GOODRICH-FAMBROUGH WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vowles Goodrich have announced the wedding plans of their younger daughter, Catherine Mayhew Goodrich of Raleigh, to Mr. Douglas McIntosh Fambrough of Chapel Hill. The ceremony will be solemnized on Sunday, July 10, at St. James Episcopal church by the bride's former pastor, the Rev. James Preston Burke. Only members of the immediate families will attend.

The bride-elect made her home in Hendersonville until about four years ago when she entered St. Faith's school in New York City. Since her graduation she has been doing parish work and teaching in the Parochial school, first in New York but more recently in Raleigh. Miss Goodrich is a young woman of beauty of character as well as of face, and has a charm of manner which endears her to all. Mr. Goodrich is of English parentage and Mrs. Goodrich is from a well-known southern family.

Mr. Fambrough is the son of Mrs. John Warren Fambrough and the late Dr. Fambrough of Rockmart, Ga., being a member of a prominent family. The bridegroom-to-be, who is held in high esteem by all, holds a responsible position with the bank of Chapel Hill, where he and his bride will reside after their wedding trip.

Mrs. Goodrich gave a charming little bridge-tea on Saturday afternoon at her home in Asheville in compliment to her daughter and it was at this time that the wedding plans were announced. Among those from Hendersonville who were invited to attend were Mesdames Frederick W. Streetman, Baden Powell Shipman, Burt H. Colt and William Frazier, Misses Elizabeth Cannon, Millicent Livingston, Virginia Ewbank, Allene Fluker, Marie Louise Nutt, Anne Weeks and Elsie Ficker.

MISS HUNTER HONORS RECENT BRIDE

Miss Elizabeth Hunter honored Mrs. G. Reynolds Combs, Jr., of Raleigh, a recent bride, with a lovely tea on Saturday afternoon, the home being arranged artistically with a wealth of varied flowers. Miss Hunter and Mrs. Combs received the guests informally, and Mrs. Robert Settan, of Brevard, another recent bride, showed them to the dining room. The tea table was beautifully appointed with a lace cloth centered with a silver bowl of sweet peas and baby's breath. Silver dishes held dainty mints. Lighted tapers were used on the table and in the dining room. Mrs. Charles Hunter was assisted in serving sandwiches, cookies and punch by Mesdames Georgia K. Hunter and G. R. Combs.

Only a few close friends of Mrs. Combs attended.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Col. and Mrs. Dwight L. Rogers and sons, Dwight L. Rogers, Jr., and Doyle, are occupying an apartment in the Ambassador for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Izlar and young son, Thomas, of Charleston, S. C., are guests of Mrs. Izlar's mother, Mrs. J. G. Waldrop, with whom she will be associated for the summer at Maple Grove. Mr. Izlar will return home by the middle of the week and come for his vacation later.

Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Combs had as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. G. Reynolds Combs, Jr., and the administration in his post as a member of the tax-making ways and means committee. He is expected to praise Thomas' record in a speech at Oklahoma City on July 9.

Thomas has supported virtually all of the new deal's sweeping program of social and economic reforms and in return has seen some of his own monetary theories translated into action by the administration. The importance of his re-election, so far as the administration is concerned, lies partly in his strategic position on two important senate committees.

He is the second ranking Democrat on the powerful agriculture committee, preceded only by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, D., Montana. The new deal is making every effort to prevent any re-nomination of Senator Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith, of South Carolina, conservative Democrat who has fought many of the administration's farm measures as head of the agriculture committee.

Montana primary voters go to the polls July 19 and in Texas July 23. None of the senators from the two states is up for re-nomination and no national issues are involved. Senator George McGill, a New Deal Democrat, is up for re-nomination in the Kansas primary on August 2 and Senator Bennett C. Clark, a 50-50 New Dealer, faces Missouri Democrats on the same day.

Senator George L. Berry, D., Tenn., millionaire labor leader, banker and agriculturist, seeks re-nomination in the state primary August 4. He condemned the New Deal's spending program and other administration measures but the president is not actively opposing him. The Tennessee primary situation has been highlighted by a clash between Governor Gordon Browning, who is backing Berry, and Ed Crump, political boss of Shelby county, who is supporting Tom Stewart, Winchester attorney.

The August primaries are dominated by Senate Majority Leader Allen W. Barkley's bid for a vote of confidence on his record in his contest with Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler. Chandler's campaign manager has charged that relief funds are being war would continue for four years and involve all the major powers although the experts say that if there is another international conflict it will last much longer and probably bankrupt the world. They point out that a war between any alignment of powers, in which neither side would have an overwhelming superiority might continue indefinitely—or, until economic collapse brought the nations to their senses.

The experts say that the Sino-Japanese and Spanish wars have proved conclusively that military defense is stronger, than the offense, indicating that a short war is more or less an impossibility between forces of anywhere near comparable strength.

The World war, according to their figures, drained more than $350,000,000,000 from world treasuries. Of the total $200,000,000,000 went for war machines. Destruction of property and stoppage of industry accounted for the remainder.

Students of military strategy say the airplane has introduced a new element in war and probably will be responsible for increasing the amount of property damage many times over. The effectiveness of this weapon, they say, has increased more than a hundred-fold since 1918.

It is estimated aerial bombardment of Shanghai alone during the current Sino-Japanese conflict has caused hundreds of millions dollars of damage. Losses in Spain where the civil war has been raging for two years, are placed at several billions of dollars.

The experts point out that developments in aviation have brought all the world capitals, including those as far away as Buenos Aires and Rio De Janeiro, within range of enemy bombers. They believe it possible for a nation having superior aerial strength to destroy an enemy's industrial structure with a few months of concentrated attack.

The cost in damages to property, stoppage of work and other contingent factors can not be established but it is estimated such an attack on the eastern industrial section of the United States would cost at least $25,000,000,000.

Appointed an Enemy To His Cabinet

NO man more violently denounced Abraham Lincoln 20th than the Civil War and up to 1862, than Edwin McMaster Stanton. A Democrat, opposed to slavery, Stanton nevertheless was a firm defender of the constitutional rights of slaveholders. Thus he bitterly opposed Lincoln, whose party he hated and distrusted even more.

Stanton became attorney general under President Buchanan. He did what he could to strengthen the weak policy of the President. Thus he came to the attention of Lincoln, who later thought he saw in Stanton a good war minister. In January, 1862, Lincoln invited him to join his cabinet in this post. Stanton did.

He proved often harsh, caused considerable friction among Union generals. But he thoroughly reorganized the army, cut through a maze of fraud and red tape, infused new energy into the high command. Not the least of his achievements was disbandment of 800,000 soldiers at the close of the war. Later he served in the cabinet of Andrew Johnson, but with incessant turmoil. He constantly opposed Johnson. Stanton died in Washington on Dec. 24, 1869. He is shown above on the 7-cent issue of 1870. The stamp is enlarged. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Seals Retires After 45 Years Of Rail Service

K. R. Seals, of Fletcher, who joined the Southern Railway when locomotives burned wood, hand-brakes were used and lighting was by kerosene lamps, has retired after 45 years' service with the railway.

His retirement was effective on June 30. For the past 32 years he has been station agent at Fletcher. He began his railroad career with the Richmond & Danville system, now a part of the Southern, in June, 1893, as an agent-operator. He entered the service of the Southern in 1904 and came to Fletcher in 1906.

The Woodmen withdrew at a league meeting last Thursday after reporting that almost half of the players had left the team. At this meeting Chipman-LaCrosse was awarded both games of a protested double-header with W. O. W. on June 25. By this action, Saluda was the winner of the first half of the league play.

Saluda got 14 hits off Hammett and Ash on Saturday, while Balfour got 13 off Staton and Ward. D. Heatherly led Saluda at bat with four hits in five trips to bat and B. Crisp led the Balfour hitters with two doubles.

civilization which mankind has managed to create through the centuries find a permanent and stable security.

Our only aspiration is to consolidate the national unity which we have achieved and to be allowed to undertake, without molestation, the tremendous task of national reconstruction which faces us.

We are now engaged in a life or death struggle to preserve our right to live in peace and at peace with other nations.

Our case against the Japanese, whose land, naval and aerial forces are killing our people, and destroying everything that is vital and precious in our country, is clear.

There will be no end to the present hostilities until the Japanese realize their folly or until their troops are driven off our soil.

1000 DEAD, 1000 WOUNDED AT SWATOW

SWATOW, Kwangtung Province, South China, July 4. (UP)—(By Radio)—Chinese municipal authorities today estimated about 1,000 civilians were killed and 1,000 others wounded in Thursday's aerial bombardment of the city by Japanese naval planes.

More than 100,000 civilians had fled into the hills fearing that a Japanese land occupation of the city was imminent from the Japanese base established last month on Nansao Island, off the port.

British and American warships were standing by to protect their nationals.

The British consulate had forwarded the British embassy in Shanghai a protest from the manager of the British Asiatic Petroleum Co., who said the big storage plant of the company had narrowly missed destruction when Japanese bombs fell within 100 yards of it.

The majority of foreigners resisted the urgings of their consuls that they leave.

They seemed determined to remain for the time being, at least, while Chinese authorities protested against a completely open city which was without anti-aircraft or any other defensive means.

Chinese evacuating this south China treaty port struggled across the harbor to the south or pushed westward into the interior, carting or carrying their belongings.

Thousands of others congregated along the waterfront, hopeful that the nearby foreign-owned property would be spared in any future raids and thus keep themselves out of the danger zone.

'GOD' IS SUBJECT OF SCIENCE SERVICES

"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday.

The golden text was from Psalms 20:5. "We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, waring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God. Religion will then be of the heart and not of the head. We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. "The true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth" (page 140).

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOSEPH SANDHAM—hero; he thought he was on top of the world until he snatched into KELLY ARCHER—heroine; she thought she was headed for the altar until she snatched into ED, the WEASEL—gangster; he thought he was headed somewhere, too, but affairs somehow got mixed up.

Yesterday, Joe stops to Canada the candy before entering Canada and Kelly flees down the highway like a red-headed deer. The Weasel raises his hand to shoot.

CHAPTER X
A quick glance was enough to show Mr. Sandham what to do. With a lightning-like movement he knocked the Weasel's hand toward the ground.
