MISSOURI RACE IS HOT

Vote Being Polled In New York Where Governorial Race Is Attracting Most Attention; Rain On The Pacific Coast States May Have Effect On Results

New York, Nov. 7.—The spirited campaigns waged by Gov. Miller and former Governor Smith for the executive chair at Albany and by Senator Calder and Health Commissioner Copeland for the seat in the upper house at Washington, today was the absorbing interest before New York state voters.

In New York City the vote got an even earlier start, particularly in the Bronx where fully 25 per cent of the vote was reported to have been polled in the first three hours.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Elections over the country today had their reflex in Washington. In every government department there were many vacant places, several members of the cabinet and many under officials and employes having gone home to vote. The exodus this year, however, was not as great as usual as an increasing number voted by mail.

Having registered his choices in his name, President Harding was at his office at the usual hour with full day ahead. He had all the latest forecasts of his party lieutenants and as the day wore along received scattering reports from the actual balloting. Tonight he was to receive the returns in his study at the executive offices over an Associated Press wire and relayed to him over the telephone by Secretary Christian. Three members of the President's cabinet remained in Washington. Three Secretaries Hughes, Clegg and Wallace voted by mail. Attorney General Daugherty, also voted by mail, but spent the day in Baltimore with Mrs. Daugherty, who is recuperating there after an operation.

Three members of the cabinet will vote. Secretary Mellon, it was stated, was prevented from registering by pressure of public business; Secretary Hoover, now on his way West to a meeting of the Colorado River Commission at Santa Fe, N. M., is unable to reach his home in California in time for the election, while Secretary Davis is still in the far West, where he has been campaigning.

While there was no accurate information as to just how many votes were cast today by residents of various Washington, leaders of the two

AM THOMPSON, OLD BALL PLAYER, IS DEAD

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 7.—Sam Thompson, a member of the old Detroit National League baseball team, and one of the best known baseball players of earlier days, died at his home here today. He had suffered a heart attack this morning, while working as an election inspector and was stricken a second time after being removed to his home.

Thompson, who was 62 years old, was an outfielder with the Detroit team from 1887 when the team won the world's championship. In recent years he had been crick in the court of United States District Judge Arthur J. Tuttle.

AT NOON NOT ONE HALF CITY VOTE HAD BEEN CAST

This Afternoon, However, The Workers Were Busy and Vote May Reach Normal

DEMOCRATS CONFIDENT

Only Question Is The Majority That Will Be Given The Entire Ticket; Estimates Run As High As 1000; Rain This Morning Kept Many Away From The Polls

At noon today approximately one third of the registered vote of Winston-Salem and Forsyth county had been polled, according to information from the different wards and precincts. Heavier voting is going on this afternoon and the prevailing opinion is that both parties will poll about their full strength.

A Big Democratic Victory Is Predicted. The majority will probably be greater than last year. With few exceptions, straight tickets are being voted by men and women of both parties. In a few instances, it is stated, some "trading" is going on but it is not expected that this condition will effect the majority to any great extent.

The rain this morning is given as the cause for the slow voting in the early hours, but the clearing up of the weather about noon resulted in much heavier voting.

N. L. Cranford, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, estimated the majority for his party at about 1,000. There will probably be some variance in the vote cast. Just who is leading the Democratic ticket in the county cannot be stated at this writing.

The heaviest voting of the day is expected to come late this afternoon, due to the fact that so many of the voters remained at home during the morning because of the rain. The women were voting strong about noon.

The vote up to noon today was as follows: West First Ward, High School, 681 voted out of approximately 1,900 registered. East First Ward, courthouse, 118 voted, 350 registered. East Salem Ward, Central school, 123 voted, 373 registered. West Salem Ward, Fire Department No. 2, 351 voted; 867 registered.

CONGRESS TO BE CALLED SPECIAL SESSION NOV. 20

White House Announcement Says President Harding Has Determined Upon This

WANTS CLEAR CALENDAR

He Believes Congress Can Get Thru By End Of March If Called In November, But There Are Some Leaders Who Say This Task Is An Impossible One

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Harding expects to issue a call Thursday or Friday for a special session of Congress to convene Nov. 20, it was announced today at the White House.

It was said altho the President was not irrevocably committed to the proposal for the special session, which has generally been expected by congressional leaders, only an eleventh hour change of mind would prevent the plan, which has received the general endorsement of Senate and House leaders. It is said the President believes the plan will advance the legislative program and enable congress to clean up its slate by the end of next March.

Political leaders in Congress believe such a necessary would be necessary in order to clear the slate by next March, but in some instances even expressed the opinion that it was virtually an impossible task owing to the heavy calendar.

The house appropriations committee has been called to meet Friday to begin its work.

GENERAL ALARM IS OUT FOR MRS. HAMMERSTEIN

Widow of Famous Impresario Missing Since Early Yesterday Morning

MAY HAVE KILLED SELF

Friend Quotes Her As Having Said Recently "Do Not Be Surprised If I Am Found Dead Somewhere On Oscar's Grave;" She Is Now Penniless, Object of Charity

New York, Nov. 7.—A general alarm for Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, widow of the impresario, has been sent out by the police at the request of Mrs. Julia Farley, a friend, who has befriended Mrs. Hammerstein since she was found a few weeks ago penniless and ill on a bench in Central Park. Mrs. Farley told police that Mrs. Hammerstein, accompanied by her collier "Teddy," left their home yesterday morning. A note left by Mrs. Hammerstein for a student at Harvard, who had planned a benefit play for her next Monday night, read:

"I wish to thank you so much for all you have done for me. I am very tired and weak. I can stand it no longer."

According to Mrs. Farley, Mrs. Hammerstein was despondent and said to her a short time ago: "Do not be surprised if I am found dead some time on Oscar's grave."

"HELD THE TAIL OF LOVE TRIANGLE" IN CHURCH TRAGEDY

First Posed Photo of James Mills. "He held the tail of a triangle and didn't know what to do with it," is the way an analyst sums up his delineation of the character of James Mills, widower of the choir leader, whose murdered body was found beside the grave of Rev. Edward W. Hall of New Brunswick, N. J. Mills listened to stories of his wife's love for Hall, but could find no way to handle the affair.

HENRY STEVENS MAY FORCE THE OFFICERS TO ACT

Mrs. Hall's Brother Tired Of So Much Talk About Him In Connection With Murder

MAY LEAVE THE TOWN

In That Event If The Authorities Really Want Him They Would Have To Arrest Him And Then Start Proceedings At Once

Lavallete, N. J., Nov. 7.—Henry Stevens, brother of Mrs. Francis Hall, widow of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, who was murdered with Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills near New Brunswick on Sept. 14 last, in discontent at the delay in the official inquiry and contemplates bringing matters to an issue by leaving town, Mrs. Ethel Stevens, his wife, said last night in an interview.

"We think that it is about time that we pull up our belongings and go away from here just to force an issue with the authorities who are investigating the murder," she said. Stevens has told the investigators that he was fishing near Lavallete on the night of the murder and has furnished the names of several persons, who, he says, saw him, Mrs. Jane Gibson, farmer, has told the authorities that a man committed the murders and that he was accompanied by a woman in a gray coat.

Mrs. Stevens received the newspaper men with cordiality and served them with sandwiches. She explained that her husband was across the bay at a gunning point, but he could be reached by telephone.

"We were ready to go on a world tour when this thing happened," said Mrs. Stevens, "but we gave it up because we thought it would be better for Henry to stay here and face whatever was in store for him. Now, however, we think the authorities have had time enough to act and we think that the best way to force them to do something will be for us to leave town and start our trip."

The question has often been asked why didn't Henry give his sister away in marriage. When Mr. and Mrs. Hall were married Henry was in New England. There was nothing in common between the two men and for that reason he made no special effort to attend the wedding. It is true that he refused to call on the Halls since the wedding. There is an entry in his diary for June 23 which says: "Edward and Frances are here," which means they spent the afternoon here.

"I believe the solution of this crime has not even been hinted at yet."

"We are ready to help the authorities in any way. We thought they might want Henry in a hurry some time, so we arranged a complicated set of signals while he is

CRISIS IN NEAR EAST IS CAUSING GENERAL ALARM

Allies May Declare Martial Law In Constantinople If Turks Continue Their Course

ALLIES WILL NOT YIELD

This Is The Opinion Expressed In London And Paris, Where Situation Is Regarded As Critical; High Commissioners Ask For Instruction In The Matter

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press)—Constantinople is in a fever of apprehension over the Kemalists demands for the evacuation of the allied military forces, the extension of the national regime here, the imposition of confiscatory customs duties, the condemnation of the sultan and the indiscriminate arrest of Constantinople Turks.

The allied high commanders have given Rafeta Pasha, the new nationalist governor here, 48 hours in which to release Ali Kemal Bey, editor of the nationalist newspaper Sabah, who was arrested and condemned to death. An unconfirmed report had it that Ali Kemal had already been executed.

The arrest and condemnation of Ali Kemal gave the signal for all the remaining prominent Turks to seek cover.

All day yesterday the allied high commissioners held conferences over the wholesale threatened invasion of the capital by the Kemalists and the menace of an anti-christian uprising. The British aimed particularly about the city meanwhile exerted the greatest vigilance in protecting life and property.

The allied food control commission has arranged to meet the food famine, which seems imminent, the shortage being brought about by the exorbitant customs duties, the hoarding of foodstuffs and the closing of the shops. Some of the city grocers had hidden away commodities which have risen 100 per cent in 24 hours.

The existing misery and unemployment, the wholesale dismissal of government workers and the fall of the Turkish pound to forty cents have aggravated the situation.

Meanwhile the allied commanders have asked their governments for instructions with a view to the declaration of martial law. They held an extraordinary council last night at which the recent series of threatening demands by the nationalists was discussed at length and the adoption of a firmer attitude was decided upon in resistance to the Kemalists' arbitrary course, the curbing of their activities in Constantinople, Eastern Thrace and other areas and counteracting the increasing infractions of the Mudania armistice convention.

It is understood the commanders even consider the expulsion of Rafeta Pasha from the capital in the event of a continuance of the armistice violations.

The commanders held a conference with Hamid Bey, the nationalist envoy, and informed him that the allied governments, while not desiring to interfere with the Turkish internal affairs, must maintain the system of control which the allies regarded as necessary during the occupation of Constantinople.

Meanwhile, the city which had been contending to clear up the various disputes became prey to worse fears than those which prevailed before the Mudania peace was signed, in belief that the Kemalists would insist upon all their demands.

It was remarked, however, for the first time in many weeks there had been complete unanimity reached among the British, French and Italians in their action toward the nationalists and the belief was expressed in some quarters that the Kemalists would retreat from their arbitrary stand in the face of allied unity.

SUTHERLAND REFUSES PLEA OF COMMUNISTS

Washington, Nov. 7.—Associate Justice Sutherland today denied the application of William B. Lloyd and 17 other members of the Communist Labor party for a writ of error, which would bring to the supreme court for review their conviction in Illinois on the charge of conspiracy to violate the state addition law of 1919.

William S. Forest, counsel for the convicted men, refused to state whether he would ask the full court after it reassembles on November 13 for permission to appeal the cases, and declined to discuss his future plans.

95 BEEN ACCOUNTED FOR; THERE MAY BE 17 OTHERS IN THE MINE

Lloyd George Rings Clear on Allies' Duty In Near East Today

Newcastle, Nov. 7.—Mr. Lloyd George made some sharp references to the crisis which has arisen in the Near East since his fall from the premiership in the political address which he delivered before a large assembly here today.

"The Near East is beginning to show symptoms of inflammation," he said. "Whatever happens our flag must not be let down."

Later on in his speech he said "I have got rid of the Turk, but he has looked at the list of new ministers and come to the conclusion that this is the time for another try."

"If the government leader sends by the flag, my friends, I will be wholeheartedly behind him," he said. "I entreat the government to show the Turk that we will not be trifled with and that the Turk must stand by the document signed a few weeks ago at Mudania."

EXPECT TO REACH ALL PARTS OF MINE IN NEXT FEW HOURS

Grim Task of Removing Dead Bodies Began At 2 O'clock This Morning

MINE HAS BEEN FLOODED

Until Pumps Get To Work It Will Be Impossible To Locate Some of The Missing; Frantic Wives And Children Remained At Mine's Mouth Until 2 This Morning

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press)—Thirteen more bodies have been taken from the mine of the Reilly Company here at 2 p. m. today, bringing the total dead recovered to 63. All are in the temporary morgue.

Thirteen more bodies were in the mine, rescuers said, and 32 were in the hospitals.

Mine rescuers expect said they had explored all but two of the headings and did not expect to find any more bodies.

Coroner Schwab began arrangements today for the holding of the inquest over the victims of the mine explosion. A curfew of curfew arrived in Spangler this morning.

Spangler, Pa., Nov. 7.—(By The Associated Press)—The bodies of fifty miners who lost their lives in the Reilly Mine explosion here yesterday lay in the temporary morgue at 9 o'clock this morning. Thirteen more were in sight in the mine, rescuers said.

Leaders of the rescuers summarized the situation at that hour as follows: Men in the mine when the explosion occurred not more than 112. Bodies recovered 59. Bodies located in mine 13. Injured in hospitals 33. Total accounted for 105.

There was still some uncertainty as to the number of men who went to work yesterday, but it was pointed out that if the total was 112, as some authorities believe, the missing 17 miners probably would be found in the eighth heading, where the water had risen so rapidly that exploration this morning had been impossible. Even if these men had gone into the mine, it was asserted, they had probably perished.

If that proved true the leaders said, the number of dead would reach 80.

Efforts were being made to repair the pumps, damaged by the explosion, while a force of workers were cutting a passageway thru the coal between the eighth and ninth headings. With this work complete, they hoped to reach the last of the unexplored galleries today.

The grim task of removing the dead started about 2 o'clock this morning after widows and children of the missing men had been induced to return home. They stood in the misty rain all thru yesterday. Rescue chiefs believed that the mine would be cleared of bodies soon after day break.

Movable bulkheads were being constructed today. These were attached to front of mine cars and the rescuers were going deeper into the mine, but they had no hope that a living miner would be found in the depths now.

Six state troopers patrolled the mine entrance today.

MOONEYHAM YET UNCONSCIOUS

NORWOOD SENT OUT SOS CALL FOR AMENDMENT

Wired All Democratic Chairmen Last Night To Help Put It Over

INCREASES SOLONS' PAY

They Will Get $10 Day Hereafter Instead of $4 If Amendment Is Put Thru; Campaign Made No Body And Unmild Name; East Has Crop of Young Leaders

Raleigh, Nov. 7.—(Special)—One hundred Democratic county chairmen were called this morning into support of the constitutional amendment increasing the pay of members of the general assembly. Chairman Dave Norwood sending out at the last minute last night an appeal to the organization.

Mr. Norwood did not during the campaign press this issue as it was purely non-partisan. Evidence abundantly that the amendment was not getting the support that was necessary to make it carry, brought the chairman on his own responsibility into the fight. He wired briefly: "Think the amendment should carry, would appreciate a good vote from your county."

The psychology of the situation is against the passage of the measure which raises the legislative pay from $4 to $10 with commensurate increases for the speaker and the lieutenant governor. The tendency of the state has been against salary increases, notwithstanding which the legislatures have gone on and given living salaries where they could. The assembly has followed the trend in school teaching. It is now possible for a school teacher to starve on starvation several years and to do so with the aid of the state provided by the state.

If the people rally the amendment today the change will affect the incoming legislature, as the amendment will be effective from and after its ratification.

North Carolina now pays the per diem of Alabama which has only 50 days and therefore gives only $50 for each session; pays the same as Georgia, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, and New Hampshire.

A force in the promotion of the advancement of the community in the days when the foundation of the city was being strengthened for the great development which was to follow was the esteemed Mumford L. Mr. Bailey is one of the substantial citizens contributed to the state's metropolis by Davie county. It was back in the 60s that Mr. Bailey and his brother, Phillip N. Bailey, began their tobacco career as mere boys, with the firm of Bailey and Duhan, in 1874 they became owners of the entire plant and established the firm of Bailey Brothers. They later moved to Statesville and in 1880 came to Winston-Salem, the then center of the tobacco industry in Piedmont North Carolina.

Through his career he has been a sane advisor in public matters, but
