

PRISON REFORMS ARE RECOMMENDED

Committee Hears Reports From Sixteen Sub-Committees On Conditions

Greensboro, Nov. 25.—Numerous reports showing the results of lengthy investigations of jails and prison camps and the consideration of legislation designed to create a model penal system in North Carolina were subjects which held the attention of the citizens' committee of one hundred meeting here yesterday in morning, afternoon and night sessions.

Voluntarily written reports from 16 subcommittees were referred to the policy and program committees, composed of five members, with A. M. Scales as chairman. After a thorough review of the several reports and the recommendations which they contain, the committee of five will probably draft prison reform measures which will be presented for enactment into law when the state legislature meets in January.

The committee of one hundred adjourned to meet at the call of the committee of five, but it was announced that the main committee will probably hold its next meeting in conjunction with the North Carolina conference for social service at Raleigh, January 17-18.

- Changes Recommended
- Among the important changes recommended for the improvement of North Carolina's penal system by the conference were the following:
1. That all sentenced prisoners shall be under the control of the state of North Carolina.
 2. That no municipal or county jails be used except as a place of detention, for those awaiting trial.
 3. That a warden be in charge of the women's wards in all jails where women are confined.
 4. That the present law in regard to the physical examination of all prisoners by the county health authorities within 48 hours after commitment by strictly enforced by the state board of health.
 5. That the state board of health furnish to the respective county health authorities forms for the physical examination of individual prisoners, and that such forms shall be filled out by the county health authorities on every prisoner committed to any county or municipal jail or road camp whatsoever, and that said forms shall be mailed to the state board of health.
 6. That all prisoners be kept separate from the rest until after they have been examined by the county health authority.
 7. That all prisoners who, upon examination by the county health authorities, are diagnosed as infected with tuberculosis or venereal disease shall be kept separate from other prisoners at all times.
 8. That corporal punishment of prisoners be abolished, and that jailers shall be prohibited from using any form of punishment whatsoever upon prisoner's awaiting trial.
 9. That the dieting fee be uniform throughout the state.

CHAPLIN ENGAGED SO RUMOR GOES

Comedian Will Not Confirm Or Deny Report That He Is To Wed Pola Negri

Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—The Los Angeles Times today published a news story stating that reports in motion picture circles were that Charlie Chaplin, movie comedian, and Pola Negri, screen tragedienne, were engaged to be married.

"I cannot say yes," Chaplin was quoted. "Any such announcement must necessarily come from her. Neither can I say 'no.' Think of the position that would place her in."

According to The Times, Madame Negri cancelled an engagement to give a representative of that newspaper an interview when she received intimation of the subject he wished to discuss.

The Chaplin-Negri romance, the paper continues, had its beginning when Chaplin toured Europe last year.

And when Negri recently arrived and again met Chaplin she was said to have exclaimed: "This is what I have looked forward to ever since I started."

They are said to have been almost inseparable since she reached Los Angeles. At first declining to discuss personal affairs, Chaplin said, according to The Times:

"I can't say 'yes'; any such announcement of necessity come from her. She is a gentle woman and a foreigner. Don't you see? She does not understand American ways in affairs of this kind. She would resent my making a statement, and if I said 'no'—just look at the position in which it would put her."

Chaplin continuing commented: "Marriage is no crime."

The comedian is said to have moved recently from a small cottage into a house of many rooms and to be occupying it alone.

There have been many reports in the last year that he was to be married. He formerly was the husband of Mildred Harris, screen and vaudeville actress.

REJOICING OVER THE ELECTION IN CATAWBA

Editor Mebane Says Result Of Balloting Was "Victory For Law and Order"

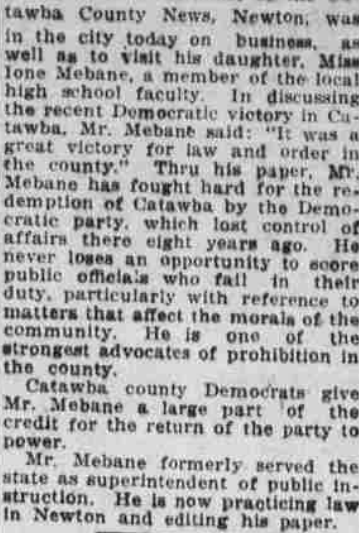

Editor C. H. Mebane, of the Catawba County News, Newton, was in the city today on business, as well as to visit his daughter, Miss Mebane, a member of the local high school faculty. In discussing the recent Democratic victory in Catawba, Mr. Mebane said: "It was a great victory for law and order in the county. Through his paper, Mr. Mebane has fought hard for the redemption of Catawba by the Democratic party, which lost control of affairs there eight years ago. He never loses an opportunity to score public officials who fail in their duty, particularly with reference to matters that affect the morals of the community. He is one of the strongest advocates of prohibition in the county."

Catawba county Democrats give Mr. Mebane a large part of the credit for the return of the party to power.

Mr. Mebane formerly served the state as superintendent of public instruction. He is now practicing law in Newton and editing his paper.

contended that the state has no power of regulation. The other set contended sharply against the new rates as unreasonable and discriminatory in favor of South Carolina consumers. Mr. Tillett made a terrific argument against the new rates both as to their righteousness and the power of the state to make them.

He was strongly met on the contention that the power company has been handsomely rewarded for what it has done in the shape of state development. Clyde R. Hoey challenged him to present one fact which showed that the company ever had earned a decent dividend or that the proposed rates would furnish that dividend.

Justice Walker of the court declined to sit in this case. He is a stockholder in some of the mills. Notwithstanding that fact the power company was anxious that he sit and participate in the opinion of the court. Mr. Tillett's clients, in whose mills Justice Walker has some stock, is said to have opposed his sitting. But the Charlotte gentleman voluntarily retired as he always does where he has even the smallest pecuniary interest in the remotest way.
