Omega chapters hold Achievement Week events

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Psi Phi Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. held its annual Achievement Week Awards Program at SciWorks science center on Nov. 11.

Assistant Police Chief Brother Barry Rountree presented a proclamation to the Chapter Basileus Brother John P. Card Jr. on behalf of the City of Winston-Salem and the Mayor's Office that acknowledged the men of Omega Psi Phi and their effort to help build a strong and vibrant community.

Several Omega men were presented awards by the chapter for their exceptional service and for upholding the highest standards of the fraternity with selfless sacrifice.

Brother Wayne Hosch received the Manhood Award; Brother Michael Magruder received the Scholarship Award; Brother Billy D. Friende Jr. received the Perseverance Award; Brother Kenneth Francis received the Uplift Award; Brother Ernest Bowers received the Colonel Charles Denton Young Military Leadership Award;

Brother Raphael O. Black received the Founders Award; Brother Mark Oliver received the Superior Service Award; and Brother Charlie W. Bethea received the Omega Man of the Year Award. This year's selection for the Citizen of the Year award was NBA star Chris Paul, whose father, Charles Paul, accepted the award on his behalf.

The chapter and the community enjoyed an outstanding program as a result of the hardworking Achievement Week Committee, led by Brother James Franklin Jr. This year, the program was held jointly with the Brothers of Mu Epsilon Chapter of Winston-Salem State University, which is headed by Chapter Basileus Chris Lee, who presented the awards to his chapter's recipients.

Several young men from the undergraduate chapter were recognized for their service and devotion to the chapter, campus and local community. The fraternity wishes to thank the community for their support this year and the award recipients for all their hard work.
