London, Nov. 3—One effect of the action of the Turkish Na-tionalist government in Angora in retiring the sultan will be a revival of the effort of Emir of Afghanistan to claim to caliph-ite, it is believed in diplomatic circles here, as the Emir is now the most powerful crowned Moslem ruler.

In any case the British Indian authorities feel that the action taken at Angora will undermine the Moslem agitation in India against the British, which has been based on alleged British mistreatment of the sultan.
