Published every Wednesday Morning, by THOMAS LORING.

TERMS. THREE DOLLARS PER ANNUM, IN ADVANCE.

ADVERTISEMENTS Not exceeding a Square inserted at ONE DOLLAR me first, and TWENTY-FIVE CENTS for each subse quent insertion. A liberal discount to Yearly Adverti-

OFFICE on the South side of Market Street, be low the Court House.

TEXCHANGE I FOR CASH OR COUNTRY PRODUCE.

OBERT/SIMPSON, has just returned from North with a general and well selected assortment of Goods in his line of business, which he is very anxious to dispose of on advantageous terms as above-purchasers will do well to call and examine. An outline of his assortment is GROCERIES .- A good supply of articles of fair quality.

LIQUORS.—Cogniac Brandy, Jamaica, and N. E. Rum, Rye Whiskey, Apple SHOES.-Ladies' Gentlemen's and Chil-Shoes of every variety-also, WOOL HAIS by the box.

Crockery, Glass and China Ware. A very pretty assortment of these articles. TEAS. -Gunpowder, Hyson, Young Hyson, Sin Teas.

LCCKING GLASSES .- Parlour and Mantie Chasses, some very splendid and worthy attention-also Dressing and Toilet Glasses in great variety.

Brass Andirons, Shorels and Tongs-

HOLLOW WARE - Every article of IRON, assorted .- SALT, Alum and Vat.

MAHES; all sizes.

TCBACCO, Cavendish, first chop. Day GOODS, in variety. A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF NEGRO CLOTHS.

Single and double barrelled Shot Guns and Pieces, Trace Chains, Cotton Cards, Ware, Baskets, Shovels, Spades, Hoes, Potent Samoothing Irons, cross cut Saws, Fancy the box, Axes and Hatchets of approved 1. Powder and Shot, Shoe Thread -ALSO-

Lard, Cheese, and Butter, constantly ale-all of which is offered at economical heej.

ROB'T. SIMPSON. October 30, 1833

Notice.

THE SUBSCRIBERS, gracemethod to inform the inhabitants of Wilmington and its vicinity, that they have just returned from the North to their old stand with sell cheap. They have also in their employ first dating terms. rate workmen and will make to order, any article in their line with which they may be favored, of the best materials, and in the most fashionable manner.

A FULL ASSORTMENT OF Gentlemen's Ladies' and Children's Boots and Shoes, of every description,

G. & C. BRADLEY.

N. B. Repairing of all kinds done at the short-October 30, 1833.

Notice.

T the last session of the County Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions for the County, of New Hanover letters of administration on the state of James Ward, dec'd, were granted to the subscriber. All persons having demands against anid estate are hereby notified to present the same for payment within the time prescribed by law or they will be barred of recovery.

LOUISA WARD, Administratrix. October 30, 1833.

Notice.

LL persons against whom I hold Bonds and Notes, as Guardian to John and Sarah Green, are requested to make payment by the first of January next. Longer indulgence cannot be given as it will be necessary to make a full and final settlement of the Estate, at that time. J. H. WATTERS.

October 30, 1833.

Notice.

DICKINSON has taken in co-partnership. Mr. RICHARD MORRIS. The business in fature, will be transacted under the firm of E. DICKENSON & Co.

ELIJAH DICKINSON. RICHARD MORRIS. Wilmington, N. C. Oct. 30, 1833.

Islam a young man of 22, by no -means ugly-my business a lucrative one, and a ecitizen of this place. Any young single lady of respectable connections and rank in society, wishing to enter into a matrimonial alliance, will -please address through the People's Press and Advertiser. T. T. O. (paid 125.) October 30, 1833.

Notice,

THAT CHARLES SNEAD late of this County better securing the perishable property, and spe- Country Produce. cial letters of administration having been granted to the subscriber, a sale of said perishable property, consisting of CROP, STOCK, and PROVI-SIONS, will take place at the late dwelling of deceased on Saturday, the 16th Movember next, on a credit of six months.

E. B. DUDLEY, Adm'r.

Refectory.

MR. JOHN PAGE, from France, begs leave to inform the public that he has opened an EAT-ING ROOM, in Dock Street opposite Mr. Baxter's Store, where gentlemen can be accommodated at any hour of the day, or night, with OYSTERS, BEEF STEARS, POELTRY, PASTRY, &c. &c., cooked in the best style; and he hopes, by strict attention, and accommodating his customers, to receive a share of patronage.

COFFEE and TEL served at any hour in the mouning or evening. October 30, 1833.

For Liverpool.

THE Staunch Coppered and Copper fastened Br. Brig Industry, Capt. Mc-Neill, has most of her cargo engaged and will meet with despatch, can take about 400 bales Cotton, on freight, en inhmediate application TO G. W. DAVIS & Co. October 30, 1833.

Notice.

A LL persons are hereby forbid harboring of trusting any of the Crew of the Br. Bri Industry, as debts of their contracting will not be paid by either the Captain or G. W. DAVIS & Co. Consignees. October 30, 1833.

'S removed to Mr. McIlhenny's brick house a the south eastern corner of Toomer's Alley, where she has commodious rooms. October 30, 1833.

New Store.

HE SUBSCRIBERS having formed a Co partnership under the firm of MACREE & MACAUSLAN, stand formerly occupied by George Ware, where they offer for sale a good assortment of Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware and Cuttery.

All of which they will sell low for Cash or barter for Country Produce. JNO. M. MACREE. JOHN MACAUSLAN JR. October 30, 1833.

For Sale.

75 Hhds. Prime Molasses, 10 do do Sugar, 150 Bundles Hay, 65 Brls. Northern Whiskey. 30 do Back Country, do do Peach Brandy.

15 do Monongahela 4th proof Spirits; 45 do N. E. Rum, 150 do Mackerel.

200 do Irish Potatoes. 200 Bags Coffee, 20 Boxes Soap, 50 Casks Lime, 20 BoxesTea.

20 Baskets Champaigne Wine. Nails, Beef, Park, dec. 4.c. UCTODE AZARUS & WHITMARSH

MBW GOODS.

ALEX'R ANDERSON.

AS just received from New York, a large and general assortment of GOODS, suited for Fall and Winter Sales; which he will sell of their own manufacture; all of which they will low at wholesale and retail on the most accommo-

HIS STOCK CONTAINS Blue, Black, Brown, Bottle-Green, Olive, Clarct. and Steel-mixed Choths, of various qualities.

Silk Velvets, Valencia and Silk Vestings. Cassimeres and Sattinetts, some very fine. Rich Silks, Bombazines, Meripoes, Circassians Merino Shawls ; Thibet wool do .: Silk and Gauze do.; Ribbons, Laces, Gloves, Muslins, &c. &c. Hosiery of all kinds. Tuscan Braid, Leghorn and Straw Bonnets. Hats of all qualities : some very superior. A large and well assorted stock of NEGRO CLOTHS. Blankets, wool Hats, and Shoes. Brown and Bleached Shirtings and Sheetings.

Coloured Domestics, low priced calicoes. Rose Blankets, Flannels and every other des criptions of Dry Goods. HARDWARE, Iron and Hollow-ware. Greceries of all kinds, among which are fresh Teas of the best quality, Loaf Sugar and White Lead, Glass, Putty, Paint Oil, Lamp Oil Cut and wrought Nails and Spikes, besides a as heretofore to keep on hand. October 23, 1833.

NEWGOODS! NEWGOODS!

the North, and is now opening at his old stand, the new brick Corner, South East of the Town Hall, a well selected stock of

DRY GOODS,

of all descriptions in common use. A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

Hardware and Cullery, Gans, Pistols of A handsome collection of CROCKERY WARE, Jugs, Jars, Churns, &c. Sec.

A few Sets of new style CHINA. A large and general selection of SHOES, all descriptions.

HATS and BONNETS. ALSO, Brown, Havena, Loaf and Lump Su-GARS; COFFEE; TEAS of the choicest qualities. Wines, Cheese, Segars, Chocolate. TOBACCO OF SUPERIOR QUALITY.

Salt, Iron, Grindstones, &c. mon use by town and country customers, all of having died intestate, and for the purpose of which he offers at moderate prices for Cash or 42-tf.

HENRY NUTT October 23, 1833.

... Female Boarding SCHOOL.

HE SEMINARY for Young Ladies recent-ly under the Superintendance of Mr. WALK-EB ANDERSON, in the vicinity of Hillsborough, will in future be continued on the same principles, under the direction of the Subscribers. INSTRUCTION in the Ornamental Branches of had charge of that Department. The Session will commence on the 15th of Jan-

WILLIAM E. ANDERSON. SAMUEL J. JOHNSTONE. 42-tl March

THE MURDER HOLE. AN ANCIENT LEGEND.

Ah, frantic Fear! I see, I see thee near; I know thy hurried step, thy haggard eye: Like thee I start, like thee disorder'd fly!

In a remote district of country belongthat direction. At length, deserted as this other inhabitants of the cottage. struggling against each other with super- and broken.

natiral magnetar stream, studenty tunk to compose mis agreed nerves to rese cottages continued to be inhabited by an mind, with all the vividness of reality .-

entertained them. One gloomy and tempestuous night in November, a pedlar boy hastily traversed the moor. Terrified to find himself involved in darkness amidst its boundless wastes, a thousand frightful traditions, connected with this dreary scene, darted across his mind-every blast, as it swept in hollow gusts over the heath, seemed to variety of articles in his line which he continues | teem with the sighs of departed spiritsand the birds, as they winged their way above his head, appeared, with loud and shrill cries, to warn him of approaching danger. The whistle with which he usu-THE SUBSCRIBER has just returned from ally beguiled his weary pilgrimage died away into silence, and he groped along with trembling and uncertain steps, which sounded too loudly in his ears. The promise of scripture occurred to his memory and revived his courage. "I will be unto thee as a rock in the desert, and as an hithing place in the storm." Surely, thought he, though alone, I am not forsaken; and a prayer for assistance hovered on his

A light now glimmered in the distance which would lead him, he conjectured, to the cottage of the old woman; and towards that he eagerly bent his way, remembering as he hastened along, that when he had visited it the year before, it was in company with a large party of travellers who had beguiled the evening with those tales of mystery which had so lately filled his In fact a good assortment of every thing in com- brain with images of terror. He recollected, too, how anxiously the old woman and her sons had endeavored to detain him when the other travellers were departing; and now, therefore, he confidently anticipated a cordial and cheering reception. His first call for admission obtained no visible marks of attention, but instantly the greatest noise and confusion prevailed within the cottage. They think it is one of the supernatural visitants of whom the old lady talks so much, thought the boy, approaching a window, where the light within showed him all the in-Female Education, particularly Music and Drawing, will be given by the same experienced old woman was hastily scrubbing the pose that the depth is unfathomable, and she describes, with all the animation of saw or heard any thing that was enter-DRAWING, will be given by the same experienced and well-qualified Teachers who have formerly stone floor, and strewing it thickly over that it conceals more than forty people an eye-witness, the struggle of the victims taining on the stage, to let him and the with equal haste to be thrusting something sucks them in like a leach !" large and heavy into an immense chest, which they carefully locked. The boy, in a frelicsome mood, thoughtlessly tapped at the window, when they all instant- son made her a sign to be silent, and have remained untasted by mortal lips, ly started up with consternation so strong- pointed to the door where their trembling and that the solitary traveller is still purly depicted on their countenances, that he auditor was concealed; while the other, sued at night by the howling of the blood shrunk back involuntarily with an under with an expression of brutal ferocity, hound, it is then only that it is possible fined feeling of apprehension; but before passed his bloody knife across his throat. fully to appreciate the terrors of THE ance; not a tree varied the prospect-not which made his heart thrill with appre- noise or difficulty. This betokens good, ited the scene before, except a few rude huts shed a single tear if I died this very fled-let toose the blood-hound."

as inquiry became stricter, and the disap- pect; the curtains seemed to have been sion. pearance of individuals more frequent, violently torn down from the bed, and At his fullest speed, the terrified boy gainst the Major for contempt of the the simple inhabitants of the neighboring still hung in tatters around it-the table fell with violence over a heap of stones, hamlet were agitated by the most fearful seemed to have been broken by some vi- and having nothing on but his shirt, he terror and affeight with which their hosts agitated slumbers, by what sounded to him like a cry of distress; he was broad awake in a moment, and sat up in bed,but the noise was not repeated, and he only been a continuation of the fearful images which had disturbed his rest. when, on glancing at the door, he obserblood silently stealing its course along the floor. Frantic with alarm, it was but the work of a moment to spring from his bed, and rush to the door, through a clink of which, his eye nearly dimmed with affright he could watch unsuspected

> His fear vanished instantly when he of his groundless apprehensions, when his ear was arrested by a conversation

yesterday," said the man who held the goat. "I wish all the throats we've cut were as easily and quietly done. Did you ever hear such a noise as the old gentleman made last night! It was well we had no neighbor within a dozen miles, or they must have heard his eries for help and mercy "

"Don't speak of it," replied the other "I was never fond of bloodshed." "Ha! ha!" said the other, with a sneer vou say so, do you?" " I do," answered the first gloomily; the Murder Hole is the thing for methat tells no tales-a single scuffle-a single plunge-and the fellow is dead and buried to your hands in a moment. I would defy all the officers in Christendom to discover any mischief there.

with sand, while her two sons seemed who have met their deaths there?—it grasping the grass as a last hope of pre- gentleman with him know of it; "for you

he had time to reflect a moment longer. The pedlar boy possessed a bold and MURDER HOLE. one of the men suddenly darted out at the daring spirit, which was now roused to door, and seizing the boy roughly by the desperation; but in any open resistance ing to Lord Cassilis between Ayrshire shoulder, dragged him violently into the the odds were so completely against him, and Galloway, about three hundred years cottage. "I am not what you take me that flight seemed his best resource. He ago, a moor of apparently boundless ex- for," said the boy, attempting to laugh! gently stole to the window, and having the following information: tent stretched several miles along the road, "but only the poor pedlar who visited by one desperate effort broke the rusty and wearied the eye of the traveller by vou last year." "Are you alone?" in- bolt by which the casement had been the sameness and desolation of its appear- quired the old woman, in a harsh tone, fastened, he let himself down without a shrub enlivened the eye by its freshness hension. "Yes," said the boy; "I am a thought he, pausing an instant in dread--nor a native flower bloomed to adorn this lone here; and alas!" he added, with a ful hesitation what direction to take.ungenial soil. One "lonesome desert" burst of uncontrollable feeling, "I am alone This momentary deliberation was fear-Mrs. Hooper's School, reached the horizon on every side, with in the wide world also! Not a person fully interrupted by the hoarse voice of nothing to mark that any mortal had vis- exists who would assist me in distress, or the men calling aloud, "The boy has that were scattered near its centre; and a night." "Then you are welcome;" said These words sunk like a death-knell road or rather a pathway, for those whom one of the men with a sneer, while he on his heart, for escape appeared now business or necessity obliged to pass in cast a glance of peculiar expression at the impossible, and his nerves seeined to melt away like wax in a furnace. Shall and requesting a surrender of the file of wild region had always been, it became It was with a shiver of apprehension, ra- I perish without a strugglet thought he, soldiers who were present at the killing still more gloomy. Strange rumours a- ther than of cold, that the boy drew towards rousing himself to exertion, and, helpless of Owens to the Sheriff of Russel county. rose, that the path of unwary travellers the fire, and the looks which the old wo- and terrified as a hare pursued by its in order that an investigation might be had been beset on this "blasted heath," man and her sons exchanged, made him ruthless hunters, he fled across the heath had, and at the same time forwarded the respectfully inform their friends and the public and that treachery and murder had inter- wish that he had preferred the shelter of Soon the baying of the blood-hound broke Globe of 24th, August, which contains an cepted the solitary stranger as he traver- any one of the roofless cottages which the stillness of the night, and the voice article stating that the commander at the sed its dreary extent. When several per- were scattered near, rather than trust of its masters sounded through the moor, Fort had instructions to aid the State in sons, who were known to have passed himself among persons of such dubious as they endeavored to accelerate its speed, the investigation. To this request, the that way, mysteriously disappeared, the aspect. Dreadful surmises flitted across panting and breathless the boy pursued commander replied that he had received inquiries of their relatives led to a strict his brain; and terrors which he could his hopeless career, but every moment no such instructions, and that he would and anxious investigation; but though the neither combat nor examine impercepti- his pursuers seemed, to gain upon his officers of justice were sent to scour the bly stole into his mind; but alone, and failing steps. The hound was unimperception of his lawcountry, and examine the inhabitants, not beyond the reach of assistance, he resol- ded by the darkness which was to him ful duty. Process was then issued out a trace could be obtained of the persons ved to smother his suspicions, or at least so impenetrable, and its noise rung loud. for certain soldiers and suspected persons in question, nor of any place of conceal- not increase the danger by revealing er and deeper on his ear-while the lan- in the Fort, but without success; the Mament which could be a refuge for the law- them. The room to which he retired for terns which were carried by the men less or the desperate to horde in. Yet, the night had a confused and desolate as gleamed near and distinct upon his vi-

> apprehensions. Some declared that the olent concussion, and the fragments of was severely cut in every limb. With death-like stillness of the night was often various pieces of furniture lay scattered one cry to Heaven for assistance, he coninterrupted by sudden and perpetual cries upon the floor. The boy begged that a tinued prostrate on the earth, bleeding, of more than mortal anguish, which seem- light might burn in his apartment till he and nearly insensible. The hoarse voices ed to arise in the distance; and a shep- was asleep, and anxiously examined the of the men, and the still louder baying of this state of things, and upon the affidaherd one evening, who had lost his way fastenings of the door; but they seemed the dog, were now so near, that instant vit of the Sheriff, that the force of the on the moor, declared he had approached to have been wrenched asunder on some destruction seemed inevitable,-already county was inadequate to serve process on three mysterious figures, who seemed former occasion, and were still left rusty he felt himself in their fangs, and the persons in the Fort, that the presiding bloody knife of the assassin appeared to Judge despatched a messenger to the but at length his senses began to "steep of affright" that seemed verging towards Gradually the inhabitants deserted their themselves in forgetfulness," though his madness, he rushed forward so rapidly dwellings on the heath and settled in dis- imagination remained painfully active, that terror seemed to have given wings tant quarters, till at length but one of the and presented new scenes of terror to his to his feet. A loud cry near the spot he had left arose on his ears without suspenold woman and her two sons, who loud- He fancied himself again wandering on ding his flight. The hound had stopped ly lamented that poverty chained them to the heath, which appeared to be peopled at the place where the Pedlar's wounds this solitary and mysterious spot. Tra- with spectres, who all beckoned to him bled so profusedly, and deeming the chase vellers who frequented this road now ge- not to enter the cottage, and as he ap- now over, it lay down there, and could nerally did so in groups to protect each proached it, they vanished with a hollow not be induced to proceed; in vain the other; and if night overtook them, they and despairing cry. The scene then men beat it with frantic violence, and tried of the country, and set the laws and the usually stopped at the humble cottage of changed, and he found himself again sea- again to put the hound on the scent,the old woman and her sons, where clean- ted by the fire, where the countenances the sight of blood had satisfied the aniliness compensated for the want of luxu- of the men scowled upon him with the mal that its work was done, and with ry, and where, over a blazing fire of peat, most terrifying malignity, and he thought | dogged resolution it resisted every inducethe bolder spirits smiled at the imaginary the old woman suddenly seized him by ment to pursue the same scent a second terrors of the road, and the more timid the arms, and pinioned them to his side, time. The pedlar boy in the meantime trembled as they listenened to the tales of Suddenly the boy was startled from these paused not in his flight till morning dawned-and still as he fled, the noise of steps seemed to pursue him, and the cry of his assassins still sounded in the distance. endeavored to persuade himself it had spread instant alarm throughout the neighborhood-the inhabitants were aroused with one accord into a tumult of indignation-several of them had lost ved underneath it a broad red stream of sons, brothers, or friends on the heath, Tuesday, that it is perfect folly to attriand all united in proceeding instantly bute the accidents that occur on board of to seize the old woman and her sons, Steamboats, to anything but carelessness. who were nearly torn to peices by their There are as many steam engines in the violence. Three gibbets were immedi- heart of this city, as there are Steamboats ately raised on the moor, and the wretch- on the waters adjacent to it, and yet we. ed culprits confessed before their execu- can recollect but three explosions; one a whatever might be done in the adjoining tion to the destruction of nearly fifty vic- long time ago at the Manhattan Works, pointed out, and near which they suffered late one at the Dry dock. All these are perceived it was only a goat that they the penalty of their crimes. The bones attributable and attributed to carelessness, had been slaughtering; and he was a of several murdered persons were with and if good engineers be employed on bout to steal into his bed again, ashamed difficulty brought up from the abyss into board of Steamboats, prudent men, who which they had been thrust; but so nar- will not put as much steam upon their row is the aperture, and so extraordinary boilers as they think they can about bear, which transfixed him aghast with terror the depth, that all who see it are inclined no more danger can result on board, than "This is an easier job than you had people that it is unfathomable. The shore. We trust the suggestion we pubas it was 300 years ago. The remains ripened by able persons, and that before spirits,) and the extensive moor, on which of its inhabitants; the landlord is deformwhich he plays with untaught skill .- pale of danger, -N. Y. Standard, and if any discord be heard in the house or any murder committed in it, this is his only instrument. His daughter (who has at the back of the front boxes at Conventnever travelled beyond the heath) has in- Garden Theatre, with a gentleman of she relates with infinite spirit; but when stood before him, whose person, being you are led by her across the heath to large, covered the sight of the stage "Ay, Nature did us a good turn when drop a stone into that deep and narrow from him. Kean took fire at this, but she contrived such a place as that. Who gulf to which our story relate-when managing his temper, he patted the boxthat saw a hole in the heath, filled with you stand on its slippery edge, and (parting lobby gentleman on the shoulder with clear water, and so small that the long the long grass with which it is covered) his walking stick, and with much seemhabitants at their several occupations; the grass meets over the top of it, would sup-

PROM THE MONTGOMERY, ALA. ADVERTISES. The Case of Owens -The Columbus, Geo. Enquirer, of Saturday last, contains

"The Superior Court for Russell county, Alabama, has been, during most of the week, employed in investigating the murder of Owens-Judge Harris presiding. The Solicitor General, Col. Pickett, has been employed in ferreting out the testimony, which was exceedingly difficult to come at, as it appears no persons were immediately present, but the detachment of troops who were concerned in the murder: we learn that the Solicitor addressed a letter to the commander of the Fort, Major McIntosh, stating the difficulty. jor informing the Sheriff upon a demand being made, that he would not give up a man. An attachment was then issued a-Court, which was also disobeyed, the Sheriff returning that he could not take the Major without danger of his life.

"It appears also that a subpoena was issued for Lt. Manning and served, but he also refused to obey it. We learn under for murder have been found against divers Soldiers at the Fort, and also against other individuals who were concerned in the transaction. "It now remains to be seen whether the military authority is to control the civil. Here is a handful of United States soldiers within the border of the State who hold themselves above the laws

In addition to the above, we copy the following from the Columbus Democrat of the same date:

"Next week we understand the United States' Troops take up the line of march from Fort Mitchell, to expel the intruders upon public lands in the Creek Territory. The intruders, it is said, are determined Ten miles off he reached a village, and to keep possession while the commander at Fort Mitchell has positive orders to remove them. Time will show us the

We agree with an evening paper of tims in the Murder Hole which they Mac Queen's, a year or so ago, and the to coincide in the tradition of the country has resulted from the use of them ou scene of these events still continues nearly lished vesterday, will be considered and of the old cottage, with its blackened walls. the close of the next session of the Le-(haunted of course by a thousand evil gislature, a commission may issue to such men as Mr. Robert Stevens, Mr. Allaire a more modern inn (if it can be dignified and others in our city, who have both with such an epithet) resembles its pre- knowledge and experience in these matdecessor in every thing but the character ters. We are satisfied the public would consider their lives, when entrusted to ed but possesses extraordinary genius; persons who should bear a commission he has himself manufactured a violin, on signed with their names, as out of the

Anecdote of Kean .- Sitting one night herited her father's talent, and learnt all his acquaintance, one of the under-bred his tales of terror and superstition, which box-lobby loungers of the present day servation, and trying to drag in their as see, my dear sir," added Kean, "that at