of Goler Memorial AME Zion Church will be the facilitator. There will be a small registration fee to cover the materials. For additional information, call the church office, 724-9411.

The Winston-Salem Rescue Mission will celebrate its 34th anniversary

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Winston-Salem Rescue Mission will celebrate its 34th anniversary on Monday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m. at Twin City Baptist Church, 1337 Ebert Street. Rev. Don Horton, president of the board of directors and pastor of Calvary Community Church in Statesville, will preside.

Dr. Harold Fletcher, retiring board vice president and former pastor of Union Grove Baptist Church in Lexington, will be the featured speaker. Fletcher was one of the organizers in the establishment of the mission 34 years ago. In addition to the message by Fletcher, there will be special music by Dr. Bill Thompson and testimonies from men whose lives have been changed through the ministry of the Rescue Mission.

The mission is a faith-based ministry to homeless, hungry and hurting men. The current building at 717 Oak Street can house 96 men each night. Men who come to the mission also are provided an opportunity for work therapy. A 40,000-square-foot warehouse allows the men opportunities to learn to repair major appliances, small appliances, televisions, bicycles, lawn mowers and automobiles. These items are placed in two thrift stores operated by the mission. One store is at 705 N. Trade Street, and the other is at the corner of Seventh and Oak streets. All proceeds from the store sales are used to help the needy.

The mission also operates Alpha Acres, a rural ministry in Yadkin County. This program provides counseling, Bible study, and educational and job training. A computer lab gives clients the opportunity to prepare for their G.E.D. and to learn job-related skills. Alpha Acres in its fourth year of operation.

Last fiscal year was a record-breaking year for the ministries of the Winston-Salem Rescue Mission. There were 129,039 meals served, 42,104 nights of lodging provided and 18,613 pieces of clothing given out. In addition, more than 22 tractor-trailer loads of furniture were given to the needy, and 183 professions of faith and rededications were made.

The board of directors, staff and mission clients invite you to share in this celebration of God's blessings on the mission ministry on Sept. 10.
