Works With a Fractured Skull.

About a week ago, a party of railroad hands got into a fight near the junction, and while Albert Hargrave and another negro were knocking each other, a Mecklenburg negro named Alex Williams took up a pick and dealt Hargrave a terrible blow on the forehead. The row finally quieted and Hargrave resumed work with the other hands, working until sundown. Sunday and Monday he remained in bed from the effects of the blow, but Tuesday and Wednesday he was at work again. Thursday he was seized with opisthotonos, or jerking back of the head and had a series of fits. Dr. Wilder was summoned to attend him, and found that the blow from the pick had fractured Hargrave's skull in a bad manner. Dr. Wilder gave Hargrave all the attention possible, and sent him to his home in Lexington, where he could be cared for, with instructions to go to Dr. Payne of that place for treatment. Williams has been arrested and lodged in jail to await the result of Hargrave's injuries. Williams and Hargrave had a difficulty some days before, and Williams seeing Hargrave in a fight with the other negro took advantage of the opportunity and struck Hargrave down with the pick.

The fact of Hargrave working and going about his business as usual, with a fractured skull, is considered by the medical fraternity a wonderful case, and one almost without a parallel.—Charlotte Observer.

We read of snakes being discovered in the boots of Bacchanalians, but it remained for Bro. Ward, of the Edenton "Enquirer" to tackle the man who found a weasel in his boot. He did not come into possession of this fact, however, until three of his toes were nearly gnawed off.—Tarboro Guide.

A TOOTH PULLED BY A LOCOMOTIVE.—Jim Jones a colored urchin, generally seen hanging about the depot, has been laid up several days with a tooth. This morning he appeared with a swollen jaw, and a long string tied to his tooth. Just before the Danville train left he tied the other end of the string to the rear car. When the train started he ran along behind it until it had gathered headway, when he dropped on his knees. The train carried the tooth off.—Greensboro Patriot.

A North Carolina merchant recently called for green corn in a New York restaurant and when he had to pay twenty cents an ear, he said gracious alive, twenty cents an ear for corn, and one hundred and twenty ears to the bushel, makes twenty-four dollars a bushel for corn. Argument was of no avail.

We learn from the Pamlico "Enterprise" that the old Court House built, in Beaufort, North Carolina in 1724, a wooden structure, is still standing and is now used as a dwelling house.

Hon. J. C. Scarborough has been appointed by acting Governor Robinson, a special Commissioner from North Carolina to attend the National Conference of Charities and Corrections to be held in Louisville, Ky., on the 24th inst.—Raleigh Visitor.

Greensboro Patriot: The tax levied for the stock law, in what is known as the eastern section, has been fixed at 50 cents on the $100 valuation of real estate—personal property and poll exempt.—The crowd was immense at Muir's Chapel camp meeting Sunday. Able sermons were preached by Revs. C. C. Dondson and T. H. Pegram.
