Interior design competition to raise money for Habitat for Humanity

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Eight design teams from across the Triad will test their design expertise during the 4th annual ReStore Spaces event on Friday, Oct. 23.

The challenge, hosted by the Winston-Salem Regional Association of REALTORS, will benefit Habitat for Humanity of Forsyth County ReStore, a retail outlet offering consumers bargains on donated building supplies, furniture and appliances. All money raised goes to help Habitat Forsyth build more homes in our community.

The design teams will each be given a room type (bedroom, kitchen, utility, etc.) to design and are required to use only products found at Habitat ReStore. For the second year, Liberty Hardware is the title sponsor and has donated hardware products such as knobs, pulls and bath accessories to the "Liberty Vault." All designers must choose items from that vault and incorporate the product in some manner in their room. A winner will be selected based on the most creative use of the Liberty products. Other room awards include Judge's Choice and the People's Choice where guests are able to vote for their favorite room with their money. The room raising the most money wins the People's Choice Award.

ReStore Spaces will be held from 6:30 - 10:00 p.m. at the ReStore at 341 Witt St. Tickets are $20 per person and will include a tour of the "rooms," wine, beer, heavy hors d'oeuvres, a DJ and dancing. There will also be a special live performance in the dessert and coffee lounge this year from New Orleans jazz star Little Queenie. Tickets are on sale now at Habitat for Humanity of Forsyth's Web site www.habitatforsyth.org.
