TWO ARE FINED ON CHARGES OF LIBEL

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 21.—C. M. Stanley, managing editor, and W. H. Jeffries, business manager, of the Age-Herald, late yesterday were fined $25 each in recorder's court on charges of criminal libel said to have been committed in an article published on August 4. The article, it was charged, attacked the veracity and integrity of Victor H. Hanson, publisher of the News.

E. W. Barrett, publisher of the Age-Herald, charged with criminal libel in connection with the same article was acquitted. His trial developed he was out of the city and knew nothing of the article until it had been in the paper. Differences between Hanson and Barrett over the alleged question of circulation of the Age-Herald and News, which it is said was brought out in various articles in the two papers, was settled August 12 thru the offices of Rotary club.

The libel charges against Stanley, Jefferson and Barrett were brought by Public Safety Commissioner Barber, who asserted the settlement of the difficulties between the persons involved did not constitute enforcement of Alabama laws.

On August 13 the two papers published mutual apologies drafted by a committee of the Rotary club. The apologies, which were identical, retracted any reflection which might have been made on the character of the two men and was signed by Stanley and Jeffries for the Age-Herald and Hanson for the News.

Stanley and Jeffries paid the fines without appeal. That record may make her the most formidable battleship in the world, not excepting the five British battleships of the Warspite and Queen Elizabeth class, which carry 15-inch guns. The target was the sunken hulk of the San Marcos, formerly the battleship Texas, which lies off Tangier Sound in the Chesapeake.

ARE MAKING FULL INVESTIGATION OF CONDITIONS HERE

Workers in Public Welfare Conferences Have a Busy Day.

MOTHERS' CONFERENCES INTERESTING FEATURE

Exhibit Is to Be Open for Inspection on Friday at Armory.

The people of Winston-Salem are becoming thoroughly aroused over the work for public health and social welfare development that is being launched on a broad scale with the gathering here this week of prominent workers in the extension department of the Southern Sociological Congress.

In every part of the city those who have come here to aid in starting the movement, which is expected to spread throughout the state, are making thorough investigations regarding conditions under which the people of Winston-Salem are living, and while they have found many commendable accomplishments, they are also finding problems that should be solved.

In addition to the various surveys that are being made of conditions as they exist, conferences are being held throughout the city with mothers, public officials, manufacturers and private citizens that promise to result in great good to the community. Conferences Being Held.

Especially interesting, and of vital importance to the life of the community, are the conferences being held in the homes of the city under the auspices of the mothers' meetings committee, of which Mrs. H. L. Higgins is chairman.

Four meetings were held today two this morning and two this afternoon, all in different parts of the city. Attending these meetings and talking to the mothers are Mrs. Elizabeth B. Troutman, of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Florence E. Beasley, a public health nurse, working under the direction of the American Red Cross Society, with headquarters at Washington, D. C. They are being heard by mothers in gratifying numbers, and this afternoon Mrs. Troutman expressed her sincere appreciation of the interest everywhere manifested.

Home The Foundation.

Mrs. Troutman emphasizes the home as the foundation upon which the community life must be built. In her talks she also urges the mothers to study to make their homes a refuge to the members of their families, promoting happiness and relief from the trying burdens of business and the outer world by caring for the health and comfort of the inmates.

"It is in the home that the health and nerve of the people is to be conserved," declares Mrs. Troutman. The elimination of heavy care from the home life is essential to the welfare of the community, says Mrs. Troutman, and in her talks she suggests ways and means of eliminating it.

Care of Infants.

Care of infants is discussed in detail, following the influences that shape the character and physique of the man from the prenatal stage until he becomes an adult. The importance of the mother's instructing the child, both boys and girls, in the important matters of health, is emphasized, for in this way the health of the children is to be safeguarded, and the instruction given by the mother before maturity will serve to protect them in matters of health as they begin to leave the paternal roof to battle in life for themselves.

Mrs. Troutman was the wife of the late Dr. Robert Battery, a physician of international reputation, who died

TEUTONIC ADVANCE IN ROUMANIA IS CHECKED BY ENTENTE FORCES

ARE CONSIDERING CHINESE RELIEF

Red Cross Officials Are Going Over Dispatches on Flood Destitution.

Washington, Sept. 21.—American Red Cross officials today gave serious consideration to the State Department dispatch that nearly 1,000,000 Chinese are homeless and thousands destitute as the result of the flooding of 10,000 square miles by the overflow of the Hwai river in Anhui province, China, two months ago.

The American consul at Nanking reported that autumn crops were destroyed and calls for relief were coming in from many districts. The Red Cross is said to be considering issuing an appeal for funds with which to send supplies to flood sufferers. The flooded interior is about the same as that of 1909 with a total loss of many lives.

A projected $300,000 Chinese government loan for reclamation work was made impossible by the European war.

MILLION CHINESE MADE HOMELESS BY FLOODS

Washington, Sept. 21.—Nearly a million people have been made homeless by one of the greatest floods on record in that section of China where the American Red Cross already has spent $600,000 for flood protection and where the $50,000,000 loan for reclamation work which was postponed by the war, was to have been spent. Reports to the state department from the American consul at Nan King, said the Hwai river had inundated an area of about 7,000 square miles in Anhui province. Appeals for aid have been sent out for the homeless, who virtually are dependent on charity, as all the autumn crops were destroyed.

The flood occurred in a very flat, alluvial section where the north-south passage of the Grand canal had dammed up a large lake and allowed the Hwai river too little space to carry off the excess of water. Today's delayed advices described conditions several weeks ago, but officials believe there probably has been little improvement. In the case of previous floods in that district the waters have been held for long periods by the soil.

HUGHES TALKS OF AMERICAN RIGHTS

In Address at Lafayette, Ind., He Discusses Foreign Matters.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 21.—Charles E. Hughes, in a speech here today, outlined his policies and declared that he wanted to see in the United States "a great rising force of patriotic sentiment" which would furnish the motive power for progress.

"I want American rights protected through the world," Mr. Hughes said. "I desire to see a great rising force of patriotic sentiment which will give us the motive power of progress. We cannot have progress unless we have that loyalty and love for our country which will enable us to get up steam and supply energy, and therefore that we may have that I say that American rights must be protected through the world with respect to lives, property and commerce, with respect to all nations of the world."

The protective tariff, he said, would have to be applied to enable America to meet European competition after the war. "We are good-natured in this campaign. You may not separate me from any American citizen, whether Republican or Democrat. I make no partisan appeal in a bitter way."

LATTER HOLDING STRONG POSITION IN THAT SECTION

Reports Regarding the Fighting in Northwestern Macedonia Conflicting.

COMPARATIVE QUIET ALONG THE SOMME

Activity Is Resumed by the French Forces in the Verdun Section.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's advance thru the Roumanian province of Dobrudja, where the combined German, Bulgarian and British forces have been striving for the railroad from Constanza to interior Roumania, has been checked, according to reports from both sides.

Bucharest yesterday announced a check for the Mackensen armies on a line of defense taken by the Roumanians and Russians who have been heavily reinforced. Today a statement by the Sofia war office under yesterday's date conceded the stubbornness of their resistance and reports the entente armies still holding their strongly fortified positions.

Reports regarding the fighting in the Florina district in northwestern Macedonia are conflicting. Accounts from some sources assert the Bulgarians are falling back on Serbian territory and are preparing for the defense of Monastir. Sofia, however, announces the turn in fighting favorable to the Bulgarian forces, declaring that counter attacks resulted in the repulse of the Serbians and allied troops with heavy losses.

Further east, the mountainous country along the Serbian border, the engagement is heavy all along the line. On the far western end of the line the allies are making progress but apparently are attempting no serious forward thrust in either the Vardar or Struma regions.

The defeat of the Germans in their counter attacks along the Somme, reported last night by Paris is followed by comparative quiet, judging from today's report, which says the Germans did not renew their attacks during the night. The bad weather reported in the last few days is continuing and apparently the entente forces are awaiting its cessation.

After a lapse of some days activity has been resumed by the French in the Verdun region, attacks on the east flank on the Meuse giving their two tranches south of Thiamont wood and some ground east of Fort Vaux and in the Chapitte wood.

On the eastern front Petrograd announces an offensive movement by the Germans towards Stockholms Wolvina, southeast of Kovel, but declares all attacks on the Russian line were repulsed and that several hundred Germans were captured during the fighting near Korytnia in Sivilinsky.

In Coperta, Russians report an advance near the Panda mountains. No further progress for the Roumanians in the invasion of South Transylvania is reported.

Bucharest announces Roumanian troops, which were forced back to the border, have halted south of Petronsky and are fortifying their positions. In further reports today on the Trujia battle, Bucharest declares the Russians made gains.

In the Balkans the situation remains an uncertain quantity. A new factor in the internal situation appears today in a report that a revolution had broken out in Crete, where a provisional government has been set up.
