

CALIFORNIA.

We confess we have been a good deal bewigged by the many accounts we have seen, within the last three or four months, of this El Dorado...

We apprehend, however, it is no matter of dispute that the Gold region of California is very rich, and, in time, a man may gather enough of it, to make him comfortable...

It is probable that the mania has somewhat subsided in our country. It is now a month since we had any reliable news from California...

GIVING CREDIT.

The cool manner in which some of our brethren of the press are in the habit of appropriating our articles, without giving credit, has almost ceased to amaze us...

The pointed instance, to which we shall now refer, will justify us, in the minds of all our candid brethren...

THE MISSION TO BERLIN.

The Louisville Journal thus speaks of Hannegrau's appointment:—"We regard this as the most disgraceful appointment ever made."

We have had several lately; and it becomes our duty to be exceedingly careful, at this season of the year...

THE MARKETS.

The accounts brought by the Canada, show that the British Markets are dull and gloomy. The war news from India, and the news from this country...

At the Annual Commencement of Hampden Sydney Medical College of Virginia, at Richmond, on Tuesday last, twenty-four gentlemen were graduated...

The University of Maryland graduated sixty-four M. D.'s on Tuesday last, of whom the following were from North Carolina:—

E. Lafayette Daseberry, Wm. B. Harrell, and Gabriel P. White.

And, at the Commencement of the Medical College of the State of South Carolina, forty-five gentlemen received their Diplomas; among them, B. Leventhorpe, of Rutherfordton, N. C., whose Thesis was unanimously selected by the Faculty for the Annual Prize.

A brother of the Editor of the Niles Republican, who lately emigrated to the Mormon country, communicates the annexed information as to the extravagant views of the Mormons respecting the erection of a new Temple:—

"The new Mormon Temple at the Salt Lake is to be a splendid building. They enclose a lot of seventeen miles long and twelve wide, with a mud wall eight feet high and four feet thick. There are to be cities inside. They have discovered mountain rock that resembles cornelian stone, which is beautiful for temples and pillars. The size of the temple is not stated, but its highest point is to be six hundred feet, and can be seen eighty miles either way."

THREATENING LETTERS.—Mr. Wm. B. Astor, of New York, recently received certain threatening letters, stating that unless he paid over $50,000, his life and property were to suffer.

The New Orleans Crescent publishes the report of a Committee appointed for the purpose of ascertaining the number of deaths by Asiatic Cholera which occurred among the Sons of Temperance in that City, and the adjoining towns during the recent epidemic. The Committee state that there are twelve hundred and forty-three members of the different Divisions in New Orleans—Lafayette, Algiers, and Gretna. In these divisions three deaths only occurred, and in some of them not a case of Cholera took place.

JOSEPH P. CALDWELL, Esq., of Iredell County, is announced in the Salisbury "Watchman," as a Candidate for Congress in the second district, last represented by Mr. Boyden.

THE OPPOSITION.

The restless Democracy, as we expected, are picking at the new administration in every possible manner, and where they have nothing tangible even, they

"Hint a fault, and hesitate dialke."

We do not know that there ought to be any cause of complaint, on this score, among General Taylor's friends. But, when we recollect how candid some of these presses have pretended to be disposed towards the administration, in assering that they would "judge it by its measures," we find that the estimate we put upon their professions amounted to just what we made it, and that, let the administration be ever so faultless, they were not to be pleased. If General Taylor makes the appointments, he ought to leave them to the Secretaries; if the Departments make them, why then General Taylor ought to do it, and not shift the responsibility from his own shoulders to those of his Secretaries. The truth is, so far as they are concerned, the President must be impaled on one or the other horn of every dilemma; and he could not please those gentry, the Locofoco Editors, even were he to try—which he is far from doing. The National Intelligencer thus summarily disposes of the Chief Croaker, on one point:—

"The 'Union' carries its carping against the new Administration of the Government beyond all bearable bounds. In that paper of Friday last, for example, the attention of its readers is called to the moral effect of the fact that the appointment of Mr. Penrose to the post of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury has been declared to be not an appointment of the Administration, but one made by Mr. Meredith, (the Secretary of the Treasury,) whereas the venerable Editor expresses his horror of such a 'shifting of responsibility' from the President upon his Secretary, and asks the question, 'And is this really the doctrine which is to be preached up by the Administration?' To which we reply, YES, REALLY: the doctrine 'preached up' by the present Administration is that of implicit obedience to the laws. In the very number of the Union in which this question is found, was published at large the Act of Congress containing the provision by which the office of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury is established, the terms of which are literally as follows:—

"Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That an officer shall be appointed in the Treasury Department, by the Secretary of the Treasury, to be called the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, whose salary shall be three thousand dollars per annum, &c., and who shall perform all such other duties in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, now performed by some of his clerks, as may be devolved on him by the Secretary of the Treasury, &c."

Under this plain and positive enactment, who but the Secretary of the Treasury could have appointed the Assistant Secretary?

Let the "Union" be re-assured. The last thing that can ever be truly alleged against President Taylor will be his shrinking from any responsibility that his station devolves upon him."

VIRGINIA INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The Richmond Times says that the late Legislature was marked by the adoption of a very unusual number of measures of Internal Improvement, of which it designates the following as the most important:—

The bill for the Virginia and Tennessee railroad makes a State subscription of three-fifths of the capital of three millions, or one million eight hundred thousand dollars.

The bill for the Blue Ridge Railroad appropriates from the treasury one hundred thousand dollars annually, for three years, for the construction of a railroad and tunnel from the eastern base of the Blue Ridge, at Rockfish Gap, to Waynesboro', in Augusta, and further subscribes three-fifths of one hundred and fifty thousand, or ninety thousand dollars, for the extension of the railroad to Staunton.

The bill for the Alexandria and Orange railroad subscribes an additional fifth, or one hundred and eighty thousand dollars for the construction of that work a subscription of two-fifths having been already authorized by an act of the Legislature.

Another bill authorizes the State's guaranty to the bonds of the James river and Kanawha company, to the amount of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for completing the connection between the canal and tidewater, and of one hundred and fifty thousand for completing the Rivanna and South Side connexions.

Another bill appropriates $60,000 for macadamizing a portion of the Staunton and Parkersburg Road.

The bills above enumerated authorize an aggregate appropriation of $2,940,000; and besides these leading measures, a large number of appropriations have been made for different Turnpikes, chiefly in the western part of the State.

Mr. McGOWEN, of Indiana, who was nominated as Governor of the territory of Minnesota, has been rejected by the Senate. The Union says the vote on the nomination was a strictly party one, all the Whigs voting for its confirmation, all the opposition for its rejection; and we are advised by the late official journal that its party friends voted against it because Mr. McGOWEN was opposed to the late war with Mexico, and whilst in Congress voted against carrying it on! The conclusiveness of this objection, when made to the appointment of a person to the office of Governor of Minnesota, now that the war has ended, is not very clear.—Baltimore Patriot.

The Taxes are indeed heavy, said Dr. Franklin on one occasion, and if those laid on by the Government were the only ones we had to pay, we might more easily discharge them; but we have many others, and much more grievous to some of us. We are taxed twice as much by our illnesses, three times as much by our pride, and four times as much by our folly; and from these taxes the Commissioners cannot ease or deliver us, by allowing any abatement.

TO DRIVE AWAY RATS.

Mr Charles Pierce, of Milton pounded up potato and strewn it around their holes, and rubbed some on the sides of the barrels and under parts where they came through. The next night heard squeaking among them which he supposed was from the caustic nature of the potato that got among their hair, or on their bare feet. They disappeared, and he has not been troubled with them since that time which was nearly a year ago.—Boston Collector.

The organ of the retiring administration at Washington, outdoes itself in fulsome adulation of the concern overwhelmed by the edict of the people. Such a course is simply ridiculous, because those who have condemned its acts are not likely to repent of the verdict deliberately given.—Nash Banner.

MR. ALEXANDER HAMILTON, has become a permanent resident at Washington, and has taken a house on Capitol Hill. She is in her 93d year, has seen every President inaugurated, and retains a vivid remembrance of the past, and a lively interest in all the moral and political questions of the day.

Senator BADGER, of North Carolina, has also become a house keeper at Washington, as well as Senator Benton and others. We hope the comforts of the Federal Metropolis may not tend to prolong the Sessions of Congress.—N. Y. Express.

PRINTING PRESSES, PULPITS AND WOMEN.—These are the three great levers that govern the movements of the world. Without them the bottom would fall out, and society would become chaos again. The press makes the people patriotic, the pulpit religious, but woman answers all things. There would be no going to church if there were no girls there—neither would there be any going to war were the soldiers to meet with no applause except from the masculine.—Without the sunshine shed by women, the rosebuds of affection would never bloom, nor the flower of eloquence germinate. In short she is the steam engine of delight, and the great motive power of love, valor, and civilization.—Exchange.

GOLD COMING.

The purser of the U. S. storeship Lexington, writes to New York from San Francisco that he has $178,000 in dust, which he is to ship from Valparaiso to Panama, and so to the States. It will probably reach Panama by the British Pacific steamer, in season to be taken by the Crescent City on her return. A mercantile house in South street, N. Y., has now $30,000 in gold dust waiting at Panama. It will probably be brought on the Northerner.

REMEDY FOR THE CALIFORNIA FEVER.

A friend who has seen some service in camp life, offers to those afflicted with the prevailing epidemic the following prescription:— 1st. Sleep three nights in your wood-house with the door open and swinging in the wind, during which time, let your diet be pork, cooked by yourself, at a smoky fire in the garden. 2d. Improve all the rainy nights in sleeping between your currant bushes and garden fence. 3d. On the fourth day of your regime, let the diet be mule steak.— 4th. Thereafter, dispense with all kinds of food, save dog meat.

If this be followed resolutely, it is confidently believed a permanent cure will be effected.

THE METHODIST CHURCH PROPERTY QUESTION.

We learn the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the first in rotation, has unanimously passed a resolution authorizing and recommending that the property question, in dispute between the Northern and Southern branches of the Church, be submitted to arbitration. Should the Annual Conferences follow the example, and it seems to be generally expected that they will, the constitutional difficulty will be removed. The South, having made preparations for commencing a suit to establish their claim, will have incurred some expenses, but probably these will be made matter of arrangement should an amicable adjustment of the other difficulty be agreed upon.

"APPEALING TO THE INWARD NATURE OF CHILDREN."

Writers on Education now-a-days, in treating of the government of children, have much to say about "appealing to their inward nature." The doctrine was practically illustrated in School street Sunday. A lady finding some difficulty in making a couple of children walk home from Church in a becoming manner, said to them—"If you behave so, see if you don't have to take some castor oil as soon as you get home. Now, take my word for it, just as sure as you are alive." The children immediately drew up securely by her side, and moved along as gravely as mates at a funeral."

FOR THE LADIES.

Our fair readers will be interested in the following, which we take from a New York Correspondent of the Philadelphia North American, who professes to be au fait in such matters:— The new Parisian bonnet is a trifle smaller, and less broadly arched over the forehead than last winter. The materials are, of course, of the lightest description short of positive diaphany—which is held in reserve for midsummer and Newport. The outside embellishments consist of a single bunch of small fresh spring flowers, or a single blush rose. Inside a flowery labyrinth clings gracefully and carelessly to the downy check, and in this department the exquisite and still inimitable taste, talent, art—call it what you will, I name it genius—of the Parisian milliner, is displayed in its highest and most delicate form. The favorite colors of the new bonnets are pink and white—indeed nothing else is strictly allowable; and as nine-tenths of all the well dressed ladies on promenade wear green mantillas, and half of them green dresses as well, the effect of these pink and white bonnets, with their delicious trimmings, is indescribably charming. Everywhere the eye is refreshed with the tender contrast of soft green and blushing pink, save when, here and there, it reposed for a moment on a snow white bonnet, curving gracefully as a sea-shell around a face beautiful as Aphrodite.

ON THE LATE CRYER OF THE COURTS.

Beneath the stone erected here, The dust of one is lying, Who, though he seldom shed a tear, Lived all the while by crying. Now left alone in quiet sleep, His bones here mouldering lie.— The Courts of law for him should weep— For them, he oft did cry!

FAMILY SECRETS.

In Cole County, there lived a man named Isaac Dodson and his wife, who were both firm believers in the prophesy of Father Miller; and not doubting for a moment the correctness of their prophetic calculations, they set about making all preparations for the eventful day that was to terminate the existence of all sublunary things. After having set the house in order, the following conversation took place:—

HUSBAND—My dear wife, I believe I have made every preparation for to-morrow. I have forgiven all my enemies, and prayed for the forgiveness of all my sins, and feel perfectly calm and resigned.

WIFE—Well, husband, I believe I am ready for the sound of the trumpet.

HUSBAND—I'm rejoiced to hear it; but, my dear wife, I have no doubt there are many little domestic secrets which we have kept hidden from each other, which, had they been known at the time of their occurrence, might have produced unpleasant feelings; but, as we have but one day more to live, let us unburden ourselves freely to each other.

WIFE—Well, husband, you are right; there are some little things that I never told you, and which I intended should remain between me and my God; but, as we have but one day left, I reckon its right to make a clean breast to each other. I'm ready; you begin, husband.

HUSBAND—No, dear, you begin.

WIFE—No, husband, you begin; I can't.

HUSBAND—No! You know, my love, Paul says husbands have a right to command their wives. It is your duty, as a christian woman, to obey your husband and the father of your children; so begin, love.

WIFE—In the sight of God, I reckon it's right—so I'll tell you, dear husband, our eldest son, William, is not your child!

Great God! Mary, I never dreamed of your being untrue to me. Is that so?

Wife, (in tears)—Yes, God forgive me, it is true! I know that I did very wrong, and am sorry for it; but in an evil hour I fell, and there's no help for it now.

HUSBAND—William not mine! In the name of God, whose child is he?

Wife—He's Mr. Graham's, the constable, the Lord be near your poor wife.

HUSBAND—So William sinit my child! Go on, Wife—Well, our daughter Maty, named after me, sinit your's, neither.

HUSBAND—Salvation! Talk on, Maty—come right out. Who's Mary's father?

Wife—Mr. Grinder, the man that built the meeting house, and went to the lower country.

HUSBAND, (resignedly)—Well, as there is but one day more, I'll bear it; so go on, if you have any thing else.

Wife—Well then, our youngest—

HUSBAND—I s'pose Jenny sinit mine?

Wife—No, dear husband, Jenny, that we both love so much, sinit yours, neither!

HUSBAND—Merciful Lord! Is that so? In the name of the Saviour, whose is he?

Wife—He is the one-eyed shoemaker's, that lives at the forks of the road.

HUSBAND—Well, by thunder, Gabriel, blow your horn! I WANT TO GO, NOW!

The above Braces are recommended by Physicians generally, who have seen them, and I have sold a number to citizens of this place, who are highly pleased with them. A gentleman observed a few days since, that he had been wearing a very celebrated body brace for some time, and that he would not give one of the above, for fifty such. THESE Pills have been now for more than ten years before the Public, and their just pretensions to the character claimed for them closely examined and tested, by a great number of persons, too intelligent to be deceived, and too deeply interested in the result, not to observe with care, and judge without favor. The subscriber has just received a supply of them, which have been recently made, and he being Dr. Beckwith's Agent for this part of the State, is prepared to furnish the wholesale trade at his price, in any quantity.
