DEMOCRACE: FAILURE

It is prove amorent now, that the effort of the nounity to ministry the prople of North Carolson, an applicable to New Mexico and Califormis was turned but a consider failure. How- appearance and its matter indicates some spirit and ever much wo are opposed to the Democratic doc- taste. We welcome its editor to the corps and trine that "all's fair in politics," we would be wil-Ring to go great lengths, in rebuiling in a proper manuer the needless interference of the Narthern people with the suffice of Slavery, net only bere, in the States, but also in the Teacheries-but when a question becomes abstract, and practically can effect nothing, either one way or the other-canpot keep Streery out of the new Territories, for that is excluded, no less by the prevailing haw, which has never been changed, than by the prevailing sentiments of the people already there, and party effect, any matter which may tend to weaktor so serious, so momentous, as to bear overwhelming results along with it, threatening the very existence of our free institutions. Our Democratic friends will therefore have to give it up-and it only proves that the position which the Whig presses of the State have taken, upon this subject, is the right one. It is the only unite. We shall be pleased, therefore, to have umon with the Democratic party of the State, in our resistance to the abolition of Slavery in the before large measures are announced; in "com-District of Colombia-and we invite their co-operation. It is true, their organ in Raleigh, the Standard has omitted the power of Congress over Slavery in the District-but we apprehend he will have to tration of Gen. Taylor. Assuredly most unfair .crarchish out of that. When he does, we've got him It has been denounced in advance of its action : -- and his canital in the Wilmot proviso being ex- its motives have been aspersed in the absence of ploded, -when he goes to look for thunder to make all proof ; its capacity disputed before there is room on the District question, he will find it prepared to for judgment ; its policy assailed before it is develhis hand, already manufactured by those indomitalife guardians of the people's rights, the Whig pres ses of the State.

We apprehend that all attempts which may be made so to agitate the question of shavery as connected with the Wilmot proviso, as to get up meetings in the State for the purpose of denouncing it, and threatening the Union in case of its passage, will prove miserable failures--more especially, when such action is sought by the Democratic party, who alone are responsible for its being inserted in the Oregon hill which passed, and received the anotion of the Democratic President Polk.

But, it is really laughable to see the shifts to which the Democratic Organ of the State are driven, when the Standard really sets up the plea, that Mr. Polk approved that till, because the territory by North of the Missouri Compromise line! Why, dont every one know, that when the bill was upon its passage, the Missouri Compromise was proposap us an umendment, and rejected by the vote of the Democratz ? What impudence, then, in Mr. Palk, or Mr. Anybodyelse, to pretend, that that hill passed and was approved to carry out the dissouri Compromise, when we have the testimony of every speaker on both sides of the discussion, the vorg above "alluded to, and the concurrent evidence o. Caligun and Benom, directly and emphasically, that the Wilmot proviso was inserted in the Oregon bill, for the specific purpose of asserting the unlittlied power of Congress over me whole subject of Slavery in the Territoriest. Which now will the people believe,-these great actors and leaders who would be engaged in the enterprise ; and yet in the husiness, or the small Democratic. He however, boldly defends Gen. Taylor from the ribuld abuse of the Locofoco press in quite a nest forcible article which we transfer to our colums ; "That an alert and organized opposition to every administration, in a free representative government, should exist, none will question. It may be safely assumed, as a general rule, that all such governthat of the people going there in such swarms ments are prose in pursuit of some favorite policy, from the Free States;) and cannot infroduce it, to over stop their constitutional limits, or to stretch for that no one proposes to do by L.w or regula- and abuse their admitted powers. It is tempering with a mat- buse, to denotate every usurpation. Such an opposition, whether prompted by love of office or love of country, by willatover motive is the best safeguard of liberty ; because it keeps the great body of the people constantly alive to their own rights, and watchful of the acts of their rulers. But such appointion to be meetal or successful or ever respectable, must be judiclous as well as vigtenable one- the only one upon which we all can | dant ; awaiting action, not denouncing in advance, not imputing evil tests, where contrary presumptions are more natural ; not cavilling obout trifles mending when it can, but censuring when it must,

To these general propositions no objection can be made. Tried by them, what has been the character so far, of the opposition offered to the adminisoped; It has been condemned without a trial, and consured without a r ason. Who knows what will be the policy of the administration ? Whether it will or will not favor a protective tariff; whether it will recommend a National Bank or not What are its views on Internal Improvements by the Federal Government, and so on. If any one is authorized to say, we should be most happy to hear him. In a short time the President must speak ; must announce his policy. When he does to let it he judged ; until then, all judgment is premature. So far, it must be admitted, the opposition have manifested a predetermined hostility as little tinctured with discretion as charty

The friends of this enterprise, and, we may say, the friends of the State have some cause to be gratified at the favorable indications which have lately appeared in certain quarters in regard to taking the necessary stock to construct the Road. The passage of the bill seems to have been hailed from all quarters with approbation, but there was not exhibited such a readiness to take the stock required by the charter. All were ready to admit that it would be of immense advantage to the interests of the whole State, and that considerations of patriotism and State pride, should induce our citizens to come prompily forward and readily embark in the enterprise. CHEROKEE INDIANS. Our young friend and brother, Mr. L. B. Lz-MAT, has been among the Indians in the Western part of the State, and gives the following account of an Indian Town House and Indian Dance. He shows great appreciation of the taste of the Indian women; but the Raleigh girls must not get jealous; though they may be prepared to take him to task on his return for keeping such late hours among those squarer.

"The Town House in the great council chamber of the nation, and is entirely a piece of native architecture. It is built of logs and covered with poles and boards. For about six feet in height it is of a cylindrical shape, the roof taking the form of a cone and sloping into a point on top. The room is about 15 or 20 vards in diameter, and the apex of the roof at least 30 or 40 feet from the ground. A large fite was made up in the middle of the floor and the sents were atranged in a circular form near the wall.

"The leader of the Dance took down the kun-la squash, half full of corn, with a long wooden hap-He to it. The dancers followed the musicians around the fire until the cirale was completed, when the squuws were brought in and partners selected by the 'driver' or overseer. The women were very tastefully dreamed, their raven hair beautifully plaited and their aneles strong with gourds, terrapin shells and other musical instruments! They song, shouled and went through the most ludicrom pantominic gestures I ever saw. And I found enough to amuse and divert me until long after midnight." a badaming toge of the larger portion of those more linmediately interested in it, to take any step in that great work : and so each section of the State has delayed, to see what would be done by others, until the friends and advocates of the work had almost begun to despair of its ultimate success. "Tis true, some one or two Counties, through the activity and geal of some of their leading men, have taken hold of it manfully and have fully done their share towards its accomplishment: but an unwarranted apathy has characterized the course of a large por tion of our people heretofore. Facts and argu ments without number and irresistible in their nature, have been deduced and urged in behalf of this Road, and no one can say with reason that all the probabilities are not in favor of its being a permanent improvement to the State and a profitable investment to her citizens. We are gratified to see that this subject has attracted the attention of the citizens of other Counties than those immediately along the propose route, Wilmington, Petersburg, and, we learn, even some of the cities further North, have taken some steps in this matter, and we hope to have the gratification of informing our readers soon, that the entire stock has been taken, and that the work and shook it as a signal to commence. This is a has been commenced. This true, it would be much more grafifying to our feelings, were our own citizens to take the stock, for we procestly believe that it would be profitable ; but we would rejoice to see it taken by oupitalists from any section of the country who believe that it will be a safe in vestment. We are satisfied that if the Road be built, (and the probabilities are certainly in fivor of it,) all will regret that it was not accomplished by the labor and capital we have in our own bordors-and it is to be sincarely hoped that it is not yet too late for our people to take hold of the matter boldly, and sceure the entire advantage to be derived from the work to our own citizens. In this we shall emplate each other, and thus push forward an enterprise willich more than anything else will have the effect of elevating the character of our State, and making hs as hoted, for our enterprise and improvement, as we now are for our bonesty and industry.

Wilmington Chropiele.

I.T It does really seen that every portion of our great country,-from Texas to Oregon-from New York to California,-yea, even Wilmington on our own coast and Bankam in our own mountains,-is alive to its own interest,-quickened by the Spirit of the Age-with the exceptions of this the heart of North Carolina ! The benumbing paralysis which has reigned so long in our interior is broken occasionally by a fitful spasse, which we hardly know whether to look upon as a sign of life, or a sad prelude to the fasting stillness of the epulcine ! Are the efforts which have marked the past summer the mere struggles of una vailing new-born energy, to live, and to increase in life and power until we shall have attained a proud postion in the progress of our sister States ?

We confess that we look tremblingly to the fu ture. Yet do we also look hopefully-trustingly. We look much to the Convention which is to us sample in this place the 29th of Novemper next .-We depend much upon the plans and deliberations of that body. We hope to see a full and interest representations of the friends of internal improvenont from the East and from the West of our State, and a crowded representation from all the counties along the proposed line of the Central Road. If is all important that its friends should come forth in their strength ; for whatever is done, must be done quickly. We know enough of the history of North Carolina legislation and legislators, to predict that on the opening of the cunvass for our State elections next Spring, every advantage will be taken by demagognes of popular ignorance in many quarters, to defeat the hopes of the liberal minded one of North Carolina who have this great work at heart - Greeniburo Par

POWER OF LOVE! The sontiment of love is too frequently made light of ; that which has been the central fire of many revolutions is mockingly referred to as if it vere a subject for trifling. But love in a man is an ennobling pass.on; it is as dow upon the flowors, as purple dawn upon the sky, as the quiet streamlet in the valley, as an orchard resplendent with early blossoms ! it is a morning prayer ; it is an evening hymn ; it is a child asleep dreaming of heaven It may be as a deluge that spreads aund a viewless waste, without a davo, olive branch, or rainbow; it may be as a delectable countain asunder by the inward fire ; it may be as the home sickness of the exile ; it may be deapair; it may be insanity, that sings low and melincholy airs ; it may be ineanity that laughs aloud and then expires. Love, while its object lives in ourity, makes a poet of him with whom it dwells ploughboy in the field-the sailor in the throuds has his dreams and glories; he has in his own way the most passionate imagination-it kindles up the dormant faculties-it ronnes fancy in the stopid-it looses the tongue of the stammeror it leuds the most illiterate speech and eloquence -repressest sonsuality, and tames even the savaga; it gives joy and fear and happiness; it renlers even the mean heroic, and fills them with selfespect.
