We remarked a few weeks ago that Mr. E. Spencer Blackburn who is doomed to be an "also ran" in the eighth this year, might ask Senator Bailey to divide time with him at Statesville. We had in mind Mr. Blackburn's excessive liking for joint debates—with himself alone. Now it seems that word has been sent out from Greensboro that Mr. Blackburn has a hankering to meet the Senator—who is acknowledged to be the ablest man in the United States Senate—in the arena of debate at Statesville. Really, it seems impossible to suggest an absurdity too great for the nerve of the "Congressman from the eighth" to make a grand stand play at transforming it into a reality. Meanwhile the poor petition of Mr. Richard N. Hackett for a joint debate lies torn and smothered in the wastebasket of the Republican executive committee. As the News and Observer is wont to remark, "It is to laugh."

Georgia would seem to be a good State to test the plan of a rural constabulary. The Atlanta News, which is of a very radical temperament, has begun the establishing of a Klu Klux Klan. In the past few weeks it is stated that eight girls and women in that vicinity have been attacked by negro men. This is a scheme for the protection of the country people. There ought to be no necessity in the year of our Lord 1906, for any such institution as a Klu Klux Klan. If our government is unable to devise means for the preservation of peace after all these years, it had as well go out of the business. It is amply able provided the people who are back of the government and whose agent it is will see to it that it puts forth the proper efforts. The rural constabulary is one of the ways by which lawful protection can be assured and secured to the weak.

Everyone has been acknowledging that illiteracy is a bad thing, but the Guilford County Teachers' Association is the first organization we have noticed which declares formal war on it. They have adopted resolutions "recognizing the unquestionable fact that ignorance is the foster mother of vice and corruption, both civic and social," and "pledge our time, talent and energies to the work, trusting that other associations may be influenced by this action to join with us in freeing our State from the thrall of illiteracy."

It sounds a good deal like the Declaration of old, which is as much as to say that it has the right ring strength to their elbows!

The Russian people succeed each day in demonstrating with admirable clearness the lamentable fact of their inability to govern themselves. Cruel and hard as was the official despotism, it was far better than anarchy, and anarchy is about all that the revolutionists have succeeded in bringing about. Solomon himself could not now devise a way by which they can come into the possession of a government, high-minded, unselfish, firm but just. We've even given it up ourselves.

The only redeeming statement about a dispatch from Russia announcing the killing of sixteen persons by a bomb thrown at a wedding occasion, is the one which says that the bomb thrower himself was killed. If he had been the only victim the world would have been no worse off by his departure.

Already the colleges and schools are beginning to open with "the largest enrollment in the history of the institution." Each entering class, also, it is unnecessary to state, "is the best prepared of any class that ever entered." But the best part of it all is that both statements are almost invariably true.

In the case of the congressman from the eighth, distance probably "adds enchantment to the view" of a joint debate. If Mr. Bailey were a couple of thousand miles nearer, things might assume a different aspect.

Booker Washington's statement to the colored people that "the negroes of America are committing too much crime," will not very probably be challenged, for any crime at all is too much. His appreciation of the situation, however, does him credit and strengthens his claim to respect.

Colonel Allen, the manager of the Forsyth County Fair, says that John L. Sullivan has expressed a desire to come to Winston-Salem this fall in that case it may not be necessary to sign up Christy Mathewson.

It is to be hoped that no small boy will be naughty enough to stay away from Sunday school to see the circus unaided.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption, if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At Thompson's Drug Store.

Why does the sun burn? Why does mosquito sting? Why do we feel unhappy in the Good Old Summer Time? Answer: We don't. We use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, and these little ills don't bother us. Learn to look for the name on the box to get the genuine. Sold by Owens Drug Co. and all druggists.

Miss Mollie Fletcher went to Greensboro yesterday to spend the day with friends.

Miss Lott's Primary School, Miss Flora L. Lott's primary school, 311 Spruce street (third house below Fourth street) will open Monday morning, September 3, at 9 o'clock. Miss Lott will be glad to see all her former pupils present on that date and will welcome any new ones.

Mr. H. E. Fries left yesterday for Roaring Gap to spend a few days.

Kodol relieves flatulency, sour stomach, palpitation of the heart, belching, etc. Sold by Owens Drug Company and all druggists.

Mr. R. R. Jones came in yesterday from a business trip South east.

OF course it sounds funny to you when we say we have the largest stock of ladies and gents gold rings in a small hole in the wall at prices that will not be duplicated by any jeweler in the city. Brown Jewelry Co., C. N. Brown, president.

Messrs. F. M. Roberts and Phillips Kerner were among yesterday's visitors.

Colic and Diarrhoea—A Remedy That is Prompt and Pleasant. The prompt results produced by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy together with its pleasant taste have won for it a place in many households. Mr. W. T. Taylor, a merchant of Winslow, Ala., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy myself and also with men on my place for diarrhoea and colic, and it always gives relief promptly and pleasantly." For sale by Thompson's Drug Store.

Mrs. P. S. Early, of Mocksville, spent yesterday shopping in the city.

A little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Anyone who makes it a rule to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand knows this to be a fact. For sale by Thompson's Drug Store.

Mr. Jesse Adams Jr., returned yesterday to his home in Greensboro after a visit here.

When the World Goes Wrong. Does evil still pour whole life fill? Does it betide? Your thoughts abide on suicide? You need a pill. Now for prove and facts—DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most pleasant and reliable pills known today. They never gripe. Sold by Owens' Drug Co. and all druggists.
