LUXBURG RETURNS ON DUTCH VESSEL

Ship Stopped By British War Vessel and Some Official Documents Seized

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Nov. 13.—The Argentine government has sent a torpedo boat destroyer to the Island of Martin Garcia to bring to this port Count von Luxburg, the expelled German minister to Argentina, so that he may embark on a Dutch steamship for Amsterdam. The ex-minister will be kept under strict surveillance by the Buenos Ayres authorities until he leaves the country.

Count Karl von Luxburg after being handed his passports was taken to the Martin Garcia detention camp on October 12.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 13.—The Dutch steamship on which Count von Luxburg, the former German minister to Argentina, has engaged passage back to Europe, was stopped on her voyage between Rio Janeiro and Montevideo by a British warship. British sailors went on board the vessel and after examining the documents seized some of them.

The Uruguayan government has forbidden the passengers on the Dutch vessel to disembark at Montevideo. Among those on board are the Cuban minister to Uruguay, These diplomats have protested against the government's action.

Ask Conference With Wilson. Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The building trades of the American Federation of Labor today sent a message to President Wilson asking for a two hours conference to discuss the situation at Quincy, Mass., where shipyard building is being held up by a strike involving about 1,800 men. Secretary Baker is said to have sent a telegram to the heads of the building trades department warning them that unless the trouble was adjusted at once the government would be compelled to step in.

GERMANY WAGING POLITICAL DRIVE AGAINST ALLIES

Seeks To Break Down Foe's Morale Before Initiating An Offensive

FRENCH AND BRITISH MAKE NOTABLE GAINS

Russian Situation May Give Rise To Conditions U. S. Must Be Prepared To Meet

Washington, Nov. 13.—The effect of Germany's "political offensives" against Russia and Italy is commented upon in Secretary Baker's military review bulletin issued today. "The close inter-relation of events upon all fronts cannot too frequently be emphasized," says the review. "The political situation in Russia made it possible for the enemy to detach important contingents in the east which were speedily transported to the Italian front."

"It is not unlikely that before initiating their powerful drive against the Italian forces the enemy made pains-taking and systematic attempts to undermine the morale of the Italian troops with a view to breaking down their resisting power."

"This carefully planned political offensive reveals clearly the present methods of Germany."

Hun Efforts in East

"Surveying the broader aspects of the European situation today we find that the enemy in the east is confining his efforts to political propaganda. Along the Italian sector he has recently made desperate efforts to secure a decision by means of a political-military drive. In the west, while attempting to sap the fighting strength of the belligerent peoples, the enemy now has been compelled to act on the defensive and is being slowly but surely driven back. It should be borne in mind, however, that the further disintegration of the Russian forces will mean that the Germans will be able to thin out their line along this front which will thus automatically contribute to the stiffening of their resistance in the west, as well as render available added contingents."

APPEALS TO NATION TO AID DRAFT REGISTRANTS

Washington, Nov. 13.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today appealed to the country to assist all draft registrants who find difficulty in answering the questions contained in the questionnaire sent to them by the local draft boards.

Pending the result of this meeting orders have been sent to the presidents of locals to put their men back to work.

ITALIANS READY TO MEET FOE

Strongly Entrenched Behind the Piave River, Italians Are Waiting Next Move

VENICE IN HUN'S RANGE

Measures to Protect Art Treasures of City Against Enemy Fire Being Taken

Berlin, Nov. 13.—Fonzaso and Mont Longara have been captured by the Austro-German troops invading northern Italy, says the official statement issued by the German war office.

The text of the statement reads: "Italian front: In the Sette Comuni we wrested Mont Longara from the Italians. "Troops advancing in the mountains between the Sugana and the Cison valleys took by storm the Leone work on the Casani di Campo and the armored fort on the Casani de Lenza Fonzaso which is in our possession. "On the Lower Piave there has been an increase in the artillery fire."

Italian Hold Piave Line

Italian Headquarters in North, Monday, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—A heavy and continuous bombardment is proceeding along the Lower Piave river marking the opening stages of extensive operations on this new line. Whether a general engagement is imminent depends largely upon the enemy, as the Italians are now entrenched behind the river and fighting defensive tactics with the stream and their re-established forces checking the further extension of the Austro-German offensive.

The engagements thus far have consisted of episodes at detached points, although the shelling extends almost unintermittently for forty miles along the Lower Piave. The crash of some enemy heavy guns is now heard, showing that the Austrians and Germans have been able to bring up a few of these monster pieces.

No longer is a secret that the Piave is a line of defense to which the supreme command has been bending its energies steadily for the past ten days. The upper end of this line joins the Trentino front making virtually one unified front sweeping in a huge arc from Lake Garda to the mouth of the Piave near Venice.

Precautionary measures to protect Venice continue lest the enemy whose long range guns are not far off should attempt to bombard the famous art center. The palace of the Doges has been covered with sandbags and the delicate arched facade has been shored with heavy timbers. The Campanile has sandbags for forty feet around the base. The Grand Canal is filled with gondolas being used for transportation purposes.

Allusion To Allies' "Incredible Blunder" Rouses London Press

Lloyd George's Paris Speech Under Fire—Premier Accused of Seeking Direction of Allied Campaign—Retirement Of Haig and Robertson Rumored

London, Nov. 13.—The speech by Premier Lloyd George in Paris yesterday has stirred the local press. His allusion to the Allies' "incredible blunder" are printed under sensational headlines. Comment is mixed with criticism of the new Allied war council as announced here yesterday by Chancellor Bonar Law. Several newspapers endorse the speech in the main or are non-committal. Others criticize adversely the new military plan and accuse the premier of wishing to take over strategic direction of the Allied campaign.

Rumors in the Sunday newspapers of the impending retirement of Field Marshal Haig and General Robertson, chief of the general staff, caused some commentators to insinuate that the reports were sent afloat intentionally by semi-official organs.

The Morning Post connects the new plan with the rumors and says both nation and army are alarmed over it. It adds: "A political council advised by a military committee is to direct the strategy of the Allied army. The blood of the nation will run cold at the idea. No more fatal and no more disastrous arrangement can be conceived."

Premier Lloyd George appears to think that this complicated project will achieve strategic unity. It seems to us it will achieve strategic paralysis."

ALBANIANS IN U. S. PRESSED TO UNITE

Former President Issues Proclamation to Albanian National Council Here

Paris, Nov. 13.—Ismail Kemal Bey, former president of the provisional government of Albania, has issued a proclamation to the Albanian national party recently formed in America. "The ardor of my own patriotism," he says, "is in no need of a stimulant. Nevertheless the faith reposed in me by the Albanian national party in America is gratifying."

After calling on Albanians in America to unite the proclamation concludes: "Thus may we at the termination of the great world war place before the supreme council of the powers unanswerable arguments in support of our rights. Thus may we give this council an opportunity of repairing the injustice committed in the amputation of Albania. Thus will the restitution of our territorial integrity and our national independence offer a solid guarantee of equilibrium and peace for the people in the Balkans."

The proclamation of Ismail Kemal Bey was in response to a formal request from the Albanian national party which numbers 70,000 and is regarded as representative of Albanians throughout the world, that he lead the nation in defense of its political and territorial independence.

TO PRESENT REAL WAR CONDITIONS

Capt. Allen and Rev. A. W. Beavans To Speak at Courthouse Tonight

Capt. J. Stewart Allen, of the famous "Princess Pat's Own Regiment," who is to speak tonight with Rev. A. W. Beavans, of New York, at the courthouse, arrived here this afternoon. He was met at the train by Mr. James G. Hanes, Dr. C. E. Wooding and Prof. R. H. Latham, and following a brief rest the visitors, accompanied by the Y. M. C. A. bugler, were driven over the city.

The meeting at the courthouse tonight is expected to eclipse any gathering held since the declaration of war. Many speakers have visited Winston-Salem and spoken on subjects stressing the situation of America and its people as a result of the international complications, but this evening affords the first chance of first hand information, both from the workers in the cantonments and the soldiers at the front.

Personal Experiences

Captain Allen has personally experienced the hardships of the boys now in France. He has been "over the top," wounded three times, twice in the hospital. He is one of the only remaining seven of the original members of his regiment, the quota of which has been twice refilled. Each time the bravery of its men has led it into places of such danger as to nearly annihilate it.

ALL ENEMY ALIENS TO REGISTER

Step is Planned By Government As Means of Ridding U. S. of Spies and Sabotage

TO BE CLOSELY WATCHED

Each Alien Registered May Be Compelled to Report Periodically to the Government

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson is expected to issue a proclamation soon requiring every alien within the United States to register as a step towards ridding the country of spies and sabotage.

The government has virtually decided that this procedure is the only way open for sifting from the millions of Germans in the United States the few who are believed to be causing fires in munition plants and warehouses, and promoting propaganda injurious to America's prosecution of the war.

Some officials recommend that every alien enemy so registered be required to report periodically to the government in order that watch might be maintained over their movements. Under present conditions Germans may move from one locality to another in the United States without hindrance, providing they do not enter the barred zones about munition plants and government establishments.

Only Germans could be compelled to register by presidential proclamation since Austrians, Turks and Bulgarians are not classed as enemies under the espionage law. Congress might extend the restrictions to those nationalities, however.

DESCRIPTION OF NEW GUARD ORGANIZATION

Washington, Nov. 13.—Detailed description of the organization of 26th, 28th, 30th, 36th and 37th national guard divisions showing just what contingents of old national guard had been effected to make up the new European standard regiments and divisions were published today by the war department. The statement shows specifically what disposition has been made by division commanders by every national guard unit assigned to them and regrouped under the consolidation. In no case will surplus officers be demoted or discharged but will be employed in the formation of corps troops.

Where the regular enlisted strength of two consolidated guard regiments is not sufficient to bring the new regiment up to its full quota of 3,600 men surplus men from other organizations or men from the national army camps from the same state have been used to fill up the gaps.

U. S. OFFICER ON BOCHE RAID

Lieutenant Knocked Down Three Times By Shell Fire in Raid Describes Experiences

With the American Army in France, Nov. 13.—The lieutenant who was knocked down three times by shell fire during the recent German raid in the American sector today described his experience to The Associated Press. His face is covered with scratches from flying gravel. "When the firing began I started to the trenches," he said. "The first thing I knew there was a crash. I seemed to see sparks shooting from all over my body. I started to crawl and it seemed ages before my face hit the mud at the bottom of the trench. Something happened again a minute later. Then I picked myself up and started in another direction. A corporal and two men joined me. A shell burst a few feet from us on the parapet. I lost consciousness. "When I came to grenades were flying in all directions. I had lost my shrapnel helmet but found one by the
