

Raleigh, N. C.

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1849.

For the lack of Editorial, and all other imperfections in this week's paper, must be attributed to the absence of the Editor.

We are under obligations to Hon. WILLIAM M. MANUM for a copy of "Executive Document, No. 1," of the last session of Congress.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.

We have received the June No. of this beautiful Periodical, which maintains, as heretofore, the high character of its literary contents. We believe it to be the ablest, and certainly it is the handsomest, of the Magazines. Our Lady readers cannot do better than to take this beautiful Monthly. For $3 you can obtain it, and the Lady's Dollar Newspaper, too, a Semi-monthly publication.

HOLDEN'S DOLLAR MAGAZINE.

The May No. of this interesting Periodical is on our table. We have not yet had an opportunity of perusing its contents, but are assured will be read with additional interest.

HIGHLAND MESSENGER.

This sterling Whig journal has been enlarged and improved and is now one of the neatest, largest, best conducted, and cheapest newspapers in the State. The enterprising publishers deserve, and we trust will receive a liberal reward for their laudable efforts to please the public.

PICTORIAL NEW YORK ORGAN.

We call the attention of our readers to the Advertisement of Messrs. OLIVER & BROTHER, of their great double sheet Pictorial "New York Organ," for the Fourth of July. The Editor of the Register says: "We have seen a specimen of the Engravings, and pronounce them inferior to no wood cuts we have seen. That of 'Washington's Fidelity to Freedom,' is handsomely designed and splendidly executed; and is alone worth the price of the Pictorial."

Snow fell at Chicago on the 6th, to the depth of three feet.

The Rail Road Convention will be held in Salisbury, on the 14th of June next.

The Hon. Daniel Duncan, Member of Congress from Ohio, died in Washington on Friday last.

It is said that the Insurance offices of Boston suffer to the tune of one hundred thousand dollars, by the fire at St. Louis.

INDICTABLE MUSIC.

A Judge in New Orleans, says the Louisiana Journal, has decided that certain music, such as that of tin pans, tin horns, and grind-organs, is indictable at common law. It might be an interesting inquiry whether the music of such organs as the Washington Union and Louisville Democrat is not also indictable.

A CLERGYMAN TO BE HUNG.

Elder Eons G. Dudley, says the Springfield Republican, convicted of the murder of his wife in Grafton, N. H. has been sentenced to death, the execution to take place on the 23d of this month.

NAUVOO TEMPLE.

The Quawak Spectator says, "we have stated that the walls of this edifice have been purchased by Mons. CAHET for the use of his association of French Communists. We learn from a gentleman who resides in Nauvoo that Cahet paid $3,000 for the Temple, and arsenal, together with a lot of eleven acres of ground—the title being vested solely in Mons. Cahet. He has commenced rebuilding the Temple, and employs the labor of three hundred men upon the work. Much of the interest that has hitherto attached to this edifice will now be dissipated, for it will no longer wear the proud name of "TEMPLE," but in future it will be known as the "MONSTER BOARDING HOUSE." The basement story is to be laid off into kitchen, the first floor will be converted into a dining room, capable of accommodating a thousand persons, and the remainder of the building will be fitted up for school rooms, offices, and sleeping apartments for five hundred persons."

On Saturday last says the Baltimore American an attempt was made by some of the workmen on the Hudson River Railroad, near Sing Sing, to rescue two of their number who had been arrested by the Sheriff, for riotous conduct. Three of them armed with guns, attacked the Sheriff, who thereupon drew a revolver and shot the three—one of them, it is supposed, is wounded mortally.

From the N. O. Picayune, 16th inst. DEATH OF MAJOR GENERAL WORTH. With inexpressible pain we are called upon to announce the death of Major Gen. Worth. The news, so sudden and appalling, reached town last night by the Portland. It was communicated to us in the following letter from Major Deas:

Major Deas's Office, 8th Decr., San Antonio de Bexar, Texas, May, 1849. Ed. Pica: I have to announce to you for public information, the death of Maj. Gen. Worth, who expired today at 1 o'clock P. M., of cholera. I make the above announcement in order to set aside all doubt as to this melancholy event. Respectfully, your obedient servant, GEO. DEAS, Majr Ad't Gen.

The Rhode Island papers inform us of the decease, at Newport, in that State, on Wednesday last, of the Hon. David J. Poole, aged sixty years, a prominent Member of the Bar of that State, and one of its Representatives in Congress from the year 1825 to the year 1837.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, after remarking that the present population of the Globe is estimated at nine hundred and sixty millions, says that "of the whole number that have departed, about 18,000,000 have died unnatural deaths, such as 9,000,000 in war, 3,000,000 by famine and pestilence, 5,000,000 by martyrdom, and 580,000,000 by intoxicating liquor, while only 13,000,000 have died in a natural way."

BURST OF MACREADY.

The New Orleans Bulletin says—"William Foray, a native artist, has recently modelled in clay, a miniature bust of the great tragedian. It was taken from life during Mr. Macready's late visit to that city, and is so remarkable for its faithful delineation of the peculiar characteristics of the celebrated actor's head and features, that it is really a more striking likeness of him than any painted or engraved portrait that we have seen. We trust measures will be taken immediately to send a copy of this bust to each of the singers of the New York card to Mr. Macready, which led to the recent bust there."

NORTHERN "INSTITUTION."

A woman named Eliza Sanery, was found roaming about the streets of Boston, during the heavy rain of Thursday night, with a little coffin under her arm, containing the corpse of her infant child. She had been turned out of house, and took her dead child with her. Much as many of the Northern people are in the habit of denouncing what they are pleased to term "the sin of Slavery," we venture to say that no negro woman in this State (slave) was ever reduced to the condition of this poor white woman. Standard.

The Odd Fellows of Cincinnati have appointed a committee to be in session daily from 6 o'clock, A. M., to 10 P. M., at the drug store of Dr. Marsh, to furnish assistance and afford relief to members of the Order who may need the same during the prevalence of the cholera.

IMPROVEMENTS IN VIRGINIA.

The Baltimore American in noticing the public works in various States, says: "Virginia is at work in earnest. She is resolved upon connecting the valley of the James with the valley of the Kanawha, with the view of striking the Ohio at the mouth of the Kanawha. A grand undertaking it is and one that must succeed. Its completion will mark a new era in the history of Virginia, and then it may be that Norfolk may fulfil some of Mr. Jefferson's predictions of her greatness."

The jury of Inquest, in the New York Riot case have returned a verdict that the firing of the military was justifiable, and they express the opinion that if a larger police force had been first called out, the loss of life might have been avoided. The verdict is the subject of much discussion in the city.

OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS.

The Washington-correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, says: "Senator Ross, the Mexican Minister resident at Washington, has drawn up a solemn protest against the conduct of the American government, in regard to the Protocol in the Treaty of Peace, and handed a copy of it to each foreign Minister at Washington, with the request to have the matter brought to the cognizance of their respective governments.—Petersburg Intel."

DEFALCATION AND FRAUD.

A despatch to the New York Herald says: "The defalcation of Major Scott, late Navy Agent at the Washington Navy Yard, is set down at about $50,000. He had held the office for about fourteen years. Speculation is assigned as the proximate cause."

It is said that charges exist against a high officer in the War Department, which are being examined into, relative to frauds upon the government in the way of forged land warrants and other claims of dead soldiers, that had no existence.

SESSION OF THE CABINET, &c.

CHOLERA AT THE WEST.

The Western papers come freighted again, last night, with accounts of alarming ravages of cholera. The following is from the Louisville Journal of Saturday: "During the twenty-four hours ending last evening, we have heard of seven or eight new cases. A colored barber, and another colored man, are said to have died of cholera."

At Portland, several cases of cholera have also occurred, some of which have proved fatal. Mr. Ricketts, a contractor of the railroad, and seven of his men, have died of cholera at Floydburg.

The Cincinnati steambot Charles Hammond, arrived from New Orleans yesterday, had 30 cases and 9 deaths. The Child Harold, from the same port, had 6 deaths on board during her trip—one from cholera and five from ship fever.

The Mayville Eagle, of Thursday, gives the names of twenty-one persons in that city, and surrounding country, who died of cholera during the preceding 48 hours. It also reports 13 or more new cases during that time.

The New Albany Bulletin, of Thursday, reports one death from cholera in the preceding 24 hours. The Nashville papers report two deaths from cholera on the steambot Bolivar, arrived at that place.

The St. Louis Republican, of Tuesday, says: "The officers of the steamer St. Joseph, down yesterday from Council Bluffs, report having met the steamer Mary at Glasgow, bound up, with a number of Mormon emigrants on board. Captain Scott, of the Mary, informed the officers of the St. Joseph that there had been twenty-one deaths on board since she left that city; and there were 10 or 12 down with the same disease—cholera. The mortality was confined solely to the Mormon emigrants on deck, a great many of whom reached this city a few days previous, from New Orleans, in the worst possible condition as regards health."

The Officers of the St. Joseph also learned that there had been several deaths on board the Kansas but this rumor, it is thought, had grown out of the fatality on board the Mary. We are told that nine of the ten burials took place from one neighborhood in this city on Sunday. The victims were mostly foreigners, fresh from Europe, and were reported to have died of cholera. Nearly every patient had contracted symptoms of disease long before reaching this city. The St. Louis Era of the 7th, says: "The Iowa arrived last night with nearly four hundred deck passengers. Some 20 cases of cholera occurred on the passage up, near one half of which proved fatal."

The Madison (La.) Courier of Friday, says: "Two cases of cholera have occurred within the last two days, both fatal."

The Louisville Courier, of Saturday, however, asserts on the authority of physicians, that the general health of that city was never better than at this season. The Pittsburg Mercury of Monday, says: "In this city not one single case has occurred, which originated here, that we have heard of.—Our city continues healthy, and perfectly safe for strangers to visit."

A letter from Independence, April 20, says: "Up to this time there have died in all Kansas, with cholera, 23 persons. The population of Kansas does not exceed 600."

At this place we are most favored. Every day almost a case occurs, but yields readily to treatment, when taken in time."

From the Richmond Republican. DESTRUCTIVE CONFLAGRATION. THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS IN RUINS.

We are under obligations to those enterprising and indefatigable Telegraphic News Agents, Messrs. Garland & Thompson, of Baltimore, for the following important despatch, received at this office at 41 minutes after 6 o'clock last evening. BALTIMORE, Friday, 5 o'clock, P. M.

A destructive fire broke out at St. Louis, Missouri, this morning, at an early hour, which resulted most disastrously to the city. Nearly one half of the whole city—in the very heart of the business portion—is in ruins."

Five Banks, and every Insurance Office in the city, were destroyed.

Twenty-seven Steamboats, many of them richly freighted, while lying at their wharves, were burnt to the water's edge.

The Telegraph Office was also destroyed, but the instruments were subsequently removed across the river and put into operation to convey the news.

IMPORTANT DESPATCH FROM CALIFORNIA TO THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

WASHINGTON, May 17th—3 P. M. Information has been received by the U. S. Government, and is in possession of the Department, of preliminary arrangements in progress for the formation of a Government in California, which it is said will be formed before the meeting of the next Congress.

THE PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Pittsburg, May 17th 3 P. M. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, met this morning, but nothing of importance was done. The produce markets are unchanged, and business matters were a gloomy aspect. No cases of Cholera have appeared in our city, which is considered perfectly healthy.

STEAM BOAT DISASTER—LOSS OF LIFE.

Newark, New York, 7 May 18, 8 o'clock, A. M. The beautiful steamer Empire, of Troy, was run into by the schooner Noah Brown, at half past eight o'clock last night, opposite this place. She had sunk to her promenade deck, when the steamer Rip Van Winkle came to her assistance and rescued the lives of three hundred passengers. It is impossible to give the correct number of lives lost. A small boat has just come ashore with the bodies of three ladies from the wreck.

It is supposed that the submerged Cabins of the ill-fated steamer Empire contain some 20 or 30 dead bodies. 3 were found this morning, since then the boilers have been pumped and the body of a young lady found.

The Empire was not insured.

EFFECTS OF THE LATE DESTRUCTIVE FROST ON TWO ARTICLES OF AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Rabreau:—As one drawback to Southern Agriculture is, the liability to sudden vicissitudes of weather, and sudden frost on vegetation put forth, it would be well to inquire into such items of culture not subject to disappoint the farmer in this way. From the light of experience, I would respectfully suggest two, viz: Jerusalem Artichokes and Grapes. While Irish Potatoes and other early vegetables were cut down by the late frosts, these Artichokes stood uninjured. And when we take in view the wonderful productiveness of this vegetable, and its great facilities for feeding swine, it is of no mean importance as a source of Agricultural wealth. It stands all weathers in its spring growth, and is never injured by winter frosts. But as to store hogs in lots of this plant afford, without other trouble than turning them in, healthful feed all winter; and no better cooling alternate food for fattening swine in the fall. Grapes are peculiar in their bearing properties. The new branches putting forth in the Spring are the bearing parts of the vine. And hence, after a severe late frost destroys the young foliage and bearing twigs, they afterwards spring forth again, and generally no diminution of fruit. Four years since, when a frost like the late one this Spring, destroyed all other fruit nearly in the United States, the Grape product was abundant notwithstanding. Besides entertaining hundreds of visitors for partaking of Grape fruit in my Vineyards that year, I made an abundant crop of Wine. So, since the late frost, the Vines in my Vineyards have again sent forth bearing twigs and foliage and every indication of as good a yield, as if no severe freeze had occurred. So, when a farmer reflects that, in the Old North State, (found to be the best State in the Union for Vine culture, and especially its own native Scuppernon Grapes, the best Grape in the world for Southern culture,) no sarer crop can be cultivated than the Grape; and in its culture he is doing a business of first permanence among the ancient people of God, according to Bible record, and a business of vast importance to the cause of true temperance, by experience in other countries, he need not hesitate to embark therein, by motives of profit, morals and religion.

Most respectfully submitted to fellow farmers by SIDNEY WELLER.

BIRTH OF A CANADIAN LORD ELGIN.

MONTREAL, May 17, 1849. The Countess of Elgin has this day presented the Governor with a son and heir. Both doing well.

BISHOP ONDERDONK.

The Episcopal convention of Pennsylvania, now in session in Philadelphia, has adopted the following resolutions almost unanimously:

Resolved, That the removal by the House of Bishops of the disabilities imposed by that body on the Right Rev. Henry U. Onderdonk, D. D., would give great satisfaction to the individuals, clerical and lay, composing this Convention, and also, it is believed, to many others, as well in the Church generally as in the Diocese once under his jurisdiction. Resolved, moreover, That while such removal would cheer the declining years of a venerable and distinguished servant in the Church, it would secure, to his many admirable productions their just estimation by posterity, and be in accordance with the charity so eloquently portrayed in the teaching, and so consistently exemplified in the conduct of the great Apostle of the Gentiles.

A LADY EDITOR.

Mr. Renet, late editor of the Yazoo City Whig having died, his widow has taken charge of the paper, and will in future conduct it in her own name. She writes us a beautiful letter, requesting us to exchange with her. She had only to command, and we should most cheerfully have obeyed. We welcome the fair editress into our rank, with all our heart. We have long wanted the presence of a lady in the corps, to soften the asperities which beset the path and harden the character of political editors, rendering them but too often insensible to the charities of life. Our fair sister will, we have no doubt, become the pet of the whole fraternity. All will unite in protecting her, no matter how often they indulge in the sport of tearing out each other's eyes.

NEW FOUND SISTER, WE ARE HAPPY TO LEARN, LIKE THE MAJORITY OF THE BETTER SEX, IS A GENUINE WHIG.

We look forward to much pleasure and instruction from her pen. Richmond Whig.

A PRISONER "SELLING" HIS KEEPER.

Wm Phillips, alias Phelps and Porter, was tried in Lowell, in November last, upon three indictments for burglary, and sentenced to hard labor nine years in State Prison. Shortly after he obtained an interview with Mr. Robinson, the Warden, and told him that he had "planted" $300,000 in a locality which he described. After consulting with Mr. Nichols, marshal of Charlestown it was determined to search for the prize. Phillips was granted a holiday and the trio proceeded by cab to the station of the Old Colony railroad, and thence by cars to Fall River, near which Phillips pointed out the spot where they must dig. They went to work with a will. Phillips superintended operations, and the City Marshal and Warden relieved one another at the spade. The marshal was at work with the shovel, and had made a hole six feet deep. Phillips and the warden were on the bank cheering him to still greater exertions. Just before Nichols came to the shovels, Phillips shoved Robinson into the hole, commenced burying them up, and vanished. The warden and the marshal had so much dust in their eyes that they could not pursue him to advantage; and the marshal had a sprained ankle. So they came home. Nichols took to his bed, and Robinson offered a reward for the arrest of Phillips, who was taken to Fall River in logs, which were removed in order to allow him to take his farm at the shovels. He is forty five years old, six feet ten inches in height, dark complexion, blue eyes, and dark hair.

THE MIND THAT MAKES THE MAN.

A proud patrician lord one day, His plebeian neighbor met; And thus in most disdainful way, The worthy man beset:

A clown thou art, yet still they say There's mind within thy breast; That Science' giddy mountain heights Thy roving feet have press'd;

That fame awards her laurel crown To rest upon thy brow; That richer things than gold or leasurs Thou hast in keeping now.

Yet plainly still thy garb and color, Ignoble birth proclaim; What fancy strange is prompting thee To carve thyself a name?

A moment on the scornful face, The plebeian's eyes were bent; A moment, and his answer came In words the heart made eloquent:

My father was a woodman's son, Who left unto his child No gold nor lands, but richer far— A birth-right undivided.

And I am proud to own my sire, Though plebeian he may be; For Heaven hath placed upon his brow The stamp of its nobility.

Not for thy lands, nor yet, indeed, For all thy wide domain, Would I renounce the laurel crown By hard-earned labor gain'd.

Onward and upward, it shall be My meteor lightning still, My chosen path, its trusty guide Omnipotence of will.

Strange language this, news words to him, The child of wealth and pride; Whose random shafts so rudely aimed, Their lowly mark defied.

And silently he turned away, Though pausing first to scan The speaker's visage, as if to read "The mind that makes the man."
