See local adv. by Mrs. Holley offering furniture for sale.

Capt. John N. McDowell, of Beloit, is visiting in town.

Miss Della Clark, of Wilmington, is visiting Miss Sallie W. Scott.

Miss Sara Myrick, of Littleton, visited Miss Nettie Gardner this week.

Mr. W. A. Miles left for Durham this week. He has a large tinning contract there.

B. G. Green, Esq., returned Friday from an extended trip to Weldon and Norfolk.

Mr. Holley M. Bell, of Chapel Hill, spent Sunday and Monday in town behind a dashing horse.

Mr. and Mrs. John Batly Boyd, and Miss Lucy Boyd are visiting their brother, Mr. R. B. Boyd.

Read the examination notice in this issue. Supt. Rodwell is anxious that all interested shall be governed accordingly.

The Rev. A. Cree, of Embro, passed through town Monday on his way to assist Mr. Taylor in the meeting at Brown's Chapel.

B. G. Green, Esq. went to Henderson the first of the week to assist in the trial of the negro charged with the killing of Roadmaster Fred Stevers.

The Rev. Arch. C. Cree, of Gaffney, S. C., was in town last Monday. Mr. Cree is pastor of the first Baptist church in Gaffney and a scholarly, earnest, Christian, and withal a jovial fellow.

Mr. T. A. Williams, of Inez, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Williams has a clock, about 160 years old, that belonged to his paternal grand-mother. He says that it keeps good time and that he would not take $500. for it.

Miss Bell, a celebrated elocutionist, of Richmond, Va., will give an entertainment in Mr. Graham's Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 3rd. Half the proceeds will go to the organ fund of the Methodist church. We hope many will attend.

The Warrenites who went to Henderson on Monday were not mixed up in any of the disturbances there. But nobody expected that they would be. Warren county can boast of lawabiding citizens, even on so exhilarating an occasion as a circus in a sister town.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to any drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. One or two doses will make you well. They also cure biliousness, sick head aches and constipation.

Rosetta Somerville, a former nurse in the Somerville family died this week. Aunt Rosetta was the mother of 18 children and would have been 93 in December. She left four sons and three daughters, besides numerous white friends, to mourn her death. Interment was in "Possum Quarter" cemetery on Thursday at 3 p. m.

Mr. J. A. Clark, of Macon, sold his crop of tobacco last week for $1,575.00 in the pack house. His crop was raised on 16 acres, and the above price was secured after Mr. Clark had sold one barn and had one burned up. After paying the expenses on his whole crop Mr. Clark says he cleared $1,000.

Get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets at any drug store. They are easier to take and more pleasant in effect than pills. Their use is not followed by constipation as is often the case with pills. Regular size, 25c per box.

Mrs. Roberta S. Nicholson, daughter of the late H. T. Jeffers died last Monday at her home in Grafton, Va. Mrs. Nicholson was the wife of the Rev. J. W. Nicholson an honored minister in the Methodist church. She had been sick for some time and was carried to a hospital in Richmond with the hope that she might recover but when it was evidenced that she could not she was brought home. Interment was in Nicholson burying ground at Oakville. The deceased had many friends here who extend their heartfelt sympathy to husband and relatives.

He Learned a Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip, that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all Druggists.

Look Out for Fever.

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pills do not gripe. They move the bowels gently, copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties, give tone and strength to the glands.

A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

Nine choice spirits (not, however liquid) gathered in the studio of Mr. J. W. Buck, Friday evening to enjoy each other's company and a sumptuous repast. Our host called it a "camp supper" but he underrated its epicurean value. It was the climax of culinary art. Covers were laid for the following: J. W. Buck, J. C. Hardy, Geo. E. Pennington, of Tarboro, W. K. Bernam, Rob. Watson, Dr. W. W. Taylor, B. P. Terrell, R. E. Davis and Alan Pressley Wilson; who did full justice to the spread.

Every dog has his day and Charles Alston—our quondam waiter—had his. Sitting at the head of the table with rich viands before him and nine white men serving him, he reached the position of power which he has long coveted. For dessert peaches and cream were served, but Charles could not enjoy them as some recreant mixed a mass of pepper in the delicious syrup and a hot, choking throat resulted. [Note—Is this a prophecy that if Charles is ever permitted to assume the responsibility of government his high est ambition will be crushed; and the same nine men be instrumental in its consummation?]

The scene changes and the former lord of all is quickly placed in the prisoners' box before that august judge Geo. E. Pennington, for trial. The attorneys for the prosecution and defense were respectively, Messrs. J. W. Buck and Alan Pressley Wilson. Competent witnesses proved that the prisoner was justly accused of stealing everything but a red hot stove and an elephant.

After the case had been given to the jury (B. P. Terrell and Dr. W. W. Taylor) the verdict of "guilty" was quickly brought in. Judge Pennington gave the prisoner twenty-five years in the penitentiary at the expiration of which sentence he should "hang by the neck until dead." Mr. J. C. Hardy asked to be allowed to go on the prisoner's bond. This was refused but he was given permission to take Charles aside and give him some counsel. In an unguarded moment, however, the prisoner "hit the girl" and is still running if he hasn't stopped.

The eight choice spirits warmly congratulated the ninth choice spirit on the pleasure afforded, and adjourned to await the invitation from one of the other choice spirits.

Death of Miss Fleming.

News was received here one day last week of the death of Miss Lula Fleming, daughter of Jno. A. Fleming, of Middleburg, and niece of Capt. T. M. Fleming, with whom she lived here several years. While in Louisa she made a host of friends who were grieved to learned of her death. She was a young woman of character and possessed a most lovable disposition. Her sisters, Misses Lucy and Etta Fleming went from here to attend the funeral.—Louisa Times, Sept. 29th.

We had intended noting the death of Miss Fleming last week but lack of space prevented. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.
