Goler launches new food aid program

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Goler Memorial AME Zion Church has become a host site for the Angel Food Ministries Program, a non-profit, non-denominational organization dedicated to providing food relief while contributing to benevolent outreaches in communities throughout the United States.

The program offers a hand-up, not a handout to local people by providing food items at a discount. A person can pay $30 for a regular box of food and receive approximately $60 worth of food in return. On average, there are 17 items including a variety of meats in each regular box.

"The church is a vital organism in the life of any community, but in order for the church to remain relevant it must serve the needs of its people. Through Angel Food Ministries, Goler Memorial seeks to serve the needs of the people we serve," said the church's pastor, the Rev. Dr. Seth O. Lartey. Goler Memorial had its first distribution/pick up day in September and has since provided 268 boxes of food. The majority of the participants have been working families and older adults. According to Goler's Angel Food Ministry Director Tracie Hunter-Bowens, the program has benefited all sorts of people.

"We want to dispel the myth that this is a program for people who are in a certain income bracket," she said. "This program is for anyone who is being affected by our economy and wants to provide food for themselves and their families and friends." The November order deadline is Sunday, Nov. 9, due to the Thanksgiving Holiday, and the Distribution/Pick-Up Date is Saturday, Nov. 22 from 10 a.m. to noon.

For more information about the program, including placing orders call 336-724-9411. The Angel Food Ministry is also seeking volunteers. The next volunteer meeting is on Tuesday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. at the Goler Family Enrichment Center, 620 North Patterson Ave.
