Had all His Money Stolen.

The Louisville Times of two weeks ago gives an account of a farmer in that county who had six thousand dollars stolen from his home. The Times says editorially: "The sympathy of the people goes out to Mr. Jeans, and his awful experience should be a warning to all others of the danger of thus hoarding money. If you keep money hoarded at home it is a standing invitation to criminals to come and take and murder you. You are tempting weak people to commit crime. Save your money, but save it in a bank, where it is safe. In doing this you not only save your money, and perhaps your life, but your money will be doing good in the world. It will make business and better prices, for your products. An idle dollar is as bad as an idle man. If you don't need your money for immediate use place it out of reach of thieves, and where it will be working for you and others all the time. The Times hopes it will never have to publish such another piece of news as the loss of this six thousand dollars."

The Total Expenses.

The total expense of the State of North Carolina in attorney's fees, printing and court costs in the now famous Southern Railway rate litigation case was $18,829.24. The litigation began last July, when Judge B. F. Long, in Wake county Superior Court, instructed the grand jury to bring indictments against any railway not obeying the 2.1-4 cent passenger law. The litigation ended February 29.

The entire matter ran about seven months before the compromise was effected through the efforts of Governor Glenn and some of the attorneys. All the counsel, it is well known, favored the compromise except Mr. E. J. Justice, who was speaker of the house at the time the rate bill was passed, and whose activity probably caused the law to be passed.

Of the council representing North Carolina in the suit Mr. F. A. Woodard received the most. He was paid $3,936.79. Mr. Justice got $9,750.

FOR TREASURER.

Whereas, official information has been received at this Department that Henry Richardson, late of the county of Warren, stands charged with the murder of Rufus Richardson on or about Dec. 25, 1907. R. B. GLENN.

REMINISCENCES!

Greenville, N. C., at the Present and in the Past.

I wish to tell my dear home people in Warrenton something of this town of my childhood. For years the two towns had about the same population, and were good places to live in, and they are still attractive towns, but in a very different way. Greenville has become a bustling town of 5,000 inhabitants. It is the third tobacco market in the State, and Pitt county raises more bright tobacco than the same acres anywhere in the world. About fifty years ago when I went to Warrenton to enter the Graves and Wilcox's School, known as "The Warrenton Female Institute," a growing tobacco plant was a great curiosity to me, for none had ever been raised in Pitt county. Indeed, the tobacco industry only began here about fifteen years ago, and now there are five large warehouses, sales running from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 pounds per annum. The American and Imperial Tobacco Co.'s operate large brick steam plants while three other steam plants are operated by local people. The buyer for the American Tobacco Co., is our own Warren county business man, Mr. W. R. Watson, who told me that he had not regretted coming here because it is a most excellent market. He and his good wife have already made many friends and David, their eldest son will graduate at the Graded School this year, and its graduates can enter any college in the State. But they have no "High School" as we have in Warrenton where its graduates can take a higher course, and enter the sophomore class at college.

Pitt county produces from 15,000 to 25,000 bales of cotton which are mostly sold here at its county seat. There are seven churches. The little Episcopal church has been replaced by a graceful brick building. The plain Baptist church has disappeared, and a very handsome stuccoed brick structure now accommodates its worshippers. The little Methodist church which stood within the bounds of the town cemetery, disappeared long ago, and a more modern wooden building was erected, but after awhile that was too small, and the Methodist have now a handsome brick edifice that cost $26,000.00. These were all the churches in town fifty years ago, and now, the Presbyterian, Christian, Universalists and Catholic all have church buildings. Eight trains come here every day except Sunday, and when I was a girl no railroad came nearer than Wilson. A plank road extended from there to Greenville, and the stage horses were changed twice en route, and when the lumbering vehicle entered town a brass horn was blown by the driver, and he drove in fine style, to the great admiration of the children. My sister said that when she was a little girl she used to think what a fine thing it would be to marry a stage driver and ride in the stage every day, notwithstanding the fact that she could ride in our father's carriage drawn by two handsome white horses whom our mother named "Polk" and "Dallas."

As I look around for landmarks few are to be seen. The old Academy is replaced by a handsome brick Graded School building. The old Masonic lodge, with its "pepper box" belfry is gone and in its place is a very handsome private residence, and the new Masonic three-story brick building containing an auditorium for operas, a public library and offices for lawyers.

The old court house like ours at Warrenton with its pillars has given place to one more modern, but not more interesting one. The old court house square was a larger one, and thronged with people on public days. I remember in the fall of 1859, a servant came in with bated breath to an-

The Chivalrous Evelyn.

Another chapter in the sordid, misurable degrading Law mess. This little innocent sweet, pure timid maiden, so cruelly wronged, who told on the witness stand such a lovely story of betrayal and devotion and high ethical motives, is now suing for divorce from the man she loved so tenderly and whose feelings and honor she guarded so chivalrously. And she alleges as ground for divorce that he was a lunatic when she married him. Yet she was put on the stand to prove that he became a lunatic after he was married by brooding over the frightful wrongs that had been done his affectionate wife. Little matters like perjury and blackmail do not worry the gentle Evelyn—Richmond Leader.

Easter Eggs a Heathen Custom.

Like the Christmas tree they came from our Anglo-Saxon forefathers. In our observance of Easter few stop to consider that the quaint old custom of egg-giving is a survival of Saxon times. We find many stories of eggs, hares and rabbits in Germany associated with the joys of childhood on Easter day; and in France the Easter eggs are made of manifold and costly devices. In Ireland and Scotland the children are taught to break eggs in the form of a cross. Queerest of all, colored eggs are offered at high mass in Russia. With all these precedents behind us it is no wonder that we have a gala time at Washington, and that on Easter day democracy rules supreme on the sloping White House lawn. From early morning until six at night the children roll egg and, though no one knows who started the custom, the American child does his share in inaugurating another spring, and showing, in a material way, the joy with which the ancient festival of Easter fills mankind.—The New Idea.

Beware the Dangers.

Everything Possible Will be Done to Continue the Copartnership Between Law and Hell.

(REV. N. H. D. WILSON IN LAURENBERG EXCHANGE.)
What is the great danger to the success of the prohibition cause in the election on the 26th of May? Clearly, over confidence. On every hand you hear: "There is no doubt of the result!" The writer agrees with this prophecy. The forces of righteousness and temperance have been laboring too long and too hard for them to throw away victory when it is in their hands; but there is the gravest danger to our success in this very point. We are saying, "There is doubt!" But there will be a doubt unless we bestir ourselves.

The brewers have held a meeting recently where they took all needed action to regain their hold on the South. Those who are wise in the way of the liquor politicians know what that means. A number of "prominent Democrats" have been called to Salisbury (poor Salisbury!—self-debauched that she may grow rich by debauching others) to consult how to 'save the State from this terrible wave of fanaticism!' The men who have corrupted the State in other days by every means, that they might grow rich on the bodies and souls of men and women, are yet alive, and their greed for gain is as conscienceless as ever. Rest assured that everything possible will be done to continue this copartnership between law and hell. "But the whiskey forces have given up the fight!" Not on your life. They are studiously proclaiming that in the strongholds of prohibition sentiment, and they are moving earth and hell where they have any chance of gain. They hope to woo you to sleep with honeyed words. Awake, Sampson!—the Philistines are upon you!

What can we do? For the present, agitate! Let every preacher, preach! Let every prayer, pray! Let every talker, talk! Let women who have most to lose and all to gain, use their constitutional right! Let each bring such moral force to bear upon the man or men she can influence that for her sake, if not for his own and his children, he will join to destroy the Destroyer.

No Use To Die.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive to day only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, influenza, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at C. A. Thomas drug store, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The Lucky Quarter

Is the one you pay out for a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They bring you the health that's more precious than jewels. Try them for headache, biliousness, constipation and malaria. If they disappoint you the price will be cheerfully refunded at C. A. Thomas drug store.

All these reports of new Republican recruits in North Carolina are just to make the fellows with the bags shell out that much more. When voting time comes the recruits will not be there to count.—Greenville Reflector.

The Twenty-fifth annual convention of the North Carolina Sunday-School Association will meet with the Christian Church in Burlington, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, April 7-9. The entertainment will be free and those who can attend should send their names to W. K. Holt, of Burlington, and entertainment will be provided. An interesting program has been prepared and the occasion will be an interesting one to those interested in Sunday-school work. Among the speakers on the program are W. C. Pearce, of Chicago, the Teacher Training and Organized Adult Department Superintendent of the International Sunday-School Association; Mrs. J. W. Barns, Superintendent of the Elementary Department of the International Association; Rev. B. W. Spilman, of our own State; Dr. Jas. A. B. Scherer, president of Newberry College, S. C., besides many other Sunday school workers in our State.

Good For Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect in the Deibert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c. at C. A. Thomas drug store.

Best Healer in the World.

Rev. F. Starbird, of East Raymond, Maine, says: "I have used Bucklen's Arnica Salve for several years, on my old army wound, and other obstinate sores, and find it the best healer in the world. I use it too with great success in my veterinary business." Price 25c. at C. A. Thomas drug store.

Suit for Slander.

Three suits have been instituted by A. P. Kitchen, of Scotland Neck, against S. W. Morrisett, Frank Shields and N. B. Josey, of the same place, for $20,000 each. The bills of complaint filed allege slanderous statements by the defendants to the effect that the liquor election by which Scotland Neck went wet several years ago was stolen for the saloon interest by Mr. Kitchen, who was one of the poll holders. The case promises to be hard fought and to attract a great deal of attention. The attorneys for the prosecution are Kitchen and Smith, of Scotland Neck; W. E. Daniel, of Weldon, and E. L. Travis, of Halifax, Albion Dunn, of Scotland Neck, and Day, Bell and Dunn, of Enfield, will conduct the defense.—Enfield Progress.
