TOWN OF CARRIZAL, 500 INHABITANTS, HAS DISAPPEARED

Not Known How Many of Inhabitants Killed; Was Seaport and Mining Town

SECOND SHOCK IN 3 DAYS

Will Finding Bodies of Victims of Saturday's Quake, 600 Being Taken From Ruins of One Town and Burned; Property Loss Will Be Severe Loss To Country

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—Chili was again visited by earth-shocks late last night. Severe tremors were felt at Serena, capital of the province of Coquimbo, at 11 o'clock and half an hour earlier the seaport Constitucion, capital of the province of Maule, was shaken, according to advices received here by the National Telegraph.

Advises from Antofagasta filed at 10:30 last night, said a strong earthquake had just been felt at Talca, a seaport of several thousand population only a few miles from Antofagasta.

The town of Carrizal, consisting mostly of underground dwellings and upper mines, is reported to have disappeared, but no mention of the number of lives is made. The inhabitants number about 200 and there are 350 other persons living at the port of Carrizal.

Port Lázari was one of the cities severely shaken by the quake of last night. More than 1,500 lives in various parts of Chile.

The extent of casualties and property damage wrought by the tremors and tidal waves three days ago, has not yet been fully learned, as communication lines are still out of order in many regions, but property losses amounting to millions of dollars will be a severe economic blow to the country, it is feared.

The town of Valparaiso seems to have suffered the least damage, as communication lines are still out of order in many regions, but property losses amounting to millions of dollars will be a severe economic blow to the country, it is feared.

The Pacific ocean seems not yet to have fully recovered its balance as a result of last week's terrific disturbances, or else there have been new movements under the sea bed. Antofagasta reports say yesterday the sea ebbed and came booming back upon the beach three times, much in the same manner of the tidal waves of Saturday.

The entire diplomatic corps called on the foreign minister to tender their condolences to the stricken nation.

Scotland And New Zealand Next Countries Slated For The Dry Clam

2,000 DELEGATES PRESENT Speakers From Each of 40 Nations And Colonies Make Reports; Mrs. Lloyd George Among Those Sending Congratulatory Messages To The Convention

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Progress of the "dry" movement through the five continents of the globe again occupied the attention of the world's convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union today. Rallies were scheduled both for today and tonight, at which speakers from 40 nations or colonies of the nations among the 2,000 delegates, will explain the particular problems facing the temperance advocates of their own lands.

Those in attendance today discussed with interest the assertion made last night by Dr. Alfred Herbert Horsfall that Scotland and New Zealand are next among the lands slated for the dry clam.

Dr. Horsfall represents the United Kingdom Alliance of Australia. He pointed out that in the Scotland election on the subject last year 29 per cent voted "no license" and mentioned the work of "Pussy-Foot" Johnson in telling Australia what prohibition had done for America.

Among the cables of praise for the W. C. T. U. and its work was one received yesterday from Mrs. Lloyd George.

OCTOBER MILL TAKINGS LARGER

Used 533,950 Bales Cotton Compared With 494,317 In Same Month Last Year

Washington, Nov. 14.—The largest monthly consumption of cotton since June, 1920, took place during October, a total of 533,950 bales of lint having been used by manufacturers. The census bureau announced today that this was an increase of 85,600 bales over September consumption and about the same increase over October last year.

Consumption in cotton-growing states was almost 50,000 bales more than in October a year ago and the number of active spindles in that region showed an increase of almost half a million, while spindles in all other states numbered almost 800,000 fewer than in October last year.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Cotton consumed during October amounted to 533,950 bales of lint and 62,406 bales of linters, compared with 494,317 of lint and 65,350 of linters in October last year, and 495,344 of lint in September this year, the census bureau announced today.

Cotton on hand Oct. 31 was held as follows: In consuming establishments 1,379,770 bales of lint and 82,183 of linters, compared with 1,298,148 of lint and 157,877 of linters a year ago.

G. O. P. LEADERS NO DOUBT AS TO MEET SOON TO MEET WHO IS LEADER OF DEMOCRATS VIEW THE WRECK OF DEMOCRATS

Get Some Consolation From Fact That About Half of Democrats Did Not Vote

SAY THESE ARE 'PICKINGS' HE IS THE WILSON OF OLD

While There is a Minority Still Throwing Cold Water on League Of Nations, Great Majority Is Recognizing U. S. Must Work With Rest of the World

Raleigh, Nov. 14.—(Special)—Announcement alone is lacking to make certain the date when the Republicans call their executive committee together, take hasty stock of their recent wreck, figure on the salvage then center on the campaign of 1924.

Their platform will be Pauline. They are going to forget the past, those things which are behind them. They do not like to believe their Democratic neighbors steal votes. But the minority is going to bear down hard on taxation. They believe that anybody who says the tax shoe pinches. They will discuss nothing else, it is said.

They look at the election figures and are somewhat abashed, to be sure, that everybody who voted was a Democrat. But the Democrats who did vote were far below normal in the strength shown. As the figures now are it begins to look as though the majority party did not cast in this election the minority vote of 1920. There must be then, according to the Republican way of looking at it, one Democratic stay-at-home for every voter who went to the polls. And that absentee is generally regarded as a woman. In the Republican view of the election, the women have quit voting. They are disgusted.

If the Democratic women will stay away and the Democratic men may be regarded with taxes, the Republicans believe they have the issue which will win. Anyway, they will call their committee together to try the idea out. There is a non-partisan league in the making, too. The issue of taxation is the paramount, but the man who runs on it isn't. If there is a Democrat who will make the race on a reduction platform, the Republicans will support him if they have confidence in him.

Such a meeting has been in the mind of Republicans ever since it became a certainty that Maj. Charles M. Stedman would be overwhelming.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—(By Central Press)—The senate seat of Truman H. Newberry of Michigan today hangs in the balance and only by the merest thread if the boast of the anti-Newberry solons is to be believed.

Acquitted by his colleagues of the charges of excessive expenditures in his campaign of 1918 against Henry Ford, Newberry now faces another fight to retain his seat.

Anti-Newberry forces in the senate now claim fifty-one votes as a result of the recent elections in which seven of Newberry's staunchest de-

DE VALERA AGAIN PRESIDENT OF IRISH REPUBLIC

Rebels Political And Military Wings Get Together And Present Solid Front

SITUATION UNIMPROVED While Free State Government Still Claim Successes Over Rebels The Latter Are Recording Severe Losses To Government Troops; Parliament Meets Wednesday

Dublin, Nov. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—The current increase of activity of armed forces opposing the Irish government is attributed to reunion of the political and military wings of republicanism. This, among other things, resulted in the re-appointment of Eamon de Valera as "President of the Irish Republic."

There is a wide divergence between the accounts published by the government of its successes against the irregulars and those put out by de Valera's party. The government claims to be winning and gradually restoring order while de Valera's followers record severe losses they are inflicting and say that the free states are already beaten.

These assertions are made partly in propaganda sold upon the streets and partly thru large inscriptions painted nightly all over Dublin on lampposts, bill boards and bridges.

The civil guard and the metropolitan police pace up and down the streets, but they seem unable to check these manifestations of republicanism. When the new parliament assembles and the legislation of the free state is submitted for ratification, it is expected the activities of the irregulars will be further intensified.

Except in the south all large bodies of republican forces have been dispersed in a wholesale manner by national troops, but small bands are able to inflict constant losses and humiliation upon the government by their activities in Dublin and elsewhere. Repressive power has been granted to the government by the Irish parliament, but the republicans have never believed these powers would be fully exercised and so far their forecasts have been made, for the most part, accurate.

The free state government has 20,000 troops fully equipped and costing nearly $2,000,000 a year. Yet the attacks of the irregulars are made in confidence of escape and with the thought that even if they are caught, they will suffer nothing more than detention in prison.

If members of the Irish parliament, which resumes Wednesday, express in public what some of them

ONLY TURKISH NATIONALISTS BE RECOGNIZED

Ismet Says Allies Not To Pay Any Attention To Sultan's Word At Conference

ISMET GOES TO PARIS Will Spend Couple of Days There And Then Return To Lausanne For Peace Meeting; Turks Are Wearing European Clothes; Swiss People Disappointed

Lausanne, Nov. 14.—The decision of Ismet Pasha, to leave for Paris tonight for a talk with Premier Poincaré and possibly with representatives of the British foreign office, has again thrown the Lausanne peace conference into an atmosphere of deep uncertainty.

Ismet is going to the French capital on an invitation from Premier Poincaré brought here by Ferit Bey, Turkish nationalist representative in Paris, who will accompany him on the return journey. Ismet will probably also take with him two members of his delegation.

It is a fact that the French, Turkish and Japanese delegates have taken all the rooms there. Presence of the French and Turkish at the same hotel is already causing much comment and general discussion as to what agreements, if any, M. Frank Bouillon made with the Angora government when he negotiated the separate treaty with Mustafa Kemal Pasha.

Lausanne, Nov. 14.—(By Associated Press)—Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish nationalist delegation here, has decided to accept the invitation to visit Paris before the opening of the conference. It was announced today by the Turkish representative at the French capital, who came here from Paris yesterday.

Ismet, it is stated, expects to spend only Wednesday at Paris, returning to Lausanne today. He will be accompanied by the Turkish delegation. As a spectacle the Turkish delegation to the peace conference has been a keen disappointment to the people of Lausanne. Not a single member of the delegation wears the traditional Turkish dress, and even laid aside their astrakhan caps and are so conventionally dressed in derbies and European overcoats and suits that the curious Swiss are unable to distinguish the Turks from other guests at the Palace Hotel.

The only delegation touch about the Turkish party today was provided by several Turkish newspaper men attending the conference. They will wear bright faces. Several of the Turkish delegates are red-haired and totally unlike the stately Turk.

Ismet Pasha stated positively in a conversation with The Associated Press that the entente was recognizing the Angora delegation as the sole representatives of Turkish interests. The allies will not receive any delegation from the sultan or his Constantinople government should such a group come to Lausanne, he said.

Allies to Get Together. London, Nov. 14.—The troublesome question of how a meeting of allies could be held before the Lausanne peace conference for the purpose of outlining the allied program, as Great Britain has insisted, has been solved as a result of an exchange of messages by the channels at Paris, Rome and London.

Neither Premier Poincaré nor Mussolini can leave his capital for a conference elsewhere before proceeding to Lausanne, but Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs, has arranged to see Premier Poincaré in Paris on the way to Lausanne, probably on Thursday and the conversation will be continued by the two on the train from Paris to Lausanne.

It was stated here that the Turks were not becoming any more uncooperative.

The opinion is expressed in official quarters that in view of the easing of the tension the allied representatives at Constantinople had decided to be unnecessary for the present to proclaim a state of siege.

A news agency dispatch from Constantinople dated Monday said the Allies had been discussing the question of Adrianople with the Turkish nationalists.

CONFIDENT BONUS BILL GO THRU NEXT CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 14.—Confidence that a soldiers' bonus bill would be enacted by the Congress, which comes into existence after next March 4, was expressed today by John Thomas Taylor, legislative representative of the American Legion, in a statement which declared the election clearly demonstrated that the sentiment of the country is behind compensation.

With the new House 8 to 1 in favor of the measure, Taylor said, new senators will support the legislation giving bonus proponents a safe margin in the Senate over that needed to override a presidential veto.

MOTT HAS AGAIN POSTPONED THE JURY HEARING

Instead of Summoning Grand Jury Thursday, He Now Says It Will Meet Monday

MRS. HALL MAY TESTIFY This Indicted Now, As She Asked It And Has Agreed To Waive Immunity; Negro To Figure Prominently In The Hearing Before The Grand Jury

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 14.—(By The Associated Press)—An attempt to prove that Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall knew of the relations between her husband, the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor B. Mills, for some time prior to their murder on September 14, will be made by Special Deputy Attorney General Wilbur A. Mott. It is learned here today authoritatively.

Ray Schneider and Pearl Bahmer, the couple who found the bodies of the two on the Phillips farm, will be the first witnesses. Schneider was at one time held in jail as a material witness after his husband's confession in which he accused Clifford Hayes of the crime. Both later were released when Schneider repudiated his confession.

Mrs. Edward Stryker, from whose home Schneider telephoned his discovery of the bodies to the authorities, also will be called Monday as will James Curran and Edward Garrigan, police officers first on the scene.

Mr. Mott refused to divulge the names of the witnesses to be called on Tuesday.

"Thru the testimony of the witnesses I hope to prove that for some time prior to the murder Mrs. Hall had known of the intimate relations between her husband and Mrs. Mills. The presentation of the case will be expedited, but I do not know how long it will take—three, four or five days."

Mr. Mott said he did not yet know whether he would call as a witness Nellie Lee Russell, negro, who has made an affidavit that she was in conversation with Mrs. Jane Gibson at the latter's home at the time Mrs. Gibson said she was on the Phillips farm and witnessed the murders.

"I may call her," he said, "to let the jury draw its own conclusions of the woman's story. I place no faith in her affidavit. I am convinced that Mrs. Gibson's story, in its main essentials, is true."

INVITE HARDING TO GREENVILLE, TENN.

Delegation Wants Him To Take Part In Celebration; No Definite Answer Given

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Harding was invited by a delegation from Greenville, Tenn., today, to attend ceremonies to be held there in connection with the reopening of the old tailor shop of Andrew Johnson.

The delegation was presented to the President by Representative Reece, of Tennessee, and included Dr. C. O. Gray, president of Tusculum; H. S. H. Emfry; J. H. C. Tamm; C. H. Cole; Charles Bewley, postmaster at Greenville; and J. W. Howard, of Greenville. The President indicated he would be glad to accept the invitation, but could not give a definite answer at this time on account of the illness of Mrs. Harding and the reassembling of congress.

No date for the celebration has been fixed and members of the delegation said it might be postponed until next spring if it were possible for the President to visit Greenville at that time.

"Know Your City" Talk Number 40

NATIONAL ADVERTISING It would be hard to find a city of like size anywhere that has more nationally advertised products than has Winston-Salem.

There are at least ten local manufacturing concerns that do national advertising, and thus aid incidentally in spreading the fame of Winston-Salem abroad. Their publicity campaigns include the use of national magazines, trade papers and other mediums. Advertisements of these local products naturally attract much attention to Winston-Salem.
