EUROPE MOVES NEARER 4-POWER TREATY

5,000 European Jews Without Shelter

LIGHT GROWS FOR VICTIMS OF EJECTIONS

Some Die, Some go Insane as Problem Still Not Adjusted

SOME PASS GUARDS IN SEARCH OF AID

WARSAW, Nov. 1.—(UP)—The Jewish relief committee here reported that four persons had died and three had gone insane among the 5,000 Polish Jews held in the Polish-German frontier.

They were taken to the frontier from the German interior and are awaiting deportation to Poland. Due to a dispute, regardless of Poland's new citizenship laws.

By ROBERT H. BEST Copyright, 1938, United Press) BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 1.—(UP)—A wretched band of 22 Czechoslovak Jews, mostly men, yesterday described how German troops threw their men into jail and drove them into "no-man's-land" between Czech and German frontier posts where they have established a crude camp.

Wounded by either Czechs or Germans, these refugees are excluded from day to day under a no-man's-land, not knowing where to turn or what their fate will be.

They visited the camp yesterday in Lundenburg, a German-occupied town of the Sudetenland 44 miles north of Vienna, and found that all their hopes had been placed in the efforts of relatives to persuade the Czech government to send some other country to give them refuge.

The 62 Jews range from babes in arms to an 81-year-old blind man and include eight children, seven married couples and several women past 30.

For three weeks they have been living in the no-man's-land, and the original 158 of them, many of whom were in the hands of the Czechs and entering Czechoslovakia in search of aid.

Czech authorities, they said, admitted one of them to be taken to a hospital after she became insane and another after she gave birth to a child in a second no-man's-land camp near Kolobrzeg, a few miles away.

A crude tent, about 500 feet long and stretching along an unimproved concrete highway outside Lundenburg, houses the 62 refugees. It was provided by friends who rented a motor truck and obtained official permission to bring them to the camp.

The stories of the Jews huddled for the highway were all the same. Of 510 Jews living in Lundenburg when the Germans occupied it only one was permitted to remain. She was Rosa Winter, widow of an American citizen, husband 52.

Within 52 hours, they said, even Jewish man in Lundenburg was arrested and imprisoned in his home. The women were searched and the men were taken to the camp.

The women were told that they must leave for Czechoslovakia within 24 hours.

Germans Pleased Because of Sunday Night's Incident

By THEON WRIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (UP)—Orson Welles, 23-year-old theatrical prodigy who frightened hundreds of radio listeners Sunday night with a dramatization of "Men From Mars," called in reporters last night and promised never to do it again.

"I'm really quite shocked," he said. "I denied that he had any notion that people would accept his highly dramatized version of H. G. Wells' famous novel, 'War of the Worlds,' as fact instead of fiction."

"I should think," he said, "that the motion pictures and comic strips would have made people realize that the 'Men From Mars' was only a fantasy. It is almost a synonym for fantasy."

DIES FLAYS HIGH OFFICIALS FAILING TO HELP INQUIRY OF UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES

Denounces Campaign of Ridicule, Will Extend Probe South, West

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (UP)—Chairman Dies of the house committee investigating un-American activities today indicated he would continue his inquiry into subversive activities after denouncing their "campaign of ridicule" and "torrent of abuse unloosed on us."

Dies said he expected to continue the inquiry through subgroups on the west coast in New York, Washington, and in the South about December 1.

Dies charged cabinet members declined to comply with the terms of the house resolution creating a committee, by failing to assign lawyers and investigators to aid the inquiry.

SAYS NEW DEALERS SEEK TO BALK QUIZ

By GERRY ROBCHAUD United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (UP)—Chairman Martin Dies, D. Tex., of the house committee investigating un-American activities charged last night that top-flight New Deal officials had sought to hamper the work of his group by refusing to cooperate and by heaping "abuse" and "ridicule" on its hearings.

In a nationally broadcast speech (Mutual network) Dies asserted that various government departments had "refused to comply" with the resolution creating the committee by failing to assign investigators and attorneys to help conduct the hearings.

CATS TO PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Practice Under Lights to Meet Strong Canton Team There

Hendersonville's Bearcats will journey to Canton on Friday night for a game with the powerful Black Bears of Coach Charlie Poindexter.

Both teams are undefeated in the Blue Ridge conference race, the Cats at present holding the top position by virtue of five conference wins and no defeats.

The Bears, rated one of the strongest teams in this section, have won four conference games. The Cats will be decidedly the underdog in the game, but a battle is expected. Last season Poindexter brought a powerful team to Hendersonville, but managed to take the game by a close 7 to 6 score.

The Cats have been working under the lights at the Chipman Athletic field this week to get accustomed to the night game. All Canton games are played at night.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Virtual banishment from Brazil of six ranking political leaders was revealed last night with reports from Bahia of the departure for Europe of former Foreign Minister Octavio Mangabeira.

The others include former President Arthur Bernardes, Armando Salles, one-time governor of Sao Paulo state and candidate for president before elections, scheduled for last January, were cancelled by President Getulio Vargas; Lindolpho Collor, former labor minister in the Vargas government; Mario Brant, former director of the Bank of Brazil; and Julio Mesquita, director of the newspaper, O Estado Do Sao Paulo, which supported Salles in last year's campaign.

While the reason for the departures originally was said to be vacations, it was understood the six were charged with opposition to the present regime.

ROBERT WOOLSEY, COMEDIAN, DIES

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1. (UP)—Robert Woolsey, former partner of Bert Wheeler in one of Hollywood's most famous film comedy teams, died at his home in Malibu Beach late yesterday after an illness of more than a year.

Dr. Ralph Tandowsky reported the veteran actor was in a coma for two days after the illness became critical. Woolsey's wife, the former Mignone Reed, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Reed, were at the bedside.

The cigar-smoking comedian, who earned $100,000 a picture in his heyday, had been in retirement for nearly a year because of his illness.

He was reported to have suffered a kidney ailment while still under contract at RKO, where he made his last picture last year. The illness necessitated a rest. In Hollywood it had been thought he was recovering and his death came as a shock.

Slight of stature, Woolsey was the solemn member of the comedy team, which enjoyed its greatest success in the films between 1930 and 1936.

MARK'S FINAL BLOW AGAINST WORLD LEAGUE

Hitler Offers "Gentleman's Agreement" for Long Peace to France

BROAD SETTLEMENT SEEN THIS MONTH

By UNITED PRESS The Nazi-Fascist combination today moved further to the front in Europe's search for a solid basis of international relations.

At Vienna, delegations headed by Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Fascist Foreign Minister Ciano were gathering to arbitrate tomorrow the minority dispute between Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

There appeared little doubt that satisfactory compromise would be reached and some 11,000 square miles of additional territory and one million inhabitants would be cut off from Czechoslovakia. Hungary, however, was believed unlikely to get a common frontier with Poland.

HITLER VOLUNTEERS PEACE WITH FRANCE

By CLIFFORD L. DAY (Copyright, 1938, United Press) LONDON, Nov. 1.—(UP)—A four-power pact to replace the moribund League of Nations as keeper of Europe's peace came nearer today.

This long has been the desire of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and it was Hitler who actuated today's development. Der Fuehrer yesterday offered France a "gentlemen's agreement" to refrain from war, the pact to be of 10 or 25 years' duration, and French Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet eagerly accepted the opportunity to extend the Munich agreement of the "big four"—Germany, Italy, Britain and France—Lowlands general European agreement.

Bonnet shuttled back and forth between diplomatic representatives of the four nations, laying the groundwork for solving a half-dozen pressing European problems, as a result of the encouraging overture from Hitler.

Diplomats anticipated that this month would bring a formal Franco-German friendship or non-aggression pact, renunciation by Germany of any territorial claims in Europe against France, re-establishment of normal friendly diplomatic relations between France and Italy, effectivization of the Anglo-Italian friendship pact of last April 16, final settlement of the Czechoslovak-Hungarian territorial dispute by Italo-German arbitration and the granting of belligerent rights to both sides in Spain by the London non-intervention committee.

This four-power program, turning Britain and France completely away from the League of Nations system of collective security, would bring the Democratic allies into close collaboration with the two great European dictatorships. Diplomats said it definitely would kill the small remaining effectiveness of the league in the field of (Continued on page three)
