Ladies agree to undertake challenges at fellowship event

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Holy Trinity Full Gospel Baptist Church's R.I.C.H. CDC held its latest Sista's Program on Saturday, June 23 at Breakfasttime Restaurant on Old Salisbury Road.

The fellowship drew many women, who discussed issues in their lives and were encouraged by the others.

Co-Pastor Ernestine Miller, the fellowship coordinator, presented a group project for the ladies to achieve within a two-month period. She asked that those who can to undertake an effort to improve the kitchen facilities at Holy Trinity's new location on Peter's Creek Parkway and to help develop a better transportation system to help worshippers without vehicles get to and from church services.

The RICH CDC offers several other programs, including a food pantry, the M.A.L.E. program, and groups for married couples, singles, single parents and youths.

The Mission of the CDC is to Reinvest, Improve lives and Create Hope by providing mentoring, educational and substantial support groups.

For more information, contact the church office at 336-784-9347.

Grant to speak at graduates' service

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Education Department of Kimberly Park Holiness Church will host its 18th Annual Graduate Award and Recognition Service on Sunday, July 8 at 4 p.m.

Minister Jacqueline Grant, pastor of Mt. Horeb Holiness Church in Bronx, N.Y., will deliver the message. The Education Department will recognize and honor students who are graduating from all levels of education and those who have overcome significant challenges during the past academic year.

Graduates ShaKayla Glenn, a R.J. Reynolds grad and daughter of Randy and Gwendolyn Glenn, and Lakeshia Winfield, a Mt. Tabor grad and daughter of the late Bennie L. Winfield Sr. and Dr. Vanessa Duren-Winfield, will receive scholarships from the Holiness Church of God, Inc. and the Bishop S.M. Caesar Scholarship Fund.

ShaKayla will also receive a scholarship from Crosby Scholars. She will attend St. Augustine's College this fall to major in social work. Lakeshia will attend Forsyth Tech Community College, where she will enroll in the Forsyth Tech/Winston-Salem State University Dual Admission program. She is gifted in art and fashion design and plans to major in art psychology.

Grant accepted the call to ministry in 1979 at the age of 20 and preached her first sermon, "When you've tried everything, Try Jesus."

She graduated from Bethel Bible Institute and Tabernacle Bible Institute in Jamaica, NY. She was married to the late Elder Keith Grant and has three children. Grant is a supervisor with the NYC Human Resource Administration and has a passion and gift of ministering to young people.

The theme for the service is "Mustard Seed Faith." The young people of the church will be in charge of the service. Everyone is invited to attend. The church is located 1640 S.M. Caesar Drive. Elder Robert R. Edmond is the pastor.

Robe dedication to include old school gospel concert

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

After celebrating its third anniversary on Sunday, June 3 before a capacity crowd at Galilee Missionary Baptist Church, Willie Mason and Friends will hold a ceremony on Sunday, July 8 at 4 p.m., to dedicate the choir's new robes. The ceremony will take place at St. John CME Church, 350 N.W. Crawford

Place. The red, gray and silver accented robes were designed by Josphus Originals of Burlington.

Following the dedication ceremony, a community choir made up of local residents will perform an inspirational concert of "old school" gospel music from the '60s to '90s. The choir will feature the music gifts of Ministers of Music David L. Allen Sr., F. Logan Reynolds Jr. and

Dr. George A. Pass II, along with a host of other gifted musicians.

Rev. Dr. Edward E. Thomas is the host pastor and Merideth Reid is the host minister of music. All are invited to attend.

For more information, contact Willie Mason at 336-451-4756 or wjmason@triad.rr.com.
