KILLS LIKE LIGHTNING.

How Deadly Rheumatism of the Heart Comes On.

Those pains you feel when you first arise in the morning—aching pains in the joints, shooting pains in the muscles—sire signs of warning. They are danger signals, evidences of a deep-seated trouble that if not removed may affect the entire system and cause chronic disease, or if the cause is not removed, they may develop suddenly into the deadly Rheumatism of the Heart, which kills like lightning.

Better get rid of the cause at once. Rheumatism and its kindred diseases are caused by the accumulation of poisonous acids in the blood. Rubbing with oils or liniments will not cure it; it is an internal disease and can be conquered only by an internal remedy. There is just one complete cure—RHEUMACIDE. RHEUMACIDE neutralizes the poisonous acids, sweeps all the dangerous germs out of the blood and "makes you well all over." RHEUMACIDE CURES because it is the only remedy that "gets at the joints from the inside."

Mr. W. R. Hughes, of Atkins, Va., writes: "Four bottles of RHEUMACIDE have entirely cured me of a long standing case of Rheumatism, and greatly improved my general health. I was a total wreck, having had Rheumatism for twenty years. I spent several weeks and much money trying special-ists in New York, but RHEUMACIDE is the only cure I have found. When I began to use it I weighed 140 pounds. Now I weigh 180 pounds, my normal weight."

He Killed the Bill.

Senator Elkins was talking for staidhood for New Mexico and Arizona the other day until they reminded him how he kept New Mexico out of the Union thirty years ago. Elkins was formerly a delegate in congress from New Mexico. Once he had the bill making New Mexico a state in such shape that it was ready to be called from the table and passed. Senator Burrows of Michigan, then in the house, made a sensational speech against the bill. Elkins was not in the chamber. As he came in somebody told him that Burrows had made a great staidhood speech.

The Wrong Animal.

Ignorance of natural history—and some other things—played a part in a fight of which a well known actor tells a story. A Welshman, he says, had taken boxing lessons until he thought he could whip anything of his weight. He thereupon challenged an Irishman to fight him to a finish, and the challenge was promptly accepted. The Welshman selected a fellow countryman named Davy for a second. The battle began, and after the first round the Welshman went to his corner and asked Davy how he looked.

EGGS.

Eggs for hatching from the finest matings, Barred Rocks, White, Golden and Buff Wyandottes I ever owned. They are sure to please.

CONDENSED STORIES.

What Happened to a Deacon Who Slept at Prayer Meeting.

Dr. W. Robson Notman, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, at the corner of Rush and Superior streets, is fond of a good story. He dropped in at a Christian Endeavor social for a few moments one evening, and the president, catching sight of him, called upon him for a talk, much to the surprise of the minister. This was the story he told as an illustration of his feelings:

"I am reminded of the good old deacon who was wont to attend prayer meeting very regularly, but who always chose the hour as a time for a comfortable nap. The old man likewise was fond of a good game of cards. He was taking his usual snooze during the prayer service one evening when the minister said:

"WILLIAM, WAKE UP. IT'S YOUR TIME TO LEAD."

"Brother Blank, will you please lead in prayer?" "Brother Blank was too far in dreamland to hear, and the fact was a source of much embarrassment to his good wife.

A WOMAN'S RIGHTS FOR THE CHILDREN

"So you don't believe in woman's rights," I said approvingly.

"Oh, but I do!" she answered very promptly. "Then why do you condemn the ladies who advocate them? That's a bit inconsistent, even for you, Cis."

"Oh, those women!" said she, tossing the paper scornfully aside. "They're utterly absurd. What's the use of votes and clubs and short hair and bloomers—ugh!—and all that sort of thing? They're the wrong rights, but a woman has plenty of right rights, as you'll find out, sir."

"I don't try to look majestic, you little goose. I could put you in my overcoat pocket, remember—nearby."

"You'd be taking me out every minute to look at me."

"I dare say I should, and putting you in again whenever you were tiresome."

"She lay back in the corner of the big armchair and laughed with great amusement."

"You poor, misguided young man! You'll find out some day. If your pocket were as big as St. Paul's you couldn't, and you wouldn't. You know you wouldn't."

"Because of the innate goodness of man?"

"No, because of the innate niceness of me."

"Am I to understand that right No. 1 is not to be shut up?"

"Can't be shut up," she corrected. "Never could be shut up; never can be shut up. For women never, never, never."

"The tune falls flat without an accompaniment."

"A male one?"

"Certainly, a subsidiary male accompaniment."

"Suppose a woman can't get one?"

"She always can, if she's nice."

"Suppose she isn't?"

FOR THE CHILDREN

Drums of Various Nations.

Drums have always been used by native races, who use them to drive away evil spirits, to terrify their foes, to make their men fight better or to summon friends together. They are of all sizes, sorts and shapes. In China drums are made of baked clay, bowl shaped, with a skin stretched across the top. A drum from Central America is cone shaped, over four feet in height and is hollowed out of a solid block of wood. An Ashantee drum is shaped like a big bottle, the large end being the head of the drum. A Mandingo drum resembles a teapin upside down, while a Friendly Islands drum, between four and five feet high, is just like a post with a head of leather not more than six inches across.

Did you ever wonder where the custom originated of having a man in front carry the drum so that the drummer could get a good whack at it? It came from the fact that all old drums were very long and narrow and an ordinary man could only hit them from the wrist. When some one thought of a man in front carrying the instrument that trouble was over.

Game of Navigation.

For the game of navigation one of the players, who is "it," supplies the players with papers and pencils and calls. "What is the ship the Quakers like?" The players then write down the word they think belongs there.

"Friendship." Then he calls, "What is the ship that is looking for a mate?" and the players write what they think is the answer. The answer to this one is "Courtship." The game goes on in this way. Many other things can be made up, and the answer to each is a single word which must have "ship" for its last syllable.

The player having the most correct answers wins the game. This is a good game to be played at parties, where many can play.

Countdowns.

What goes up when the rain comes down? Umbrella.

What runs from San Francisco to New York and still they never move? Railroad.

Around the house and around the house, and only one track it leaves? Wheelbarrow.

Around the house and around the house, and into the corner it goes? Broom.

When is a barrel like a tree? When blown over.

When is a man like grass? When shooting.

Why is a horse like ice cream? The more you lick it the faster it goes.

Why did George Washington stand up while he slept? Because he couldn't lie.

Mother Nature's House Cleaning.

Mother Nature wanted to get her house ready for her summer boarders, for she knew that they would be here soon. So she called all her helpers together and told them what she was going to do. Of course you know her helpers were the sun, the wind and rain. And this was what she told them—that she was going to clean house. So she called her sun and told him what to do. She said that she wanted him to melt all the ice and snow. Then the wind would sweep it all in one place; then the kind sun would dry it all away. Soon Mother Nature's house was all ready. Her summer boarders came and took rooms in the trees. Then summer came.

Shepherd Dogs.

The shepherd dogs of South America have an extra duty to perform. The vultures are very cunning birds and the dread enemies of all sheep owners. The sheep are so heavy and fat that when they fall down and roll over on their backs they cannot get back on their feet. They lie down and let, and the watchful dogs know this signal as one of distress. They run to their assistance and help them up. Otherwise the vultures would swoop down upon them when in their helpless condition, pick out their eyes and torment them in other ways until they died.

No Smoke From Volcanoes.

The cloud of vapor that comes out of the crater of a volcano is universally spoken of as smoke. As a matter of fact, it is not smoke at all, for there is nothing in a volcano to produce smoke. A volcanic eruption is caused by the explosive force of subterranean water suddenly converted into steam by contact with molten, red-hot rock. The explosion throws the molten rock out of the crater as lava, accompanied by clouds of steam, but there is no smoke.

The SPORTING WORLD

Career of Hart's Vanquisher.

Noah Brusso, or Tommy Burns, as he is known pugilistically, who beat Marjuri Hart at Los Angeles recently, has the reputation of being one of the best all around athletes in the country. Brusso's great physical endurance, which made it possible for him to withstand the benedictine embraces of the gigantic Hart in clinches, came from years of lacrosse, tennis, soccer football, hockey and skating, those sports having been Brusso's lifelong pastimes at his Canadian home.

The athlete has always had a mania for the most strenuous of outdoor sports and has professionalized half the amateur lacrosse and hockey teams in Canada by playing against them under assumed names and in various sorts of disguises. If there is a lacrosse game on when Brusso is around he can't be kept out of it. He shows the most phenomenal endurance in all of those sports, and the stamina required to hold Hart at bay was well earned.

Brusso himself says that he didn't want to become a professional fighter, but he simply couldn't help it, he was so carried away with the delights of boxing. He couldn't find enough amateurs to stand up before him, so he had to turn professional to satisfy his yearning for excitement in the ring.

One of the most laughable incidents in Brusso's career was during a lacrosse game in Detroit, when some false whiskers he wore fell off during a heated moment in a contest with a Canadian team. But even after being exposed Brusso kept in the game and couldn't be induced to quit playing.

Cross a Big Help.

Lave Cross, the great third baseman, should prove a big help to the Washington team of the American league during the coming season.

Cross attained his greatest renown with the Philadelphia Americans, or LAVE CROSS. Athletics, as they are best known. He greatly disappointed his friends, however, by not playing in his best form in the world's championship series with the New York Nationals last fall.

Cross is a great addition to Captain Jake Stahl's Washingtons, who are much in need of strengthening.

Swimming Dates Announced.

Announcement was made recently by Secretary W. E. Bible of the Rye Beach (Ill.) Swimming association that the Central American Athletic union indoor swimming championships which are to be held under its auspices will be contested on April 25, 26 and 27 at the North Side natatorium, 543 Wells street, Chicago. The events will be at 100, 220, 440 and 880 yards and one mile. The water polo championship also will be played, and in addition there will be a number of novelty events. A relay race and a water basket ball competition for high school teams will be given. The tank is 100 by 32 feet.

Says John Ward Was the King.

Umpire Maurice F. Dannahy of Rochester, N. Y., has an idea that Ted Sullivan in his interesting tales of old time ball players overlooks some of the best of the old brigade. "I always liked John Montgomery Ward," says Maurice, "as the leading ball player for inside play, and I think he had Charles Radbourne cheated for real work. I think Johnny Ward the king of all ball players of the high class. There never was his equal and never will be, not even Collins of Boston. As a manager, ball player, batsman, artistic fielder, pitcher, gentleman on and off the diamond, I hail John Montgomery Ward the king of them all, bar none."

Auto Team Race Is Proposed.

The challenge of the Terre Haute Automobile club to the Indianapolis club for a race from Terre Haute to Indianapolis, each club having six entries, has been accepted. Each car is to carry five men. They will be started separately and timed for seventy-three miles. The race is to be the first Sunday in May, weather permitting, and that night the defeated club is to provide a banquet in Indianapolis.

Rufe Turner.

Rufe Turner of Stockton knocked out Barney Mullin of Seattle in the first half of the opening round of their twenty round contest at Stockton, Cal., recently. With a short right swing he stood Mullin on his head, and it was a quarter of an hour afterward before Mullin knew what had happened.

Harry Forbes.

Harry Forbes, the Chicago boy, is now manager, matchmaker and boxing instructor of the Davenport (Ia.) Athletic club. He will also don the mitts occasionally in six round bouts.

A thoroughbred Berkshire Boar at service.
