The one subject which engrossed the last, will doubtles give way to other of great variety which, in this progressive country, the conflicts of party and the ambition for place the conflicts of party and the ambition for place and distinction, necessarily produce. Vast interests will be at stake upon the decisions of the next Congress; which will be evoked in their discussion. All the honors of the Republic, dependent on the succession to the Presidency, as well as all the great and permanent interests which go to the advancement of the power of the country, will give impulse to the action of the next session of Congress.

The Daily Gloss will be published daily during the session of Congress, and weekly the remainder of the year. It will contain full and faithful re; ports of the proceedings of both Houses of Congress, and miscellaneous articles on those general subjects to which it is devoted. The WEEKLY GLOSE will contain Agricultural
