THE LATE YANKEE RAID INTO EAST TEN-NESSEE.

As there are a thousand rumors in regard to the late raid of the Yankees upon the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad, we publish the following s atement of the matter from the Greeneville (Tenn.) Panner of the 3d instant :

C.l. R. G. A. Love, of the 62d N. C. Regiment, who was captured by the bridge burners, has been pa-I led, and arrived in this place on last Thursday .-The Colonel has given a tull statement of the whole affair, which fully exonerates himself, and his noble officers and privates from any censure whatevert. The whole force guarding the two bridges did not exceed 200 men. This little band of soldiers-for soldiers they are-were attacked by five Abolition regiments, numbering about 4,000 troops

On Tuesday morning Gen. Kirby Smith dispatched to Gen. Marshall that a Yankee force, supposed to le from four to six thousand strong, had been seen the night previous at Estelville, Va., en route for Bristol or some other point on the E. Term, and Va. rai'road. This was communicated to Col. Love by special conrier. The Colonel was at Johnson's Depot headquarters, at the time He immediately proceeded, in company with the telecraphic operator from Jone .. loro, on an engine to repair the line, it being down, and to reconneitre the road between that and Bristol, not thinking the every had vet approached. On arriving at Carter's Depot he inspected the troops stationed there. 120 men; and doubled the guard. He then proceeded towards Zillicoffer, to see if all was right at that point. On approaching this place he discovered the bridge over Holsten on fi c. and a mement afterwards the engine upon which he came was surrounded by Yackees, they having concealed themselves in ambush until he had passed. The track being obstructed in the rear, and the Col. seeing retreat useless surrendered himself a prisoner of war. He was then placed under a guard of 20 Yankees, after which they proceeded with 2,000 men (being half their number) to Carter's Depot, to des roy the bridge over Watauga. Upon their arrival at Carter's Denot they precipitated their whole force at once upon the little hand there stationed, which was under the command of Lieut. J. R. Dill's. This sni Al, force of 129 men withstood the onset bravely and contested every inch of ground, when at last they were overwhelmed and compelled to surrender. The casualties on the side of the enemy were much greater in proportion to numbers than ours. The Yankees had four killed and several wounded. Our loss was 7 wounded, one mortaly. After the fight the bridge was set on fire, and the engine, bearing Col. Love, was run back to Carter's Depot, the prisoners taken off and paroled. The steam was then increased, the muskets and swords belonging to our men were broken and placed on the engite. The engine was then put in motion by a Yanker by the name of McNish, who used to run as engineer on the E. Tenn. and Va. railroad, which can on the burning bridge, and all went under. Licut. Dill's sword was returned to him by the Yankee Commander, in honor of himself and the officers and soldiers under him, for the bold and daring manner in which they defended the bridge. The officers under the command of Lieut Dills were Lt. W H. Bryson, Lt R. M. Wilson, of Co. H. Lt. Gash and. Lt. Gadsden, of Co. E.

A dispatch from New York, dated 29th ult., says The Tribune's Washington special correspondent says Stuart's cavalry has made the entire circuit of Burnside's army, capturing 2.510 prisoners. The 17th Pennsyivania cavalry was nearly demolished. He captured a battery of six guns, large trains of wagons, and Government property of every description.

KENTUCKY TO BE THE BATTLE GROUND. The Cincinnati Commercial says there is no longer a doubt that Kentucky is to be the great battle field. A Cincinnati dispatch says that Morgan was within thirty miles of Louisville. Marshall, Floyd and other Generals are advancing from Comberland gap and other points into the heart of Kentucky, with thirty-five thousand troops.

Dispatches say that Rosencranz is a " played out institution." He has not been heard of for four days.

GREELY CALLING FOR AN ARMISTICE -It was but a short time since that Greely of the New York Tribune was wishing the subjugation of the South. He is now calling for an armistice. The Louisville Journal of the 21st contains a letter from Greely to Congress asking for an armistice:

He says that 500,000 men have been killed in the Federal army since the war commenced, and still their point is no nearer. He also makes a speech of the same character in New York, urging on the people the moral necessity of an armistice.

RIOTOUS PROCEEDINGS IN DANVILLE - A good deal of excitement was created in Danville yesterday by the riotous conduct of some of the soldiers (convalescent hospital patients) there. In the morning a countryman's wagon was upset by a soldier, who was arrested by the Mayor and put in prison.

The mass of the soldiers in the place to the number of 1,200 or 1,500 then collected around the jail swearing to have the man out or tear the jail down. The Mayor was firm in refusing to liberate him. The military authorities at Richmond have been advised of the facts by telegraph. Last night at 6 o,clock the crowd was still around the prison.

PRESIDENT DAVIS' MESSAGE.

RICHOND, Jan. 14. The message of President Davis opens with a review of the military position of affairs, which is viewed as 'The facth' great army of invasion has been defeated in Virgina, and Gea. Burnside has experienced the fate of his three predecessors-McDowell, Me-Clellan and Pope.

In the West, the fortunes of war have been vari ous. Battles have been fought with frightful carnage on both sides; but the hopes of the enemy of any decisive results have been baffled. A review of its history shows that the war has now entered its third and last stage. The first effort was to restore the Union, and has been abandoned .-The second was to conquer the South and govern it as a dependency; this too, has proved impossible and has been abandoned. The third design is to distroy and plunder what they could not subjugate. If we continue the same efforts as in the past, this design will likewise be defeated; and we may confidently expect that this is the closing year of the war. The enemy will possess neither spirit nor resources for continuing it into the fourth year on so extensive a

We desire peace, but will continue the war at any sacrifice until our right to self-government and the sovereignty and independence of the States are vindicated and established.

Foreign relations are then reviewed. Our right to recognition is shown by reference to the past history of our States, some of which were recognized as indepent by Great Britain in the treaty of peace of 1783, and had been previously allies in the war with France. When our Commissioners demanded recognition, they were told that that foreign governments could not decide between the conflicting statements by our government and that of the United States in respect to our national relations, and that Europe would simply recognize us as beliegerents and preserve a strict nutrality. This apparent refusal to decide was in reality a decision against us, because we were thus unjustly deprived of diplomatic intercourse on the same footing as our enemies.

The question of the blocka le is discussed at legth Its invalidity is shown as tested by the principles of the treaty of Paris in 1856. The whole conduct of the neutral nations is seammed up so as to show that they have enforced all neural rights that affected us injuriously and refrained from asserting those t at would injure the United States.

The correspondence between the Courts of Brance, Great Britian and Russia is adverted to The language of the French dispatch is construed as a formal admission of our ability to maintain our independence, and justifies the hope of an early recognition.

The barbacities committed by the Northern troops are referred to, and the action taken in relation to the atrocities : omnitted by Generals McNeill and Butler and the mintary explained The opinion is expresed that the infamy of their conduct must be shared by their superiors, who have it no one instance par-ished the perpetrators of these crimes. In regard to Lincoln's proclamation he says, our detestation is tempered by profound contempt for his impotent rage. The action of the government will be confined to delivering up all commissioned officers heretofore (?) captured in the ten States named in the proclamation, to be tried by the States under the laws which punish those that excite savile insurrec-

The proclamation is treated as something possessing great significance. In a political view it proves what were the designs of the Republican party from the bcginning, notwithstanding their efforts to conceal them by false declarations. The proclamation is next considered as a guarantee against the possibility of reconstruction. It is also treated as a confession of their inability to subjugate the South, which Europe will be bound to consider as justifying our immediate reregultion, and as an intimation to the people of the North that they must submit to the final separation of Adequate taxation is recommended. Also the issue of bonds to be guaranteed by the States. The message, the longest yet issued by the President, embraces a comprehensive review of the whole internal and external relations of the country. It is confident, even triumphant in tone, and closes with a trionte to our women, without whose sublime sacrifices it declares that our success would have been impossible.

$100 REWARD. R UNAWAY from the subscriber's planta-tion, in Caswell county, N. C., on Sunday night. December 28th, 1862, two negro boys, named John and Jerry, for whose apprehension I will pay FIFTY DOL-

JOHN is a dark looking negro, about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, and a little tongue-tied. Had on, when he left, a green jacket with metal buttons. He formerly belonged to the estate of John Cook Green, of Culpeper county, JERRY is about the same color of John, features rather sharp, spare-made and about John's height; wore, when he left, a copperas-colored coat, and a cap with a red hand around it, and a rosette of ribbon on one side. He formerly belonged to a gentleman in Pitt county, N. C., whose name is not remembered.

Both of these negroes were recently purchased by me in Richmond, and I suspect that they will endeavor to make their way into the Yankee lines in the eastern part of North Caarolina. I will pay the above reward for their apprehension and confinement in jail, so that I can get them, and any information which may lead to that will be thankfully received and suitably rewarded. Address. C. G. HOLLAND, Danville, Va. 64-d2w

Economy in House-Keeping. DERSONS WISHING TO ECONOMISE WILL BO well to send the subscriber two dollars, for which he will send them three receipts, the most useful to House-

Keepers ever used.

First, I will send a receipt for doubling the ordinary country-made or turpentine soap, at a cost of not more than two cents per pound in addition to the cost of the than two cents per pound in addition than the ordinary soap, and makes them much whiter, soap. This article washes clothes with much less rubbing I have sold a great many of these receipts and so far, I have not heard a single complaint. Second, One for making an excellent article of washing

In using this preparation very little rubbing will be necessary. The ingredients for making the same are kept in most Drug and Grocery Stutes. By using this preparation, clothes can be prepared for the starch and icon cheaper, and with more case, than the ordinary way of washing. The article can be made in a very short time. Third, One for making patent starch polish. The use of this polish will enable the most ordinary larger to give linen the appearance of just having left the hands of the most experienced unisher. Very beautiful.

No Savings Bank notes taken in payment.
