C2C conference to feature Roland Martin

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Union Baptist Church will host its 9th Annual Corner 2 Corner (C2C) Drug Dealers and Street Life Conference from Nov. 15-18. The conference is designed to help individuals take the first steps in changing their lives of crime and substance abuse. Noted journalist Roland Martin will give the keynote address on the final day of the conference. Martin is a commentator for the TV One network and host and managing editor of "Washington Watch with Roland Martin." He is also a CNN analyst who appears on the network to discuss a variety of issues. Martin will speak on Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service, which will include the C2C graduation ceremony. Yasmine Arrington, a PBS intern at Elon University and the founder of ScholarCHIPS (for Incarcerated Parents), will speak at the 9 a.m. worship service. The conference starts today (Nov. 15) at 8 a.m. with a registration period and a breakfast. Participants may also register tomorrow, beginning at 8 a.m. A full schedule of panel discussions, speeches and seminars are slated for both today and tomorrow. There will be a luncheon for program participants after Sunday's graduation. Dr. Sir Walter Mack Jr., pastor of Union Baptist Church, envisioned the conference while driving home one day after giving a powerful worship service message. Dr. Mack casually observed a young man dealing drugs on the corner and he felt compelled to confront this problem. C2C's mission is to educate, mentor and provide viable alternative options for employment and entrepreneurship to deter current and future drug dealers. Those interested in participating in this year's conference should call 336-724-9305, ext. 222. Registration is free and open to the public. Union Baptist is located at 1200 N. Trade St.

Educator to give initial sermon

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Dr. Vanessa Duren-Winfield will preach her initial sermon at Kimberly Park Holiness Church on Sunday, Nov. 25 at 4 p.m. Duren-Winfield says her calling is to "preach a message of faith, hope and the love of God." "There are many hurting people who need encouragement and need to know that God loves them and is not mad at them," she added.

The daughter of Theresa H. Duren and the late James R. Duren, Duren-Winfield has two daughters, Deborah and Lakeshia, and was married to the late Bennie L. Winfield Sr. At Kimberly Park, she serves as second assistant superintendent of the Sunday School, president of the Educational Department, president and director of the Mass Choir and vice-present of the Joy & Faith Club. She founded a leadership academy in 2010 to teach leadership and professionalism skills to young people who are transitioning from high school to college and from college to the workplace.

She is a summa cum laude graduate of N.C. A&T State University, where she earned a BS in business administration, a MS in adult education and a doctorate in leadership studies. She is a nationally and internationally published health disparities researcher. Duren-Winfield is employed at Winston-Salem State University, where she is director of research in the School of Health Sciences and an assistant professor in the Healthcare Management program. Kimberly Park Holiness Church is located 1640 S.M. Caesar Drive. The pastor is Robert Edmond.

Opportunities to Witness

Devotional Reading: Ezekiel 34:11-16

Lesson Scripture: Acts 28:1-10

Lesson Aims: To summarize the lesson; to appreciate how God works; and to always live a life of faith.

Background: God is truly amazing! He takes the simple and confounds the complex. Everyone is included in His plan no matter what society says; best of all - He keeps His promises. The late Mrs. Elizabeth Williams would enthusiastically

Academy holds Alumni Day

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Ephesus Junior Academy of Ephesus Seventh-day Adventist Church celebrated Alumni Day on Oct. 27 during the 11 a.m. service. Dr. Carol Hammond of Beltsville, Md. was the speaker. The noted educator has penned articles for a number of educational publications. She and her husband, Dr. James Hammond, have also served as missionaries in Africa. Hammond urged the congregation to take a stronger stand against standardized testing, a method she says is not a good gauge for student learning. She believes that true education is more than just a course of study, and

Dr. Carol Hammond speaks.
