GREEN CALLS FOR 30-HOUR WORKING WEEK

Answer to F. R. View Unemployment Cannot Be Permanent

MANUFACTURERS' TRUCE IS REJECTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The American Federation of Labor opened its annual convention yesterday with President William Green thundering demands for a six-hour day and five-day week.

Green's answer to President Roosevelt's declaration that this country cannot continue itself to recognizing the existence of a permanent body of unemployed.

Green agreed with the President and offered his demand as a "short-term remedy." He attacked the National Manufacturers' association, charging it advised members to ignore the National Industrial Board sustaining labor's right to bargain collectively.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(UP)—The National Association of Manufacturers last night issued its answer to President Roosevelt's address, demanding a truce in industrial warfare and the maintenance of the status quo of employment relations.

The association challenged the American Federation of Labor, to bring forth a similar acceptance.

"Undoubtedly the public recognition by the President in his talk that the nation must have a fair and equitable system of fair play and through the process of individual initiative," said a statement by the association, "will be a helpful factor in supplying the confidence in the future which is essential for business recovery."

The statement recalled the "peace agreement" to which the Samuel Gompers, then president of the A. F. of L., was a party during the World War.

"The employers of the nation welcome the proclamation of this similar to that during the war in which neither group, or the government, will attempt to base upon the existing relationships by means and challenges organized labor to bring forth a similar acceptance from its convention in 1935."

The statement said union leaders have gone steadily ahead, making one strike after another with the sole objective of gaining recognition of their unions in fact, by their own statements, more than 4,000,000 workers are unemployed.

"The President," it asserts, "is assured that employers, with a stake in recovery, are desirous of seeing this situation ended. They will co-operate to the extent to obtain peace. They are ready to join, as the President has urged, in setting aside the weapons of industrial warfare. If peace may be used at all, until the normal period following the existing emergency."

In conclusion, the association says that "in the formulation of any further legislation, consideration be given to the system adopted in Great Britain of making employers legally responsible in every way for their acts."

GREEN FOR LABOR, REJECTS CHALLENGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2. (UP)—William Green of the American Federation of Labor last night rejected a challenge of the National Manufacturers' association to accept the President's proposal for an industrial truce.

Green branded the challenge "unimpressive" and added: "At such time as the National Association of Manufacturers announces its willingness to comply with the rulings of the National Industrial Board, we will set up a committee to advise the government under the NRA, which rulings it has defied, no one will pay heed to its proposals or challenges."

Frank Morrison, secretary of the A. F. of L., asked: "What do they mean by a 'truce' that thousands of cases of unemployment go uncorrected? That we are to abandon the collective bargaining through which the President has asked us to proceed?"

A New Type "Detective Hero"

Writers of mystery fiction, casting about for a new kind of detective hero, probably never thought of a "wood technologist." But that's the profession of Arthur Koehler, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, pictured above in the real-life detective role which he enjoys in the Lindbergh kidnaping case. He is examining the lumber from Bruno Hauptmann's demolished garage in seeking further evidence to link the Bronx carpenter with the actual abduction of the Lindbergh baby. QUIZ IN CRASH IS POSTPONED

Inquiry in Crossing Accident Goes Over to Saturday Morning

A coroner's inquest into the deaths of five men who died as a result of injuries received when a Southern Railway locomotive crashed into a state highway department truck on Monday, Sept. 24, today was postponed until Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The postponement was due to the fact that several witnesses were unable to be present at the inquest this afternoon.

The five men who died after the crash were Jacob Hill, Fred Liverett, Jack Levi, W. L. Owen, and David S. Morrison. Bill of the collision occurred at the Seventh and crossing shortly before 7 o'clock.

SUIT AGAINST CITY IS MADE EQUITY CAUSE

Action Enjoins Creditors From Filing Separate Actions

JUDGE WEBB SETS NOV. 12 FOR HEARING

Judge E. Yates Webb of the federal court, has signed a consent decree which transfers the bond default suit of the Equitable Life Insurance company of Iowa, against the City of Hendersonville from the law to the equity side of the court docket, it was announced today.

The decree, which was signed last Friday by Judge Webb at Shelby, has the legal effect of restraining and enjoining all parties from instituting separate suits against the city on any of its funded indebtedness and requires any such parties to file their claims in the pending case.

It also provides that notice be published locally and in the Greensboro News, giving the various holders of bonds and notes notice of the pendency of the action and that they must file their claims within the proper time, and also provides for a hearing by any creditors so desiring before Judge Webb on November 12.

The suit of the life insurance company against the city was first filed in federal court in the amount of about $30,000 and interest past due. Answer to the suit, in which the defendant asked that the cause be made a matter of equity with respect to the city's creditors, was filed by J. E. Shipman, city attorney.

Mr. McCall invites all relatives in the connection to attend and urges them not to forget to provide themselves with ample picnic dinners for the occasion.

Trial Of Insull And Others Begun

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (UP)—The trial of Samuel Insull and 17 associates today started before Federal Judge James H. Wilke on charges of using the mails to defraud thousands of utility investors by offering to sell $143,000,000 corporation securities company stock.

Two former employees of Insull's vast financial empire were tentatively accepted as the first jurors.

FATE OF RECOVERY PROGRAM RESTS WITH SUPREME COURT AS FALL TERM IS CONVENED

Validity of Section 7-A of Code in Balance as Weirton Steel Defends Company Union at Wilmington, Del.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (UP).—One of the most momentous terms in the history of the U. S. supreme court was opened yesterday with a docket including cases which will put major phases of the administration's recovery program to a final constitutional test.

The 1934 term began with the traditional ceremonies. Before it ends some policies of the New Deal either will be placed beyond legal question or will be held unconstitutional.

The term also was made momentous by the fact that it will be the last held in the marble and gilt chamber in the capitol. Next fall the court will move into its white marble temple across the Capital Plaza.

Only eight justices attended the opening. Justice Willis C. Van Devanter was absent, due to the recent death of his wife. Members of the tribunal appeared in good health as they marched single file into the chamber.

The first session was brief and a recess was taken until Monday of next week.

Western North Carolina Field Trials Open Today; Bench Show Is Staged

FINAL RAIN IN SEPTEMBER GIVES EXCESS

2.60 Inches Fell on Saturday, and Average Temperature Over Normal

By T. W. VALENTINE
The weather summary, published in Saturday's issue of The Times-News, covered the September data up to 6 p. m., Friday, Sept. 28. Up to that time the mean temperature was about three degrees above September normal and the precipitation was about 30 per cent short of the normal pro rata.

The two remaining days of the month could not materially change the temperature for the month; but they could, and did, very materially change the precipitation figures. An extraordinarily heavy rain occurred Friday evening after 6 o'clock and when Saturday's observations were taken, the precipitation for the 24 hours amounted to 2.60 inches, thus changing the deficiency into an excess for the month.

The following table gives the data for September 29 and September 30, and the summary for the whole month:

Table with 5 columns: Date, Max, Min, Mean, Prec'n. Data for Sept 29, 30, and Summary for month.

Summary for month: Max., 87; min., 46; mean max., 81.3; mean min., 57.5; mean, 69.4. Mean daily range, 23.8; greatest daily range, 36; precipitation, 5.85 inches; normal mean temperature for September, 66.9; normal precipitation for September, 5.04.

Golden Valley Kennels and U. G. Patterson Entries Take First Honors

The seventh annual field trials held by the Western North Carolina Fox Hunters association will get underway today on Mt. Olive, three and a half miles southeast of Hendersonville, where the association has established camp for the trials which will continue through Friday.

Highways leading to the camp have been marked and a radio will be installed in order that those attending may hear the baseball results of the world series. The public is invited to attend the trials. The association is affiliated with the national association and trials are under the national rules.

Clarence Edney is president of the organization; A. P. Brannon is vice president; P. P. Brothers, assistant secretary, and U. G. Patterson, secretary and treasurer.

The seventh annual bench show was held yesterday at King street and Fourth avenue. Results of the bench show were as follows: George Penley Moore, owned by Golden Valley Kennels, was adjudged the best dog in the show, and Fleet, owned by U. G. Patterson, Hendersonville, was declared the best female.

COLLECTION OF CITY TAXES IS BEGUN TODAY

Rate of $1.60 on Each $100 Valuation Is Same as Last Year's

MAYOR APPOINTED PURCHASING AGENT

Although the total revenue anticipated for the several departments of city government had not been computed today, collection of 1934-'35 taxes was begun by R. R. Arledge, city clerk and tax collector, on the basis of a levy of $1.60 for each $100 of valuation.

This is the same rate that was in effect during the last fiscal year, Mayor A. V. Edwards saying that fixed operating costs, school expenses and debt service charges were such as to prohibit a change in the rate. The three principal levies comprising the total rate are: Operating expenses, 71 cents; schools, 10 cents, and debt service, 79 cents.

A valuation of $6,975,646 was reported by the tax collector's office as compared with a valuation of $7,304,090 last year. This reduction will in itself largely reduce the city's revenue, but city officials expressed confidence that by exercising economy they will be able to meet expenses. Budget figures in detail will be available within a few days, it was said.

It was announced also that the board of commissioners has appointed Mayor Edwards as purchasing agent, but that purchases made by him will not be binding on the city until approved by the board. All purchases will be made by requisition, it was said, so that an accurate check can be kept on all expenditures.

PLAN TO TRY HAUPTMANN MURDER COUNT

Is Identified as Man Tendering Gold Certificate on February 4

SAY 'UNIMPORTANT' WITNESSES QUIZZED

TRENTON, Oct. 2.—(UP)—Belief that Bruno Richard Hauptmann had an accomplice passing Lindbergh ransom money was expressed for the first time today by Colonel Norman H. Schwartzcock, state police head.

He said William Reilly, superintendent of a lumber yard identified a picture of Hauptmann as the man who visited his yard with a companion February 4, 1934, to make a 40 cent purchase of panelling.

Reilly stated surprised when Hauptmann tendered a $10 gold certificate. His companion said "never mind" producing exact change. The pair left, saying they would get the panelling later but never returned. Later developments indicated that the certificate was a ransom note.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(UP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann will be placed on trial in New Jersey on a charge of first degree murder in the death of the Lindbergh baby, it was announced yesterday. District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx will confer with New Jersey authorities today regarding extradition.

Foley said the conference will involve procedure to be followed in transferring the stolid German carpenter to Flemington, N. J., where the murder trial would be held.

The Bronx prosecutor announced plans for the conference after Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey had said that his state plans to try Hauptmann before the extortion case in the Bronx is brought to trial.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey personally will take charge of prosecution of Hauptmann.

Wilentz conferred with Governor Moore and Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, chief of New Jersey state police, before announcing that New Jersey virtually is ready to take Hauptmann in custody.

At the same time District Attorney Samuel J. Foley in the Bronx explained that technical difficulties will prevent trial of the prisoner on the extortion charge by October 10th, as originally planned. Foley has indicated all along that New York will not oppose a request for extradition of Hauptmann to the neighboring state.

Governor Moore, at Trenton, pointed out that trial of Hauptmann on a first degree murder charge in New Jersey would be the more reasonable procedure, rather than having him tried first for extortion in New York. Were Hauptmann convicted of extortion in the Bronx, the technical obstacles to his extradition might be such that his removal to New Jersey would be delayed.

Four witnesses, all of whom were classed by District Attorney Foley's staff as "unimportant," were questioned last night. They were: Carl Stines, who placed a locker near that of Hauptmann at a boat club on City Island; Edward Weigold, who found an abandoned automobile said to have resembled Hauptmann's in 1932; Hans Mueller, Hauptmann's nephew who has been questioned before, and William Dreisscher (Joel) resident who police have sought for several city days. He has been out of the city since he continued their minute examination of Hauptmann's home yesterday found a New York license plate imbedded (Continued on page three)

Clemson Senior Died By Accident

Coroner's Jury Acts in Atlanta Death by Fall

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 2. (UP)—Jack L. Todd, Clemson College senior, accidentally fell to his death from a sixth-floor window ledge of a downtown hotel here Saturday night, a coroner's jury found Monday.

Body of the youth, who came here with other students to see the Clemson-Georgia Tech game Saturday, was found early Sunday on the third floor court roof of the hotel. Police investigated possibility of foul play.

Two witnesses came forward yesterday to testify that they saw Todd come out the window of his sixth floor room, walk along the ledge to the next window, and then attempt to return only to fall three stories to the court roof.

Time of the accident was fixed at about 10 p. m. Saturday. Todd had been locked in his room by fellow students who said he was in no condition to go out on the streets.

Powerful Fleet Of Dirigibles Is Urged By Mitchell

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (UP).—Brigadier General William E. Mitchell, former military aviation chief, today recommended immediate construction of a powerful fleet of dirigibles, telling the federal aviation committee that "gross stupidity was responsible for the American airship disasters."

He said 50 dirigibles could attack Japan in two days, leaving nothing of Japan. "Japan is our worst enemy," he said. "When we work with a view of making them design airplanes we should design capable of attacking Japan, just as Great Britain builds her to attack Europe."
