Church to honor former interim pastor

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Morning Star Missionary Baptist Church, where the pastor is the Rev. Dennis Leach Sr., will honor Rev. Parthenia S. Galloway on Sunday, Nov. 8 during the 11 a.m. worship service.

Galloway will be celebrated for her hard work and dedication to the ministry while serving as Interim Pastor of Morning Star Missionary after the sudden passing of Pastor Donald L. Salley in October 2007.

Galloway humbly and faithfully availed herself to the strenuous demands of pastoring and provided exemplary leadership and strong spiritual guidance during her 18-month tenure as interim pastor.

Rev. Galloway

"When called upon at a crucial time in the life of the church, Rev. Galloway responded in the affirmative. 'Here am I, send me,'" said Pastor Leach. "Her willingness to stand in the gap as interim pastor is an example of her love and commitment to serve God, His people, and the Morning Star Missionary Baptist Church family. Interim pastors often bare the burdens of serving the church, often without the rewards afforded others. The Bible tells us "to render honor to whom honor is due," and I felt it was right for the church to recognize Rev. Parthenia Galloway for her service to this church."

Galloway is currently a member of the church's Sunday School teaching staff, the church counseling staff and Director/Teacher of the Sisters in Christ Women's Ministry.

Rev. Galloway is the wife of Robert Galloway, Jr. They have two children and six grandchildren.

The theme is "Renewed By The Perfecting Word" from Psalms 19:7, and the guest revivalist will be Dr. Ronnie Williams of Generostee Baptist Church of Starr, S.C.

He has been pastor at Generostee since 1988. Under the preaching and teaching of Dr. Williams, countless souls have come to know Christ. He has licensed at least 20 ministers and his church's membership has grown from 150 to more than 1,000 members. His leadership has led to the development of 35 ministries.

With this growth in membership and service, there has also been a growth in the physical property and sanctuary. The church now possesses 27 acres of land, which is being used and developed as a campus of praise, worship and community service. Williams and his wife, Edna Williams, have five children and eight grandchildren.

To Be Chosen

Lesson Scripture: I Peter 2:1-10

Lesson Aims: To summarize what it means to be "chosen;" to understand that believers are responsible for their behavior; and to rejoice being a part of the "royal priesthood."

Background: The early church needed some inspiration for the days ahead. Peter, the apostle to the Jewish converts, recognized that the persecution, ridicule and discrimination would wear them down. His writings were designed to instruct the believers about the New Community. Last week, our lesson taught us to be holy. This means to separate ourselves from worldly things and to concentrate on living a life of love (the nature of God). Holiness is not a list of do's and don't's. As Roman hostility mounted, Peter informed the scattered Jewish believers (1:1) how to handle suffering. "God's prescription for suffering people calls for holiness, submission, and acceptance of the amazing truth that suffering can be a gift from Him" (Richards' Complete Bible Handbook). Suffering, here, in this lesson, is based on persecution (wiping them out), not a series of unjust laws.

Lesson: Salvation work was completed in Jesus' death and resurrection. When individuals chose to

Kids enjoy Hallelujah Night at Holy Trinity

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Holy Trinity Full Gospel Baptist Church's Rebirth Youth Ministry hosted Hallelujah Night on Oct. 28.

The evening included games, candy and fun for young people. It all began after Minister Darrell Jeter led attendees in prayer.

The outdoor event featured several fun stations with attractions such as face painting, musical chairs, a softball toss and a jumbo bouncer. There was also a station where attendees designed their own candy bags. Young people made their way to each and every station. No matter the game, all the youths seemed to enjoy themselves.

Inside the church, there were more attractions, including the infamous Hell House, a chilling set-up that drew only the bravest of young people. Minister Joseph Miller closed the event, by explaining why the church offers Hallelujah Night instead of a Halloween event.

He encouraged the kids to stand out, be different and take the opportunity to praise God at any and all occasions.
