WESTON R. GALES-EDITOR AND P. OPRIETOR. To be published, after the first day of January: 1840, twice at week at Fire Dollars, and once a week at Three Dollars per annum.

THE REGISTER is the oldest newspaper in North Carolina, and has been published under the same name, in this City, ever since the year 1799, during the whole of which time it has been either under the control of the present Editor or his father. Having taken charge of its columns, at an early period of life the present Editor has endeavoured fearlessly to assume all the responsibilities of his sta tion, and to fulfil, to the best of his abilities, the Agents-The Life Medicines may also be obligations which devolved upon him. The con mil of the principal druggists in every town tinued, and constantly increasing support of a genethroughout the Uhand States and the Canadas. rous community, leads him to hope that he has not altogether fai ed in his efforts, and that his labor has not been in vain. Located at the Seat of Government of the State. the RESISTER has decided advantages in obtaining and dissemminating early and important information. I nconnected also, in any way, either with the State or National Government, and not dependent, in the slightest degree, upon any patronage, other than that derived from its subscriptions, its course is entirely FREE and INDEPENDENT. Its highest ambition is to support the cause of the

The political character of the REGISTEN isknown. It is; generally, opposed to the course of policy, the measures and the principles of the present Admir istration. But the politics of the present day, and the movements of the present parties, are not alone the objects of discussion and solicitude. The eyo of the Patriot is turned auxiously to the future; and to maintain the honor, welfare and happiness of the Country, important PHINCIPLES are to be sustained. Those principles, in our judgment, are—the preservation of the Union of the States! the maintenance of the Rights of the States; economy, simplicity and accountability in the Administration of the Government; a jealous watchfulness of all power, and ESPECIALLY, of Executive power; and a regard to virtue, honor & merit, in the selection of men, called upon to take a part in the administration of public affairs.

In furnishing the readers of the REGISTER with the news of the day, the Editor steks to be concise and accurate. The Proceedings of the STATE LEGISLATURE will be published in detail, and the doings of Congress will be given, divested of the mass of cumbrous matter which usually accompanies the daily Reports. The earliest information will also be given of all that relates to Internal Improvements, Agricultural, &c.

With these few brief remarks, this PROSPECTUS submitted to the Public.
