

THE RECORD.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY. J. C. HARRY, Editor and Proprietor. One Year, $1.00 Six Months, .50 Three Months, .25

Entered December 5th, 1892, at Warrenton, N. C., as second-class matter, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1907.

Our town is growing and it will continue to do so if we talk and work for her progress and prosperity.

The Republican warfare in Ohio will from now on take a more lurid hue, for Foraker has come home to ring in a general fire alarm.

The Brownsville inquiry having been finished after six months of wearisome testimony, it is now up to some of the puzzle editors to tell what it all means.

The trial of Judge W. G. Loving for the killing of Theodore Estes at Lovington, Va., is in progress at Houston, Va., this week. The plea of Judge Loving is emotional insanity and the "unwritten law."

The Mayor of San Francisco has been found guilty of extorting money from the French restaurant keepers during the suffering after the earth quake last year. There are other prominent men of the city that are under indictments for similar offenses.

Our handsome new court house is about completed. It is admired and complimented by everybody who sees it. The comparison between the old and the new is so great that it is seldom that you see a man that says the change is not worth the difference in the cost.

We again call the attention of our town merchants to the fact that they ought to have a local merchant's association and connect themselves with the North Carolina Retail Merchants Association. What say our merchants to holding a meeting and perfecting an organization.

The defaulting teller of the Charlotte National Bank, Francis H. Jones, has been sent to the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., for a term of six years. He stole $80,000 and he gets off with a very light sentence. If the amount stolen had been twice as much as it was we doubt if he would have been punished at all.

The name of Hon. R. W. Scott, of Alamance county, has been mentioned as a suitable person for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture. It is claimed by his friends that his connection the past six years with the Agricultural Department, has especially fitted him for this position. He is also a practical farmer.

The Democratic State Executive Committee is called to meet in Raleigh on Monday night, July the 8th., to consider the matter of accepting the resignation of Chairman F. M. Simmons. We think it best for peace and harmony between the various candidates for Governor that Mr. Simmons should retain the Chairmanship until the meeting of the next State Convention.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made from purest and its action is positive and certain. Healing, painless, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by All Dealers.

Nearly all free-thinking men are in the bachelor class.

MARMADUKE JOTTINGS.

Quite a number from our "burg" attended services at Reedy Creek Sunday, and although they were disappointed in not hearing but one sermon when two had been expected. They dined with some of those hospitable people around Grove Hill and spent the afternoon. One young lady and gentleman were so unfortunate as to be so late they very wisely concluded to make a visit instead of going to church. We would advise them to take less time for "priming" next time and start earlier. They might have known they looked well enough anyway.

Among the visitors in our neighborhood we have on our list little Miss Mabel Davis, of Newport News, Va., the guest of Ruby and Beauford Clark; Misses Willie and Martha Bennett, of Warrenton, who are stopping with Mrs. C. H. Halthcock; Ethel and Lillian Davis, of Inez, visiting Eva and Bessie Powell; Sallie Williams, of Airlie, staying with Mrs. J. H. Duke, and Ann Crinkley, of Raleigh, the visitor of Mrs. M. T. Duke. Our streets are alive with these little ladies, and there is no end of good times for them.

Miss Mattie Powell is making quite an extended visit in Henderson. We feel sure that she is enjoying the trip, for she is just the kind to win many friends wherever she goes.

It was quite a pleasure to have Mr. and Mrs. John Crinkley, of near Macon, in our neighborhood Sunday as the welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Duke. We extend to them a cordial welcome to visit this community again in the near future.

Miss Maud Duke returned this week from a visit to Elberon, and she has with her now on a visit, Miss Maud Gupton, of Henderson.

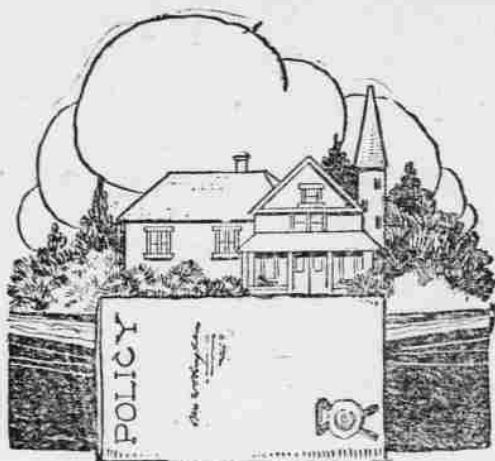

The days are so long and so hot that all the news seems to dry up, so this somewhat accounts for the scarcity of it.

The Green Leaf Lumber Co. is erecting some nice work in our section and it is altogether quite new to see the numerous tracks and switches laid in what has, heretofore, been a great belt of giant pines and uncultivated lands, and naturally this new feature attracts the attention of our Marmadukes whenever a few leisure hours presents a favorable opportunity. A small party of young people were strolling around the new trestle a few evenings back in search of amusement, when they spied the curious little "hand car." They at once decided "hat a ride on this would add a spice of romance to the occasion. Accordingly they seated themselves, and were soon speeding merrily down the side track. This was fun indeed, but much to their sorrow the track soon came to a sudden end, and here they went, gaining in speed with each revolution of the wheels. Then the question arose, how was the car to be stopped, but much to their relief it was accomplished in due time, and they once more stood upon terra firma recollecting that experience will ever be the best teacher after all. As the shadows were beginning to lengthen across the fields and meadows, and the bright spring day was fast drawing to a close, they turned their faces homeward, winding their way through the softly sighing pines.

Examinations for A. & M. College.

Applicants for admission to the Agricultural & Mechanical College at Raleigh, will be examined by the County Superintendent of Schools in his office on Thursday, July 11th, at 10 o'clock. By standing these examinations, young men may save the expense of a trip to Raleigh. The A. & M. College offers 120 scholarships to bright needy boys desiring industrial education. There are courses of instruction in Agriculture, Textile and Engineering (Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Mining).

THE FOUNDATION OF PROSPERITY

is foresight. And there can be no better evidence of that quality than the fact that you

HAVE YOUR HOUSE INSURED. Then though your house burn, you suffer nothing but inconvenience. You are assured of the money to build a new one. You worked hard enough to buy or build the house. Why not let me write you a policy that will save you from possibly losing what you have worked so hard for?

HAL T. MACON.

INEZ SQUIDS.

Mr. Wm. H. Alston passed quietly away last Friday p. m., the 21st. inst., and was laid to rest in the family burying ground, surrounded by a host of friends to see the last of one who was a great favorite, and "an honest man," laid to rest. Peace be to his ashes.

Mr. Geo. C. Alston, of Airlie, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. V. Alston, of Henderson, and Mrs. A. D. Williams, of Centreville, and Major P. G. Alston, of S. C., were here Saturday to the funeral and burial of Mr. Wm. H. Alston.

Mesdames Dameron and Henderson, of Warrenton, and Mrs. J. C. Williams, of Philadelphia, with Mr. J. A. Dameron, Jr., spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams last Saturday.

Mrs. Thos. H. Cheek's baby has been quite ill for at least a month. We hope it is better.

Miss Tempe Dameron Williams is at home again after spending a week or two in Shocco.

There was quite a misunderstanding as to the time for services at Shady Grove church last Sunday p. m., as the congregation arrived after the preacher was through with his sermon.

MAWSON ITEMS.

Our town is always full of life and energy, but it is especially so now during the busy berry season.

Mrs. Lucie Macon and granddaughter, Miss Brooksis Macon, are visiting in Franklin county this week.

Mr. Palmer Ridout who has been traveling for several weeks, made a visit to our town a few days ago.

It was reported that the wedding bells rang in our midst last Sunday evening, but it proved to be a mistake. Of course they will ring ere long.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gill, of Oxford, were pleasant visitors here not many days ago.

We are glad to have Miss Dora Wyckoff, of Ridgeway, with us this week.

Mr. Roy Champion, of Henderson, made his people a short visit Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Saemann returned from Baltimore last week. We are glad to say that she seems much improved and is looking well.

Miss Mattie Evans, much to the regret of her friends, will return to her home in Franklin county this week.

A number of our people attended the funeral of Mrs. Andrew Meeder at Poplar Mount Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Hartsell, of Dabney, was here a short time Monday.

Mr. John Brack visited friends at Brookston Sunday.

The many friends of Miss Ada Beardsley are delighted to have her home again.

Miss Lizzie Saemann, of Baltimore, is now at home. We are always glad to see her.

Mr. Thurston Allen, of Louisville, was the guest of Mr. L. N. Kimball last week.

A series of meetings will begin at the school house the first Sunday night in July, which will be conducted by Revs. M. A. Adams, and J. Cullom. There will be preaching at Middleburg Baptist church during the day, and here at night.

Asheley Horne for Governor.

His Record as Confederate Soldier Without Blemish.

A Sterling Democrat--Always Voted Straight Ticket.

As a Farmer and Business Man he has been Successful--Public Spirited and Patriotic. He Leads in all Progressive Movements--Is Against all Trusts and Combinations--A Friend to the Farmers and to the Laboring People.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

Asheley Horne, of this place, is a candidate for Governor, subject to the action of the Democratic State Convention.

I have known Mr. Horne all of his life and feel that it is not out of place for me to state what I know of him. He is a native of Johnston county, is sixty-five years old; had a common school education, but in early manhood volunteered as a private in the Confederate army. He fought the battles of the First and Northern Virginia for four years, and surrendered with it at Appomattox. His record as a soldier is without blemish.

After the war he had neither the time nor ability to complete his education. Necessity required him to go to work. The first year after going home he cultivated a crop, then worked in a store, and in 1867 began merchandising. He is still in the mercantile line, and has many friends of his customers, and many of the men who began to trade with him forty years ago are still his customers and friends.

As a farmer and as a business man he has been successful, and he has not embarked in other lines of business. Now he is regarded as one of the most successful men in the state. While he has other large lines and is engaged in banking, insurance, manufacturing, and real estate, he is still a large and active farmer. He is not merely a farmer on paper, but every day during the crop season a visitor would be apt to find him in the field, actually caring on large, active, and successful operations.

He has always been a strict, regular and organized Democrat. He has voted the Democratic tickets as they came.

In the early 90's when Populism was making such headway among the people, he opposed it, but he understood the hard conditions under which the farmers were suffering, and instead of trying to prevent a movement, he went to the aid of the farmers, and he has since been a most successful and practical farmer. He has always been a Democrat, and he has always been a Democrat.

He is one of the officers of the Cotton Growers' Association, and he has established warehouses somewhat on the plan of the bonded warehouse system now advocated by that Association.

He is president of the Clayton Oil Mills. In 1902 many North Carolina Mills favored going into a combination, so as to effect, it was said, large economy. The proposition was made to Mr. Horne to have the Clayton Mills included in the merger. He declined to even submit the proposition to the stockholders. The fate of that merger justified the wisdom of his course.

He was one of the first men to advocate the formation of home insurance companies, both fire and life, and to stop the overflow of North Carolina money for fire insurance. He was one of the early stockholders of the North Carolina Home and is an officer and director in a number of successful life and fire companies.

One of the rules of his business life is to give the preference, where practicable to do so, to local and independent companies, rather than to foreign companies or large combinations of capital. As far as it is possible to do so, he taboos trusts and monopolies.

From the purchase of the oil which lubricates his machinery to the placing of material upon his property, he always gives the preference to local dealers and independent companies.

Mr. Horne is not identified with any particular faction of the party. He is neither conservative nor radical, so called. He is a Democrat plain. If elected to office he will not endeavor to build up any faction, nor create any personal following looking to his future advancement. He will be content to serve the people in the office of Governor for four years, and at the end of the term return to private life. He will not use the great office of Governor as the stepping stone to any higher honors.

Mr. Horne will not make a canvass of the state prior to the convention. If nominated, he will take the stump and ably uphold the Democratic cause. He is able to make, and will make a strong and vigorous canvass, but he will not expect any business people to come out and hear him speak when he is canvassing for himself and not as the standard bearer of his party.

Mr. Horne's personal life is without spot or blemish. No person, however much he may differ with Mr. Horne in politics or otherwise, can be found who would impugn his personal honor or believe him guilty of an improper act. He has been a sober, moral man all his life. He was a temperance man when temperance and prohibition were not popular. As far back as 1881 he voted for prohibition. He has always stood for temperance, for the home, the school and the church.

He has always been a progressive man, and while by far the largest tax payer of his section, he has always voted for special taxes for schools and good roads, and has favored everything that promoted the welfare of his community, regardless of its financial effects upon him.

Mr. Horne favors the strict enforcement of the laws passed by the last General Assembly regulating railroads and requiring them to give better service at reduced rates. He believes in holding corporations to their duty and within the law and doing this with a strong bold hand. He has always favored strict regulations of corporations; has always favored requiring railroads to perform their duties vigorously, and at the lowest possible rates, and he never rode a mile on a pass, believing that railroads should serve and not boss. More than thirty years ago when the rates on cotton between Clayton and Raleigh were too high, he organized a wagon train and sent the cotton through the country, until the railroads in disgust, asked him to name what he thought was a fair rate. This he did, and this rate between Clayton and Raleigh has never been exceeded. He has always opposed the granting of special favors to railroads. In 1885 he was a member of the State Senate. The Richmond & Danville railroad proposed to build to Murphy if the state would donate several hundred convicts. Mr. Horne was as anxious as any to see that work completed, but he thought the Richmond & Danville was under obligations to build it at its own expense. He voted against the donation of convicts, and was one of the Senators who signed a protest against the measure.

This is a brief account of Mr. Horne's life. He is in the race today. He is encouraged by promises of support from every section of the State. We believe he will be nominated.

In conclusion, I beg to say that if you want to support a confederate soldier for Governor, Mr. Horne is the man. If you want a successful business man, and a life long farmer, for the office, Mr. Horne is the man. If you want a man who has been a consistent and life long enemy to trusts and combinations, Mr. Horne is the man. If you want a man who has been leader in the industrial development of his section, Mr. Horne is the man. If you want a man who has always voted for good roads, for temperance, education, and morality, Mr. Horne is the man.

If you want a man for Governor who will give his whole time to that office and who will not aspire to other positions, Mr. Horne is the man. If you want to support a straight, fire-tried Democrat, who has never turned either to the right or to the left, but who has consistently fought the party's battles for more than 40 years, Mr. Horne is such a man. If you want a man for Governor who will fill the office well, who has never done and will never do an unworthy or improper act, who will never do anything that will require defense, apology, or explanation, Ashley Horne is such a man.

EMBRO NEWS.

The Children's day exercises at Prospect were the grandest that have ever been held at the church. There were several hundred people present and all enjoyed the exercises and a good dinner. Much credit is due Mrs. Moore and Mr. Mustian for getting up the entertainment.

Several from here attended Children's day at Vaughan last Sunday.

A number went from Embro to Oxford on the excursion Saturday and report a good time.

Mr. Moore who has been living at Embro this year, has secured a situation with the S. A. L. Ry., and left for Portsmouth. His family will remain at Embro.

Mr. King, from Essex, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. J. Stallings.

Mr. Cree has been shipping berries about two weeks. He has the largest crop that ever he had, and is getting good prices.

Mrs. Sarah Allen is quite sick. Mr. Thomas Pitchford and family from Florida, are here to spend the summer.
