Pittsborough Academy, N.C. FRIRE Trustees of this Institution take great Pleasure in announcing to the friends of BARRELS Mess Pork, education throughout the State, that they have engaged the valuable services of Mr. J. M. Lovejoy to take charge of this Acad my. The Trustees have received very flattering testimo nials, (both as regards his qualifications as a teacher, and his habits as a gemieman,) from several gentlemen of Greenville, N. U. where, in consequence of the sickliness of the chmate. Mr. Lovejoy has been compelled to abandon a very flourishing school, numbering about seventy boys; which, in addition to letters received from Greenville, is an evidence of the estimation in which this gentleman was held as an instructor. Mr Lovejoy is a graduate, is said to be a first rate mathematician and linguist, and (what is of great importance,) is said to possess the rate faculty of imparting knowledge with facility. The course of instruction in the Pittsborough Academy will embrace all the lower and higher branches of education, including Latin, Greek, and French. It is designed to make this, as it is believed it will become, a first rate Preparatory School, for such as are desirous of entering either of the classes of the University. The first session of the school will commence on the 4th Monday of July inst. Board can be had in respectable families at $10 a month. Tuition at the ordinary 4 HHDS. superior Quality Sugar,

It is unnecessary to speak of the great advantages Pittsborough offers in point of health and society, as it is believed they are superior to those of any town in North Carolina.

M. Q. WADDELL, Secretary to Trustees 132 5w July 11th, 1838. The Edenton Gazette, Tarborough Free Press, and Elizabeth City Phonix will publish the above till the 1st September, and forward their accounts to the Postmaster at Pittsborough for payment.

Good wine needs no bush," and good verses no praise. Our readers of taste will agree with us in calling the following, by Lieut. Patien, poetry-real poetry: THE TWO VOICES.

BY LIEUT. O. W. PATTEN, U. S. ARMY. TWO voices swelled alliwart the lea, I listened while they sang; One soit as lute on summer sea, One harch as trumpet's clang.

Daughter, rest, I smooth thy pillow,-Lay thy head upon it, sweet; Here doth never roll the billow, Here the drum may never beat; Light of war will ne'er come o'er thee, Sound of conflict rend thy breast, But, thy Father's lips before thee,

Daughter, rest! No thorn shall wound thee, 'Mid thy dream of roses wild, Mother's arm is clasped around thee, Mother rocks her widowed child. Sleep, the weary heid is folded, Drowsy birds have sought their nest, Hush! the song which father moulded, Dies in slience-daughter, rest!

Two voices swelled athwart the lea, I listened while they saing, One soft as lute on summer sea,

Forward! 'mid the battle's hum, Roughly rolls the daring drum; Victory; with her hurried breath Calls ye, from her mouths of death, War, with hand of crimson stain, Waves ye to the front again; Onward! ere the field is won-Forward! ere the fight is done.

Forward! raise the banner high! Toss its spangles to the sky, Let its Eagle, reeking red, Float above the foeman's head, Let its stripes of red and white, Blind again his dazzled sight. Onward! ere the field is won-Forward! ere the fight is done.

Urge the steed, and loose the rein; Spur! amid the rattling peal! Charge! amid the storm of steel. Cowards watch the strife of men. Onward! ere the field is won-Onward! ere the fight is done. Suwanee, Florida.
