A Charlotte special to the Petersburg "Mail" says: Yesterday two white girls, Mary Loraine and Sarah Lace, one of them very comely, deliberately left their homes with coal black negroes. The parents and brothers of the girls got on the track of the fugitives and armed with shot guns pursued them hotly for a few hours. The brother of one of the girls got within five hundred yards of her. She was riding behind her dusky lover on the same horse. The brother hailed them and raised his gun to shoot the negro but desisted for fear of killing his sister. They were better mounted, and the horse with the double load distanced the pursuers. One of the gentle couple was arrested on the outskirts of Rockingham, and there is now strong talk of lynching the man. Nine cases of this kind have occurred in six months, and all in the same section of the country, white women in each case running off with negro men.

We are informed by Mr. A. B. Chesnut that probably the first post office ever established in Sampson county was at Mr. Blackman Crumpler's place, a few miles west of Clinton. It was established somewhere from 1820 to 1824. In those days letter writing was either a luxury or a necessity. Postage was ten cents for a sealed letter 30 miles, and more in proportion to distance, up to 25 cents anywhere in the U. S. Think of the difference. Now we send a letter anywhere in the country for 3 cents, and in less than 15 days it will cost only 2 cents. While this is so with us, our sister republic of Mexico is reducing her domestic postage from 25 cents to 10 cents.—Clinton Caucasian.

It is said that Charles Reade, the famous English novelist, is engaged in writing a series of lives of the patriarchs of Scripture.

A new lock for mail pouches will go into use simultaneously with the new two-cent letter postage stamp on Oct. 1. Fifty thousand keys have been sent out to postmasters and other persons authorized to have them. They were sent in separate registered envelopes, and every one of them reached its destination. Two hundred thousand of the new locks have been distributed. They are of corrugated steel, and are lighter and are said to be stronger than those now in use.

The Comptroller of the Currency says that our total circulation is $1,575,000,000, of which $831,757,000 is paper and $743,347,000 is coin. All of this, however, is not in the hands of the people.

Gov. Knott has designated October 12 as the day for the execution of Ellis Craft, who was twice found guilty of the murder of the Gibbons children at Ashland, Ky.

A Mississippi farmer has discovered that a good article of sugar can be obtained from the sweet potato. Perhaps this will open up a new industry in the South Atlantic and Gulf States.

The German Lutheran Theological Seminary, in St. Louis, known as Concordia College, was dedicated last Sunday. It is the highest institution of learning in the Lutheran Church.

A boat modelled after the old "Maid of the Mist" passed safely through Niagara whirlpool, in the presence of 40,000 people.

There will be two thousand different articles from North Carolina on exhibition at the Boston exhibit.

The wheat crop of Kansas is estimated at 35,000,000 bushels; and the corn crop at 200,000,000.
