JAP-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT

All Russians Taken Prisoners, the Officers Being Paroled—All Forts and War Materials to be Turned Over to the Japanese Army.

Tokio, By Cable.—A telegram from General Nogai giving the text of the capitulation convention was received Tuesday afternoon. It is as follows: "Article 1.—All Russian soldiers, marines, volunteers, also government officials at the garrison and harbor of Port Arthur, are taken prisoners."

"Article 2.—All forts, batteries, warships, other ships and boats, arms, ammunition, horses, all materials for the same use, government buildings and all objects belonging to the Russian government shall be transferred to the Japanese army in their existing condition."

"Article 3.—On the preceding two conditions being assented to, as a guarantee for the fulfillment thereof the men garrisoning the forts and the batteries on this mountain, Sungshu Mountain, Antse Mountain and the line of eminences southeast therefrom shall be removed by noon of January 5, and the same shall be transferred to the Japanese army."

"Article 4.—Should Russian military or naval men be deemed to have destroyed objects named in article 2 or in their condition at the existing time the signing of this compact and the negotiations shall be annulled and the Japanese army will take free action."

"Article 5.—The Russian military and naval authorities shall prepare and transfer to the Japanese army a table showing the fortifications of Port Arthur and their respective positions, and maps showing the location of mines, underground and submarine, and all other dangerous objects; also a table showing the composition and system of the army and naval services at Port Arthur, a list of army and navy officers with names and rank and duty of said officers; a list of army steamers, warships and other ships; with the number of their respective crews; a list of civilians, showing the number of men, women, their races and occupations."

"Article 6.—Arms, including those carried on the person; ammunition, objects owned by the government, horses, warships and other ships, including their contents, excepting private property, shall be left in their present positions and the commissioners of the Russian and Japanese army shall decide upon the method of their transportation."

"Article 7.—The Japanese army, considering the gallant resistance offered by the Russian army as being honorable, will permit the officers of the Russian army and navy as well as officers belonging thereto, to carry their private property, to take with them private property directly necessary for the maintenance of life. The previously mentioned officers, officials and volunteers who will sign a written parole pledging that they will not take up arms in any way against the Japanese army until the close of the Japanese army to return to their country. Each army and navy officer will be allowed one servant, and such servant will be specially released on signing the parole."

"Article 8.—Non-commissioned officers and privates of both army and navy and volunteers shall wear their uniforms and, taking portable tents and necessary private property, and be commanded by their respective officers shall assemble at such places as may be indicated by the Japanese army. The Japanese commissioners will decide the necessary details therefor."

"Article 9.—The sanitary corps and the accountants belonging to the Russian army and navy shall be retained by the Japanese while their services are deemed necessary for the caring for the sick and wounded soldiers. During such time each corps shall be required to render services under direction of the military corps and accountants of the Japanese army."

"Article 10.—The treatment to be accorded to the residents, the transfer of books and documents relating to municipal administration and finance and also details necessary for the enforcement of this compact shall be embodied in a supplementary compact. The supplementary compact shall have force as this compact."

"Article 11.—One copy, each of this compact shall be prepared for the Japanese and Russian armies, and it shall have immediate effect upon signature thereof."

Maxwell for chief clerk. John W. Simpson of Rutherford county, engraving clerk; Brown Pegram, of Raleigh, sergeant-at-arms; R. W. Stanley, of Wilkes, assistant door-keeper.

Sail for Hamburg. Newport News, Va., Special.—The German steamship Adria sailed for Hamburg Tuesday with two of the Lake submarine boats which are said to be consigned to the Russian government. The delay in the Adria's departure has been explained. The vessel was held up by an agent for the underwriters, who insisted upon the submarines being more securely fastened to the decks, fearing that rough seas might cause damage to the boats by dislocating the mechanical parts.

Japs Entered Tuesday. Tokio, By Cable.—The text of General Nogai's telegram announcing the capitulation of the Russian forces at Port Arthur has been received. The plenipotentiaries of both parties concluded their negotiations Monday at 4:30 o'clock. The Russian commissioners accepted on the whole the stipulations of the Japanese. The document has been prepared and signatures are now being affixed. Simultaneously with the conclusion of negotiations, both armies suspended hostilities. It is expected that the Japanese army will enter the city of Port Arthur Tuesday.
