Lima Conferees Revise Defense Program

MEXICO WOULD BAR FORCIBLE DEBT ACTIONS

Seek to Eliminate All Diplomatic Action For Americas

SOUTHERN REPUBLIC STEP IS SIGNIFICANT

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15. (UP)—The final draft of the United States project for a united American defense front against foreign political or military invasion was revised to meet Argentina objections today was submitted separately to 21 delegations at the eighth Pan American conference. The revised draft disclosed changes in the original document prepared by United States Secretary of State Hull. The changes met Argentina's opposition to any treaty or alliance and avoids any language that might be considered a direct affront to any European powers.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15. (UP)—

Mexico last night proposed that the eighth Pan American conference bar the use of force in the collection of international debts, while Argentina accepted in principle a United States project that would bind all 21 American republics to do everything possible to lower their tariff carriers. The Mexican proposal, submitted simultaneously with a report on pecuniary claims by the committee of experts for the codification of international law, was regarded as particularly significant since the government of President Lazaro Cardenas is involved with the United States and other foreign countries over its expiration of the tariff carriers.

Some observers saw in the project an attempt by Mexico to line up continental support for its seizures of oil properties and lands as well as its failure for several years to meet its international financial obligations. The experts committee recommended that the conference adopt a project banning diplomatic action by a government in behalf of its nationals residents in another country unless there were a denial of justice or a breach of international law. The committee endorsed a proposal by one of its members to outlaw diplomatic intervention for any reason. The Mexican project would appear to aim at placing the conference on record in favor of no diplomatic action of any kind and for any motive.

U. S. MAY FUND SALE OF GOODS TO CHINESE

Arrangement Would Be "Purely Commercial," No War Measure

Copyright 1938 By United Press WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—The federal government is considering financing sale of between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 of American products to China, it was learned last night. The plan, which officials described as "very complicated," is expected to be announced shortly. It was emphasized meantime that it will be "purely commercial," meaning it will not be a formal loan which Japan, in view of her war on China, might construe as an unfriendly gesture by a neutral power. The program has been taking shape for several weeks in discussions between treasury department officials and members of a Chinese financial mission headed by K. P. Chen, Shanghai banker. The mission came here ostensibly for the purpose of obtaining financial aid in the war with Japan. A usually reliable official indicated that under the plan the federal export-import bank would establish commercial credits for American exporters, reportedly automobile and truck manufacturers, and that these would be underwritten by the reconstruction finance corporation. It remained conjectural how China proposed to reimburse the treasury but it was suggested that Chinese silver shipments would provide adequate surety. The treasury has been buying Chinese silver by agreement since May, 1936, at prices ranging from 43 to 47 cents an ounce. More than 300,000,000 ounces have been thus acquired. It was pointed out that there is nothing to prevent a corollary agreement to pay for American exports. The financial mission was reported to have attempted to reach similar agreements with private industrialists, but to no avail.

President Masses Guns and Planes; Rebel Guns Are Trained on Quito

QUITO, Ecuador, Dec. 15 (UP)—President Aurelio Narvaez massed artillery and airplanes to support his demands for the immediate surrender of dissident army units, fortified on Ichimbia Hill, and dominating the capital under leadership of leftwing political chiefs. Orders for the attack was expected at any hour. Police and soldiers patrolled capital streets and the presidential palace is heavily guarded. Business was suspended and all communications are under strict censorship. Disaffected troops refused all demands that they surrender and in turn demanded the president to revoke his decree dissolving parliament. The government flatly refused to free several leftwing assemblymen who were arrested when the assembly was dissolved and its members "outlawed" by executive decree. Larrea Alba, a stormy petrel in Ecuadorean politics for several months, who only a few months ago returned from exile, was arrested by soldiers at San Juan, near here. Speaker Arriaza Lique of the assembly also was seized. The soldiers were compelled to use their rifles to subdue the two men, who were locked up in the local barracks. When he dissolved the assembly, President Mosquera Narvaez announced that he would rule by decree and at the same time convoked elections for the second Sunday in May, 1939, when a complete senate and chamber of deputies will be chosen by popular vote. Although the rest of the country was said to be quiet, travel was limited to those in possession of police passports.

Eden Told U. S. Feels Franco Victory In Spain Contrary To Best Interests

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—Regardless of the unofficial character of his visit, former British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had received intimations that the Roosevelt administration believes victory for Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Spain would be contrary to United States interests, it was learned last night on the eve of his departure from here for New York. He had also heard plain speaking, always friendly, it was learned, concerning the prevailing American attitude toward the British government's Spanish policy. It is believed, on the eve of his departure for New York, that the most pressing message he will carry home will be one of American antagonism to a Franco triumph, with its implications regarding a possible new, important base for Germany and Italy.

3 Co-Defendants in Canal Zone Turn Pale as Verdict Rendered

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., Dec. 15.—(UP)—Hans Heinrich Schackow, one of four Germans charged with spying on Panama canal defenses, yesterday was found guilty by a jury in Cristobal district court. The jury, composed chiefly of Canal Zone employees, deliberated two hours before reaching a verdict. Judge Bunk Gardner announced he would not sentence Schackow until he had ruled on a motion for a new trial, for which the defense was given until December 22 to apply. Schackow, who was arrested October 16 at Fort Randolph while taking photographs with three companions, Miss Ingeborg Gutmann, Gisbert Gross and Edward Robert Kuhrig, turned pale as the jury announced its verdict. Judge Gardner previously had warned the courtroom against any demonstration. Schackow and Miss Gutmann were employees of the Hapag Lloyd line office in Cristobal. Kuhrig will be the next defendant to be brought to trial, some time in January.

SOLONS MUST ATTACK MANY N. C. PROBLEMS

Face Greatest Financial Needs; May Change Absentee Ballot Law REVAMPING SCHOOL SYSTEM IS LIKELY

By CHILES COLEMAN United Press Staff Correspondent RALEIGH, Dec. 15.—(UP)—North Carolina's general assembly for 1939 convenes in three weeks faced with a myriad of problems ranging from the largest appropriation request in history to a re-examination of the state's policy in dealing with capital offenders.

As always, one of the chief legislative objectives will be raising the money to pay for the widespread activities of the state and determining how much is to be allotted for each specific purpose. Much of the spade work of this enormous task is being done by the advisory budget commission. This group's recommendations to the assembly will not be revealed until after January 4 when the 120 representatives and 50 senators convene in the century-old chambers of the state capitol here, but complete hearings already have been held at which the various departments of government outlined their financial needs for the next two years.

They asked for the general fund a total appropriation of $95,861,809, more than ever before has been requested. In addition, the highway department estimated its needs from the special highway fund at $69,203,902. Inseparably linked with the financial problems of the legislature are a number of other questions likely to result in long floor debate and innumerable committee and conference discussions. These include revamping of the state's educational system, social security, modification of the sales tax, homestead exemptions and several others.

A special study commission has recommended a sweeping reorganization of the school system, including addition of a 12th grade, salary increases and retirement pay for teachers, and improvement of facilities for vocational education. Such a program would cost, the commission estimated, approximately $1,000,000. All of it could not, of course, be put into effect at once, but many persons believe the 1939 assembly will take the first steps.

The sales tax has been a controversial issue since it was adopted, and while there are indications the fight over its provisions at the forthcoming assembly will be a hot one.

JEWIS IN REICH PAYING FIRST PART OF FINE

Will Turn Over Hundred Million Dollars in Killing of Vom Rath

BERLIN, Dec. 15. (UP)—Jewish leaders said last night that thousands of German Jews would turn over $100,000,000 to the German government within the next 24 hours—perhaps without a single default—to meet the first installment of a $400,000,000 collective "fine" imposed after the assassination in Paris of Ernst Vom Rath.

The prediction of 100 per cent payment from every Jew whose fortune exceeds $2,000 was based on the fact that, although the original decree demanded payment in cash, the government recently relaxed the conditions for payment. Under the original announcement of the "fine" it was explained that as the only alternative to cash payment government centers would be opened where Jews could liquidate jewelry and other valuables to raise cash. This plan failed to work and it became apparent that many Jews would be forced into bankruptcy.

Therefore the economics ministry permitted the Jews to use securities, land titles and mine royalties in addition to cash to meet the first 25 per cent installment of the crushing fine.

The fine will strip the German Jews of at least 20 per cent of their entire wealth, as it was computed at the time of Vom Rath's slaying. In addition, the Jews must pay about $200,000,000 for destruction done by Nazis in the Nov. 11 wave of anti-Semitic disorders, in which Jewish shops were the chief targets.

Jews who have reported losses from the riot destruction will be allowed to deduct these sums from the estimates of their total holdings, thus reducing the ultimate yield to the government. The government reserved the right to take other measures against Jewish wealth if the levy on one-fifth of all Jewish wealth fails to produce $400,000,000.

FASCISTS BOOST ARMAMENTS BUDGET ONE THIRD, FRANCE WARNED OF TUNISIAN DRIVE

Tunis And Corsica May Become "French Sudetenlands"

ROME, Dec. 15. (UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini's cabinet yesterday ordered a 33 per cent increase in the nation's armaments budget as an "urgent necessity" while Fascist leaders warned that Tunisia and Corsica may become French Sudetenlands.

The cabinet's announcement of a $130,308,750 or a one-third increase, in the arms budget during the next fiscal year was made under provisions of an extraordinary appropriation of $526,250,000 which Italy intends to spend on armaments above the normal defense budgets under a four-year program. The cabinet explained that the action was "an urgent necessity in view of the general situation."

The war ministry obtained $42,909,750 more than its present budget, the navy got $40,014,000 more and the air ministry received an increase of $47,385,000. Military attaches of foreign embassies were particularly impressed with the increase for the air force, which would play a vital and perhaps decisive role in any war in the Mediterranean.

Experts calculated that the appropriations for the war, navy and aviation ministries alone represent 35 per cent of the government's total estimated expenditures for the 1939-1940 fiscal year. This figure does not include increases of about $28,325,000 for the ministries of agriculture, public works and corporations which aid indirectly in improving Italy's national defense.

CONGRESS TO CONSIDER FEW NEW MEASURES

Legislative Program Likely to Call For Amending Old Ones

ICKES NOT TO QUIT POST FOR MAYORALTY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—The White House this afternoon announced the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Roper, effective December 23.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Roper intends to resign from the cabinet in the near future, possibly soon after the first of the year, the United Press was reliably informed today.

For months Roper has denied flatly his resignation was impending.

Today he continued to decline comment but it was learned that he had told close friends he contemplated resigning at the end of President Roosevelt's first term but the president prevailed on him to remain.

The death of Roper's son-in-law, David R. Coker, wealthy seed grower, about two weeks ago is believed to have made Roper unwilling to reconsider his decision to quit, even if requested by President Roosevelt.

Responsibilities of handling Coker's numerous business enterprises have fallen on Roper and it is reported that he believes it imperative for him to leave the government service.

ICKES TURNS DOWN CHICAGO MAYORALTY

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. (UP)—The headquarters of the "Draft Ickes for Mayor Club" of Chicago today announced that Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes declined to become a candidate in the 1939 city election in Washington. Ickes said he refused the plea to run for mayor because President Roosevelt wanted him to stay "in harness."

F.R.'S. CONGRESSIONAL PLANS NOT ELABORATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. (UP)—President Roosevelt will confine his program for the 76th congress largely to improving existing New Deal laws and will not recommend a "lot of new stuff," senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., said Wednesday after a White House conference.

He said that he discussed with the president the subject of taxes, proposed changes in the Wagner Labor act, the farm program, national defense and kindred problems. The conversation was general, he said, and no final decisions were reached. The chief executive is to review the legislative program.
