PROSPECTUS OF THE WHIG BANNER.

THE undersigned purposes to establish, in the town of Halifax, a Weekly Newspaper under the above title.

Believing, as we do, that the principles of the Whig party are best calculated to sustain the honor and promote the prosperity of the whole country, we will ever give them, through the columns of the Banner, a zealous and unwavering support. At the same time we are determined never to deny justice to a political opponent, nor to forget the courtesy which is due to our brethren of the Press.

The columns of the "Banner" will not be entirely taken up with the discussion of political subjects; on the contrary a large space will be devoted to the interests of Agriculture; to Literary Articles, original and select; and to the news of the day generally. By this means it is hoped to make the "Banner" a family, as well as a political Paper.

Therefore as 60, 70 or more barrels of wine will be constantly making, for about two months on the subscriber's presses by self and neighbours, all visiters desirous may, by personal inspection and information, avail of long and well tested experiments to make best American wines. It will be noticed that like the wise procedure of the vintners of Maderia and Oporto, about one third of spirits mixed with grape juice as a pure safe keeping ingredient, (some juice boiled to a syrup in an oak box with a copper bottom, but this not wine really.) And here observed that spirit and sugar the purest and most preservative prinples in creation pervading in some form all the vegetable world. And as in all wines really so, the alcoholic and sucharine principles, naturally constituent parts, why consider it adulterating wines to add those materials artificially when not enough in grape juice? Maderia and Port wines, the best foreign medicinally, not considered impure, if got genuine, though one third spirits therein. And why should a prejudice exist as to making American wines by adding a sufficiency of spirite or sugar ? Or say as to sugar 3 lbs. at least per gallon, as equivalent to one third of spirits? Unless interested foreigners and their agents here should encourage this notion to keep us dependant on the East for annual millions worth of wines of very and instructive reading among the masses of the endubious genuineness and health? And especially this prejudice injurious to us as retarding the advance rance. For I have ever held that as in eastern lands wine making counties temperate, so would

> And therefore, the vineyard cause indirectly at least grandly auxiliary to the noble efforts of the Sons of Temperance; notwithstanding some individuals blindly contend for the adverse doctrine. But as an antidote to the influence of such they incidentally at least attack christianity or the Bible itself, sanctioning the temperate use of wine; and then attempt to make wine a curse instead of a blessing implies the blasphemy of charging our Saviour the greatest pattern of temperance as immoral for making and drinking wine, or for doing that on account of which the Pharisies of eld called him by way of reproach a
