

FINES FOR W. AND A. D. W.

Hartman Pays $200 For Pistol and $50 For Assault; Big Court

Costs in the cases tried during the session of the municipal court totaled approximately $1,000. Three heavy fines were imposed in the cases of W. and A. D. W. In addition to the cases tried a preliminary hearing was given to the case of a woman being an eleven-year-old girl. The negro was committed to superior court.

Hartman was one of the most talked about cases presented in the court. All of the cases were heard on the same day. Hartman was charged with carrying a deadly weapon, also the case of Jerry Holt, charging a woman with assault. Hartman was fined $200 for the pistol case and $50 for the assault case. Holt was fined $100 for the assault case.

Holt was in the witness stand and several other men, who were out in the street of the city gambling and disputing arose between him and Holt. Holt was in the witness stand and several other men, who were out in the street of the city gambling and disputing arose between him and Holt.

Holt said he was in the car and that one of the shots from the pistol broke the windshield. He also said that there were about 25 men at the time the gambling was going on. He admitted that he struck Hartman, but denied that he struck him after he was down.

FINE INTEREST IN THE KIWANIS-REALTOR GAME.

Committees Met Last Night, General Enthusiasm Manifested; Big Attendance

A meeting of committees having in charge arrangements for the Kiwanis-Realtor baseball game held a meeting last night to discuss progress and fine progress was shown. The organization of both teams is about complete, the star players having been picked from about fifty members by the captain of each club team. Mr. E. E. James is managing the Realtor organization while the famous fan, John Brown, is piloting the Kiwanis.

The game is played for the benefit of the Free Milk and Ice Fund, the idea having presented itself to members of the Real Estate Dealers' Association with the result that a challenge was issued to the Kiwanis. Kiwanis John Brown never takes a dare and never searches for an excuse, but true to the spirit of his organization he was immediately in action with every member backing him. "Some contest" is promised.

Tickets to the game will be distributed to Kiwanian members for sale today or tomorrow and allotments will be given each realtor at their meeting tomorrow night at the Y. W. C. A. They have been placed on sale also at all drug stores and a number of young ladies have volunteered their services in promoting the sale.

A record attendance is assured, and therefore a big boost will be given the Free Milk and Ice Fund to be used in feeding suffering children of the city.

$150 FINE IMPOSED ON MRS. E. M. DAVIS

Charged With Selling Whiskey Denies It; Visitors Came To See Her

Mrs. E. M. Davis, charged with retailing whiskey, was fined $150 and the costs in the municipal court this morning. A six months' suspended jail sentence was also placed over the woman, capias to issue if she is caught violating the whiskey laws for a period of two years.

A white woman, a neighbor of Mrs. Davis, testified that she bought whiskey from her on several occasions. Occasionally she bought a 50-cent drink, or dollar's worth and sometimes three dollars worth.

The witness also stated that she had reason to believe that whiskey was being sold to other persons. She also stated that a man, whose name she gave, bought her some whiskey on one occasion.

Mrs. Davis, who was convicted of the same offense several weeks ago, denied that she had sold the witness any whiskey, but admitted that she had frequent callers, among them, who came not to buy whiskey, but to admire her beauty. She also informed the solicitor that she was in the market for a husband and that some of the callers were courting her. She stated that she hasn't sold any whiskey since her former trial.

The defendant also stated that the witness, who testified she had bought whiskey, was mad because her chickens had gotten out on her lot.

Little Sentinels

Out Again.—The many friends of W. C. Blanton, manager of the Hawkins-Blanton Co., were delighted to see him down town yesterday afternoon for the first time since his recent critical illness with appendicitis. He hopes in a few days to be able to resume his duties at the store.

To Assist.—Messrs. Rawls, Wilde, Voels and Hawley, of the Gilmer store, left this morning for High Point where they will assist Friday night in the reopening of the newly enlarged Gilmer store and the opening of the new bakery there. Greatly increased floor space and added departments will make the High Point store the leading mercantile establishment of the Furniture City.

Annual Vacation.—J. W. Crews, who conducts a truck farm and owns an orange orchard at Wanchula, Fla., is spending his annual vacation in this section. He is a native of Forsyth and for several years was engaged in the tobacco manufacturing business with his brother, T. A. Crews, at Walkertown and Kernersville. He is well pleased with his Florida home and declares that the climate in any part of the state is just as delightful as any in North Carolina.

Circus Coming.—Winston-Salem's first circus of the year is announced for Friday, August 6, when the Rhoda Royal three-ring outfit will exhibit inside the race track at the Pleasanton park. The advance ticket amount and the necessary contracts and will be followed in a few days by the advertising crew. A big menagerie is carried with this circus which is declared by the advance representative to be a genuine circus treat this season.

"The Pilot" Suggested.—Another name is on the list for the new hotel. "The Pilot," thereby calling attention to an ancient and famous landmark at this section of the country. The custom of naming hotels and other public buildings after notable geographical features of the locality which they represent is very generally and very properly followed. This name will do well in advertising the unique and beautiful mountain of North Carolina, but suggests the same idea for the hotel that the Indian of the had for the mountain, a pilot pointed the path to all wayfarers.

CITY PLANNING FOR WILMINGTON PROPOSED

Wilmington, July 22.—Future growth and expansion of Wilmington is to be cared for by a commission invested with authority to act in matters regarding city planning, if the ideas of the city planning committee are carried out and receive the support of the city.

Dewey Blankinship, a young white man, who was brought into court on a capias for failing to support his wife, thru his attorney, stated that he was ready to go to his father's home in Virginia and that his wife had agreed to go with him. Hereafter, he said, she refused to leave her parents' home in this city.

TRINITY SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS A GREAT PICNIC

About 400 Sunday school scholars and their friends of Trinity Methodist Sunday school visited Friedberg yesterday afternoon. The occasion was pronounced the best entertainment ever attempted at Trinity.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the trucks left the church lawn with the noisy merry makers. Supt. T. E. Johnson's plans for transportation and arrangements were carefully made, and the schedule was promptly and successfully carried out.

At Friedberg the afternoon was spent in games and a variety of amusements, carefully planned and unusually appealing. The plans for contests and prizes detailed by Miss Warrschke provoked much mirth. Peanut savanilles followed the gathering at odd intervals. Mr. Zeno Knouse brought down twenty large watermelons and presented them to the school. These were enjoyed hugely by all present. Mr. R. H. Hine contributed three bunches of bananas and these were distributed to all comers. The generosity of these gentlemen added largely to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Bishop Rothhaier was a guest during the afternoon, and asked blessing at the supper table. There were 130 baskets of food upon the table and the large crowd gave it careful attention.

The prizes awarded during the afternoon were as follows:

Best climber, Arline Knouse; best runner, Roy Peace; best high jumper, Bynum Ernest; best long jumper, Athol Peace; best whistler, Fannie Miller; best hopper, Margaret Fisher; best rope jumper, Alberta Fisher; best jack racker, E. E. Turner, with Berlie L. Hine a close second; best rock thrower (lady), Mrs. Fred Mock; best yeller (lady), Mrs. L. M. Craver; best horseshoe thrower, Coy Yokeley; best summer setter, Paul Hoge; best headstander, Arline Knouse.

Among the complimentary prizes awarded were: Youngest baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Spangh, age six weeks; oldest Sunday school scholar, E. E. Knouse; bride's medal, Mrs. D. L. Rights; most distinguished visitor, Bishop Edward Rothhaier; best lovefeaster, James P. Crouch; largest family, Mrs. O.

PROMINENT HENRY CO. FARMER IS ARRESTED

G. F. Barker, Charged With Making "Moonshine" Whiskey, Pleads Guilty

Danville, July 22.—What the revenue officers consider the most important seizure that has been made in this section for some time was made yesterday near Boxwood, Henry county, when G. F. Barker, a prominent farmer, was arrested on a charge of illicit distilling. Barker was brought here and arraigned before Meade R. Flynn, United States Commissioner, pleaded guilty and was released under $1,000 bail for his appearance at the September term of the federal court. Barker will also appear at Martinsville today and be bonded on an additional charge of having violated the state law.

"The capture of Barker" said Deputy Marshal Crenshaw last night, "is one of the most important that has been made. In our opinion, Barker has been the head of the band of moonshiners who have supplied Danville and this section for the past year. He is known in his territory as the head of the moonshine ring. He is a dangerous man and we have been after him for a long time."

Officer Crenshaw also stated to a reporter for this paper that since the killing of Homes Thomas last week by officers, the men engaged in the
