VIENNA PRESS CHARGES PLOT TO GRIP STATE

Reign of Terror Was to Follow Nazi Coup, Is Semi-Official View

AUSTRIAN PREMIER IS HURRYING HOME

VIENNA, June 14.—(UP).—A Nazi plot to inaugurate a reign of terror in Austria as a coup to seize power was charged today by the newspaper Oesterreichische Abendblatt as the government prepared more drastic measures for the suppression of the Austrian branch of Adolf Hitler's party. The paper is regarded as a semi-official organ. Relations between Germany and Austria, once so close that a union of the two nations was considered possible, were today at the breaking point.

BERLIN DEPORTING AUSTRIAN ATTACHE

BERLIN, June 14.—(UP).—The government today ordered the deportation of Erwin Wasserschlag, attache of the Austrian legation. The official statement made with regard to the deportation order said that the grounds of action was Austria's disregard of the extra-territorial rights in the arrest at Vienna of Theodor Habicht, German press officer.

VIENNA, Austria, June 14.—(UP).

Diplomatic relations between Austria and Nazi Germany were strained near the breaking point last night following the government's sweeping campaign designed to eliminate the Nazi party entirely from the country. Police, after occupying Nazi headquarters throughout Austria on cabinet orders, proceeded with wholesale arrests. They examined upward of 3,000 Nazis all over the country in the intensive campaign, and held 400, of whom some 10 per cent were Germans. Among the German citizens arrested was Theodore Habicht, a member of the Reichstag in Berlin who has been living in Austria with the title of "Inspector General of the Austrian Nazis." Chancellor Adolf Hitler, at Berlin, informed of Habicht's arrest, dispatched a sharp protest to the Austrian government which the German minister in Vienna handed the foreign office last evening. The protest claimed diplomatic extraterritorial privileges for Habicht, and demanded his release. Habicht, in jail, meanwhile be-

PLAN TO FIGHT TAX ON SALES

Charlotte Men Retain Lawyer; Will Contest Constitutionality

CHARLOTTE, June 14.—The Charlotte Retail Grocers association, meeting last night with about 100 members present, agreed to contest the North Carolina sales tax law and employed Basil M. Boyd, one of Mecklenburg's three representatives at the recent general assembly, to take the fight to the courts. Late last night Mr. Boyd said he had accepted the employment and would begin immediately a study of the case with the view of asking within the next few days for a restraining order preventing A. J. Maxwell, state commissioner of revenue, from collecting the tax when the law goes into effect July 1. "I don't know ye' where we will start," said Mr. Boyd, who in the general assembly was one of the sales tax law's most bitter enemies. "It just depends upon which court we figure will give us earliest action, the state court or the federal court." Mr. Boyd declared that recently the Illinois state supreme court, looked upon as one of the ablest state supreme courts in the United States, had held the Illinois sales tax law to be unconstitutional. The Illinois law and the North Carolina law are very much alike, said he, and the decision of the Illinois court seems to indicate that the North Carolina law may be found by this state's chief tribunal to be a violation of the national constitution.

QUICK ACTION UNDER U. S. RECOVERY BILL IS URGED

Details of Bank, Recovery Bills As Passed, Given

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP).—Salient points of two vital pieces of legislation finally approved yesterday by congress, follow: INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY BILL 1. A $3,300,000,000 public works program under control of a board of three members appointed by the president. 2. Issuance of bonds to finance the public works program and the levying of $220,000,000 annually in taxes to take care of the interest and sinking fund charges on the bonds. 3. Provision that the federal government shall co-operate with industry to fix minimum wages, maximum working hours and fair trade practices. Each industry formulates its own code and allots production among various units of the industry. The code drawn up by the industry becomes the law. In case any units of the industry refuse to abide by the law the president is empowered to institute a licensing system for the units. By withholding a license he then can drive the rebellious unit out of business.

GLASS-STEAGALL BILL

County Relief Work Results Are Gratifying, Check Up Indicates

A check-up of the relief work being done in Henderson county through the 5-10 Year Farm organization shows most gratifying results, it was reported at a joint meeting of the farm committee and women's auxiliary committee on last Saturday. Supervisors of relief gardens, seeds and fertilizers for many of which have been furnished through the governor's office of relief, report that efficient results are being obtained in the majority of these plots. Unseasonable dry weather has made it difficult to keep things growing as well as expected, but with the rains of the past few days, the outlook is much better. The garden plots planted by the county to furnish produce for use in relief work, are making splendid showing. Twelve acres

VETERANS PAY CUTS RENEWED HOUSE ISSUE

Bitter Debate on This May Prolong Session to End of Week

IMPORTANT BILLS ENACTED TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP). The senate today adopted the administration's veterans compensation amendment. WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP). A drive to keep congress in session until the present war debt crisis is settled spread to the house today where Representative McFadden, Republican of Pennsylvania, headed a determined effort to prevent adjournment. WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP). The dispute over veterans' appropriations, sole remaining hurdle in the fight for congressional adjournment, was thrown back to the house today. House conferees disagreed on the senate Black amendment to the independent offices bill, raising the veterans' appropriations by $1,000,000, and decided to let the house vote on the question.

WASHINGTON, June 14. (UP).

President Roosevelt's hope that congress would adjourn last night was blasted when another senate deadlock was reached on veterans compensation that sent the bill back to conference with the house. The senate recessed at 8:10 p. m. after Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, succeeded in putting through a motion to recommit the independent offices bill, which carries the veterans appropriation. Mr. Roosevelt had hoped leaders would be able to conclude the special session last night to remove any possibility of embarrassment to the American delegates to the world economic conference. National C. of C. Head Sees Act as Biggest Rehabilitation Step

WASHINGTON, June 14 (UP). An appeal to American business men to act quickly to take advantage of the new national industrial recovery act was made by Henry I. Harriman, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, an hour after the measure had been sent to the White House. "Passage of the act constitutes a most important step in our progress toward business rehabilitation," said Harriman. "It should begin immediately to bring about a large measure of re-employment and an increase in buying power throughout the country. The act will permit legitimate business to lift itself above the destructive competition which has prevented recovery and which has been threatening to bring about complete economic demoralization." As this vital measure left congress and neared enactment, other business and industrial leaders leaped into action. Robert I. Lund, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said: "Industry has a right to be encouraged by this action. It will now have an opportunity to police itself against ruthless competition in the form of unregulated price cutting." He urged manufacturers give their whole-hearted co-operation to administrators of the measure and to the president. In the midst of the enthusiasm that greeted the final congressional action on the bill, came a sober note from John B. Elliott, president of the National Independent Petroleum Association opposed to monopoly. He wired President Roosevelt from Trinidad, Colo., suggesting care in administration of the bill to prevent a possible monopoly in the oil business.

Bealle Passes the Lie to Reynolds

Washington news stories received here today stated that Morris Bealle, editor of Plain Talk had passed the "lie" to Senator R. R. Reynolds, following his first speech in the senate yesterday in which he declared, in apologizing publicly to Senators Bailey and Robinson, Democratic floor leader, that he had not read copy of a speech, delivered in High Point by Morris Bealle, and containing an attack on these two senators. The speech was inserted in the Congressional Record at the request of Senator Reynolds, who afterward said that he had not read it. Bealle declared that the two sat down together and went over the speech, and that some changes were made in it before it was sent to the printer. Bealle will be remembered here as the managing editor of the former Hendersonville Times, under the ownership of LeRoy Sargent. LEGION WILL MEET A very important meeting of the American Legion will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the new Legion clubhouse on North Main street. Commander L. B. Prince declared today that the meeting would discuss important business, and he urges all members to be present.

'NEW DEAL' BEER LOSES IN FEDERAL TEST IN GEORGIA

Court Challenges Congress to Define 3.2 Beer Non-Intoxicating By GARNETT D. HORNER United Press Staff Correspondent ATLANTA, June 14.—(UP). "New deal" beer lost its first federal court test case in "bone dry" Georgia yesterday. A decision here by U. S. District Judge E. Marvin Underwood challenged the power of congress to define 3.2 beer as not intoxicating. Such a definition "is not binding upon states nor upon federal courts in civil cases where violation of the 18th amendment is an issue, if such liquor is as a matter of fact intoxicating," Judge Underwood ruled. Persons transporting the 3.2 beverage through a "dry" state must prove that "it is non-intoxicating in fact," he held. The decision denied a petition by R. P. Richmire, Jacksonville, Fla., truck operator, to enjoin Sheriff E. M. Legg of Cobb county, Ga., from interfering with his trucks transporting beer from Tennessee to Florida. The case will be appealed, his attorneys said. Richmire also sought release of a truck and 220 cases of beer, consigned from Nashville, Tenn., to Jacksonville, confiscated by Sheriff Legg last month. The sheriff contended it was his duty to seize the shipment because a Georgia law forbids transportation of any beverage containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol. Richmire's petition contended the federal act legalizing 3.2 beer made it a recognized article of interstate commerce, with which a state through which it was transported had no right to interfere. Judge Underwood ruled that congress and the states have continued power to enforce the 18th amendment "as they see fit." Since the case at issue was a civil action, he held the burden was upon the plaintiff to prove the beverage "was not intoxicating in fact" under the Georgia law. "Finding as I do," the judge continued, "that the beer act does not authorize transportation of liquors, intoxicating in fact, in a state where the laws thereof make such transportation unlawful, and finding further that the laws of Georgia forbid the transportation and possession of beer of the character of that involved in this suit, and the plaintiff who has come into the court of equity asking for permanent relief has

Hope to Start New Highway Work In North Carolina in a Few Days

The Times-News Bureau Raleigh, June 14.—Now that congress has finally passed the emergency public works bill, in which $4,000,000,000 is made available for highway construction in the various states, North Carolina's share of this money should be available within a week or 10 days, Chairman E. B. Jeffress of the state highway commission believes. Indications are that this state's allotment will be approximately $10,000,000, if the money is allotted on the basis that has been used in the past. "If the powers that be in Washington move as quickly as we think they will, we should know enough about what we are to get and what we will be able to do with this money to start letting contracts by July 1," Jeffress said today. "That should make it possible for some of this new construction work to get started by July 15 or 20 at the latest. Most of the contractors in the state have their organizations ready to go to work on a few days' notice, so there will not be any delay from that angle." The first thing that must be learned from Washington are the rules and regulations that must be set up governing the expenditure of this federal money on highway construction and other public works, Jeffress said. Indications are that these new regulations will be based upon the regulations that have governed the federal aid emergency road building program for the past year. It is expected that these (Continued on page six)

KEYNOTE SPEECH OF CHIEF AMERICAN DELEGATE PLEA AGAINST LOCAL FAVORITISM

Address Creates Good Impression; Absence of Delegation from Plenary Session Makes Conferees Uneasy

LONDON, June 14.—(UP).—Cordell Hull, secretary of state and head of the United States delegation to the World Economic Conference today solemnly warned the conference against selfish obstruction of the conference's work. In his eagerly awaited keynote speech Secretary Hull said if any nation obstructs the conference with "a short-sighted notion that some of its favored local interests may temporarily profit while thus indefinitely delaying aid for the distressed in every country, then that nation would merit the execration of mankind. "The cherished idea of the extreme type of isolationist that each nation singly can by bootstrap methods lift itself out of the trouble that surrounds it has proved fruitless," he said.
