CONSIDERED A THREAT Meanwhile Cutting Of Cable By The Turks Has Left Outside World Almost In Dark To What Is Actually Occurring In Constantinople; Russia Butting In

London, Nov. 10—If any message on the Turkish situation had been received from Constantinople up to noon today in official quarters, no British official would know, however, as to what the situation was.

Constantinople, Nov. 10—(By Associated Press)—The allied commissioners this afternoon handed a note to the Ankara government representative here demanding the repeal of all measures relating to customs, the public debt and the sanitary and other services which conflict with the capitulations and the stipulations of the Mudros armistice agreement of 1918.

The allied generals also arranged a meeting with Rafet Pasha, nationalist governor here, to whom they will submit minimum demands with a view to insuring the safety of the troops and effective control of the police and gendarmerie.

The commissioners also will discuss the situation at Chanak, consequent upon the Kemalists' infringement upon the neutral zone.

Ismet Pasha, the nationalist foreign minister, in a conversation with General Harrington, British commander-in-chief, on Wednesday, complained of the constant proposals to put off the peace conference, which he said created a difficult situation.

The high commissioners also presented a note to the Kemalists leader, proposing the murder of a British journalist in a recent encounter.

Ismet Pasha, Turkish nationalist foreign minister, left here this afternoon at 12:50 o'clock for Lausanne to attend the peace conference, scheduled to begin there next week.

Seventy-nine arrests were made during the month and 169 alleged bootleggers were prosecuted.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES AT WORK TODAY

House Appropriation Committee Hopes To Have Bill In Shape By December 4

Washington, Nov. 10—With congress called by President Harding to convene in extra session November 20, members of the House appropriations committee were scheduled to meet today with the aim of having several of the appropriation bills ready for the House by the beginning of the regular session immediately following on December 4.

During the two weeks of the extra session the House is expected to devote its attention to the ship subsidy bill, while sub-committees of its appropriations committee work on the supply bills, which form the most important task of the regular session.

It was with a view of getting an earlier start on important legislation, including the appropriation bills, so that it can be put thru by next March 4, when the sixty-seventh congress must adjourn sine-die, that the call for an extra session was approved by Republican leaders in congress.

While there has been no definite outline of the nature of the President's recommendations to be presented to the extra session, the senate has several important bills pending, the most important of which is the anti-lynching bill, already passed by the House, and it is considered probable that the executive will make some definite recommendation as to changes in the transportation act.

Postponement of action on the ship subsidy bill was agreed to by the President at the last session on the assurance of party leaders that it would be taken up without delay when congress reconvenes, and it was the opinion of the latter that the House would proceed directly to consideration of the bill at the extra session.

G. O. P. CLAIMING PROHIBITION IS ONE OF CAUSES

Point To New York And New Jersey Nationally And Stanly And Wilkes In State

Raleigh, Nov. 10—Republicans interpreting the dreadful calamity in the election this week, are moved to commiseration. They can sympathize with the Democrats on the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

The Republicans, studying the election returns, think there is much to support their theory that the domestic issues arising out of liquor are probably weighing more heavily with the voters than such things as the League of Nations, the tariff, the bonus, or normalcy.

The majority national party spokesmen here carry the thing out in the contrary. They go to Edwards, of New Jersey; Miller, of New York; Reed, of Missouri, not to say

Washington, Nov. 10—On the face of practically complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's elections, the exact line-up by parties in the Sixty-eighth congress will be:

House—Republicans, 225; Democrats, 207; Socialist, 1; Independent, 1; Farmer-Labor, 1.

Senate—Republicans, 53; Democrats, 42; Farmer-Labor, 1. The Republican total in the senate is predicted upon a victory for that party in the senatorial contest in North Dakota.

In the house, the Republicans, on the basis of the unofficial returns, will have a majority of 15 over the Democrats 42. In the present senate the Republicans have 69 members and the Democrats 36, a Republican majority of 24.

Washington, Nov. 10—Release of all foreign vessels seized outside the American three-mile limit with liquor aboard, where there is no evidence of communication with the shore by means of the vessel's own boats, was ordered today by Secretary Mellon.

Treasury officials estimated that 100 vessels have been seized as liquor carriers beyond the three-mile limit and their return would be required by Mellon's order.

MANY BELIEVE CASE NEVER GO TO GRAND JURY

Officials Said To Have Informed Mott He Has Not Sufficient Evidence

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 10—The state will withhold its plea for indictments in the Hall-Mills murder case until November 20 when a new grand jury will be sworn in.

These were the latest authoritative advices today. Meanwhile the investigation apparently was in the doldrums.

It was understood that Special Deputy Attorney General Mott, after a conference yesterday with the foreman of the Somerset grand jury, had decided to lay his evidence before the new jurors.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 10—The Hall-Mills murder remained a mystery today and there seemed to be no immediate prospect of it being cleared. No official announcement has been made as to the result of the conference in Somerville yesterday between Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott, in charge of the case, and the foreman of the Somerset county grand jury.

Mr. Mott declined to make any statement after the conference, but his attitude indicated he had been unable to convince Foreman Gibb and other legal officials that he had enough evidence to warrant the grand jury.

Many people in New Brunswick believe the case will never go beyond the investigation stage.

The grand jury has been called to meet here this afternoon to take up its regular term, but Mr. Mott said the Hall-Mills case would not be presented this week.

Commander Owsley Has Armistice Day Message To People

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 10—Departing for Lincoln, Neb., tomorrow he will dedicate the new capitol of Nebraska, Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, issued the following Armistice Day message:

"Armistice Day is observed as the anniversary of the ending of the world war. But more and greater than that—it is the day of the beginning of peace, and therefore it is to be celebrated in no uncertain fashion as a day of hope and high ambition. We have Memorial Day for the hero dead, for a backward thought of the greatness of the days gone by. Let Armistice Day be a day for the living, for looking forward upon high adventures and achievements yet to come."

"In this America of ours especially, the Day of the Beginning of Peace is a day of exaltation of the spirit; for we are a nation of builders, and the works of peace are the glory of a free people. With the coming of peace there is an end of destruction and of tearing down. And with the coming of a just peace the march of mankind is taken up again, mankind going forward step by step to higher resolve. Let us then be glad and proud in this resolve, that every observance of the Armistice shall serve as a milestone along the upward road of peaceful progress."

"Yet on this fateful eleventh day of the eleventh month it would be well, that on the stroke of the eleventh hour one solemn moment be set aside for prayer and a silent giving of thanks, that freedom still endures upon this earth thru sacrifice. I have the honor of speaking for a great organization of American citizens whose faith in America has been proved thru hard endurance; men who have come thru struggle in war to a clear conception of the spiritual glory to the service to America. In the spirit of these men let us say: 'Honor to our immortal dead—that great white company of shining souls who gave their youth that the world might grow old in peace. Amen!'"

Former President of Maintenance Men's Union Loses By Court's Decision

Detroit, Nov. 10—Allen E. Barker, of Detroit, former president of the International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employers and Railway Shop Laborers, today was ordered in a decision given by Circuit Judge Mandell to return to the brotherhood $177,000 and to give an accounting for $40,000 more he said he expended in organization work for the brotherhood.

Suit for return of the entire amount had been brought against Barker by officials of the brotherhood, the organization charging he had converted the union's funds to his own use.

Judge Mandell in his decision said testimony showed the sums had not been expended in organization work. Barker testified during his trial that much of the money had been used to strengthen the brotherhood in Canada.

Barker was president of the brotherhood from March, 1919, to February, 1920. It was during this period that the organization's funds are said to have been used.

STILL FIGHTING IN DUBLIN

Dublin, Nov. 10—(By the Associated Press)—Heavy firing crackled in various parts of the city during the night. Irregulars renewed their attack upon Wellington military barracks and also fired upon the Portobello barracks. The early morning hours were made hideous by the rattle of machine guns. Two civilians were found dead in a suburb.

DE VALERA'S AIDE IS CAUGHT

Belfast, Nov. 10—(By the Associated Press)—A Wicklow message today says Frankie Childers, one of De Valera's leading lieutenants, and another prominent Republican, were captured there early today. It is said De Valera also was in the house where the captures were effected, but evaded arrest.

Raleigh, Nov. 10—Cole Miller, of Hamlet, and Bobby Woods, of this city, were found not guilty of prize fighting in the city court here today. Miller and Woods were arrested several weeks ago at the club rooms of the Raleigh Athletic Association, following their bout of six rounds.

LA FOLLETTE BE THE CZAR IN THE NEXT CONGRESS

With His Radical Following In The Senate And House He Will Boss The Old Guard

HE WILL OUST NEWBERRY That Is Certain Unless The Michigan Senator Resigns; Daugherty, Too, Is To Be Impached If Democrats Will Fall In With His Crowd; Next Speaker Radical

Washington, Nov. 10—The election last Tuesday made Senator Robert M. La Follette the czar of congress and the man whom President Harding must reckon with in carrying out any administrative policy for the next two years. It is one of the most remarkable events in all the long history of American politics. Some five years ago La Follette was about to be expelled from the Senate because of his flagrant opposition to the war. He had been practically ostracized by both parties of political creed and a pariah. For many months his name was excluded from the press.

Now by a strange turn of the wheel of fate this man comes into a position where he can dictate the speakership of the house and the organization of the Senate. The man who three months ago was excluded from the conference committee on the tariff because of his uncompromising denunciation of it, comes back to the Senate in a position to make his own terms of the great financial committee, drive Lodge from the chairmanship of the foreign relations committee and put in his head Senator Borah. La Follette can and very likely will remove Senator Cummins from the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce committee, for Cummins is the joint author of the Esch-Cummins railroad law, which La Follette has fought with all the zeal of a fanatic.

La Follette's commanding position in the Senate has come about because the Democrats have captured seven and probably eight seats in the Senate, cutting the Republican majority down to ten or eight. In the next Senate La Follette and his friends will be able to throw from seven to ten votes to the Democrats the Democrats are. They are La Follette, Borah, Norris, Norbeck, Ladd, Shipstead, Brookhart and Howell. Only by a combination of the Democrats with the stand pat Republicans can the Senate of this little group of men be headed off.

One thing they have discovered beyond doubt: If Senator Newberry does not resign before the 45th congress meets, these radicals will at once vote with the Democrats to oust him. They will combine with the Democrats on the latter's fiscal policy of government. They will oppose the Democrats on their general foreign policy as fathered by Woodrow Wilson. But they will vote with the Democrats in their hostility to all such measures as a ship subsidy.

La Follette's strength in the Senate has been increased by his peculiar strength in the House. The Republicans in the new house will not have more than five or six votes and not more than five counting radicals insurgents. Nearly all the Wisconsin delegation of eleven in the House are La Follette radicals. They were never so absolutely as now at the beck and call. More than half the delegation in Minnesota and in North and South Dakota are under his sway. Through this group of radicals he can dictate the speakership, determine the character of the powerful rules committee and shape the legislative program of the House. Democrats are now expecting that he will not only attempt to control the organization of the new House, but that he will succeed.

Who Will Be Next Speaker? Who will be the speaker of the next House in view of present conditions is an extremely problematical question.
