A MEMORY SYSTEM.

Forget each kindness that you do
As soon as you have done it;
Forget the praise that falls to you
The moment you have won it;
Forget the slander that you hear
Before you can repeat it;
Forget each night, each spite, each
snarl,
Whenever you may meet it.
Remember every kindness done
To you whatever its measure;
Remember praise for others won
And pass it on with pleasure;
Remember every promise made
And keep it to the letter.
Remember those who lend you aid
And be a grateful debtor.
Remember all the happiness
That comes your way in living;
Forget each worry and distress,
Be hopeful and forgiving;
Remember good, remember truth;
Remember heaven's above you,
And you will find through age and youth,
True joys and hearts to love you.
—Priscilla Leonard.

Only A Fence Between.

A stranger addressed the farmer's boy across the fence:
"Young man, your corn looks kind of yellow."
"Yes, that's the kind we planted."
"Don't look as if you would get more than half a crop."
"We don't expect to. The landlord gets the other half."
"Then, after a short time, the man said: "Boy, there isn't much difference between you and a fool."
"Nope," replied the boy, "only the fence."—Merchants Journal.

Of Interest to Democrats.

The National Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee has begun active operations at its headquarters at Washington, D. C. In addition to its regular work, it is now preparing a Campaign hand-book which it hopes to have ready for distribution by July 1—two or three months earlier than heretofore.
The Committee is charged with the duty of assisting in every way possible the election of a Democratic Congress. We wish the active cooperation of every voter in the United States who believes, with us, that the election of a Democratic Congress would greatly benefit the country. We must rely upon the people to sustain our work by giving information as to local conditions, and suggestions for our guidance.
Each individual can at least aid us by making a contribution. Will he not do so and interest others in helping us too?
We wish our Campaign hand-book distributed as general as possible, and we will furnish a copy, as soon as published, to every one who contributes to our Committee.
Send remittances to me at Washington, D. C.
JAMES T. LELOYD,
Chairman.

Will Cure Consumption.

WISE ITEMS.

We are glad to have our Baptist pastor, Rev. W. J. Jones with us this week. He was one of the graduates of Wake Forest College this year. We wish for him much success in the ministry.

Mr. Clarence Holloway spent Sunday with his people near Nutbush.

Mr. S. C. Crawley visited in Wise last Saturday and Sunday. Glad to have Miss Ola Stevenson, of the L. F. C., home again.

Miss Maude Crowder and Master Thomas Hageod, of Bracy, Va., visited their great-grandmother, Mrs. Cynthia Perkins last Thursday and Friday.

Miss Mary Perkinson spent last week in Va.

Sorry to report Miss Mattie Hicks on the sick list.

Miss Lucy Coleman, of Wise, spent Saturday with Misses Lillian and Virginia Coleman, of Merry Mt.

Miss Lizzie Perkinson is on an extended visit to friends in Durham and Raleigh.

Dr. Helen Story, of New Hampshire, is with her daughter, Mrs. R. T. Perkinson, who is extremely ill at this writing.

Miss Lalla Perkinson took in the L. F. C. commencement.

The game of ball recently between Macon and Wise was largely attended. Score standing in favor of Wise, as usual.

Quite a number of our people attended the "Show" in Wise. They report a lively time.

Messrs. Henry White and Grover Perkinson were visitors in Ridgeway the fourth Sunday.

Quite a number of the Methodist were disappointed the Fifth Sunday morning in not having Rev. Aired to preach.

The Christian people of North Carolina should feel it their duty to have a special prayer service to offer thanks unto God for the success they had in the great prohibition victory.

June 4th.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is the one that children like so well to take as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It is different from the others as it does not constipate, but on the other hand it acts gently yet powerfully on the bowels and therefore drives the "old out of the system." It is sold by Hunter Drug Co.

NEWMAN NOTES.

The Children's Day at Union Chapel on the Fifth Sunday was quite a success under the management of Mrs. Scoggin, Mrs. Maclean, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Read, Misses Fannie Scoggin and Helen Read. The church was beautifully decorated in evergreen and daisies. The children performed their part beautifully, after which flowers were distributed among the children, and marching to the cemetery they placed them on the graves of friends and loved ones. A very appropriate talk was given by Rev. C. L. Read. All returning to the grave a beautiful dinner was served and returning to the church a most interesting sermon was delivered by Mr. C. L. Read. The occasion was very much enjoyed by a large congregation.

Mr. W. D. Newman and little grandson, Henry visited in Henderson some day ago.

Mr. Wm. Burroughs delighted his relatives by a visit recently. Our people were very much gratified with the success of the prohibition election.

Mr. Jimmie Newman and family visited relatives in our midst recently.

We have heard of right many gardens burning up on account of dry weather.

AN OBITUARY.

"Friend after friend depart,
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no fellowship of heart,
That hath not here an end."

On the morning of May 25th, 1908 God sent his angels and called to rest the gentle spirit of Mrs. W. T. Walters, wife of Rev. W. T. Walters, of Harrisonburg, Va., and daughter of Maj. W. B. Fleming, of Ridgeway, N. C.

Just thirteen months before this beautiful woman and her noble husband had taken the marriage vows and looked forward to a bright, happy and useful future—such as two such congenial spirits might well anticipate.

Two months ago she came to Ridgeway on a visit to her father, as it was evident that that dread disease, consumption, was rapidly wasting her bright, young life. Throughout her illness she exhibited that sweet cheerfulness of disposition and thoughtfulness of others, so characteristic of her all through her short life.

The unremitting devotion of a loving husband and the tender care of a fond parent and grandparent ministered to her comfort during her illness, but could not keep her with them. Ever self-sacrificing in her devotion to her loved ones, thoughtful and considerate of others at all times. She was well fitted to be in deed and in truth a helpmate to her husband; and most faithfully did she fulfill the duties of that relation as long as God loaned her to him. Attractive in manner, the number of her friends was limited by her acquaintances and it may well be said of her,

"None knew her but to love,
None named her but to praise."

She gave her heart and life's service to God in early childhood; and so for her death had no terror because God was with her. His rod and His staff, they comforted her. Her funeral was preached on May 27th, by Mr. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon, and her body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Ridgeway, with those of her mother, brother and sisters who had preceded her to the spirit land. The newly made grave was covered with the floral offerings of her friends and loved ones in N. C. and Va.

A loving, faithful and devoted daughter, sister, wife and friend has gone to her rest. To the lonely father and only sister, who have been so sadly bereft of loved ones in the years that have passed, to the heart-broken husband, so early bereft of his heart's life-companion, and to the numerous friends and loved ones who mourn her taking away, our hearts go out in deepest sympathy and earnest prayer that the God of all comfort will sustain them now and enable them to say "They will be done."

"Sleep on beloved, sleep and take thy rest,
Lay down thy head upon thy Saviour's breast,
We loved thee well, but Jesus loved the best."
Good night.

The Best Pills Ever Sold.
"After doctoring 15 years for chronic indigestion, and spending over two hundred dollars, nothing has done me as much good as Dr. King's New Life Pills. I consider them the best pills ever sold." writes B. F. Aycock, of English, N. C. Sold under guarantee at O. A. Thomas drug store. 25c.

Blessing of the Blind.
The calamity of the blind is immense, irreparable. But it does not take away our share of the things that count—service, friendship, humor, imagination, wisdom. It is the secret inner will, that controls one's fate. We are capable of willing to be good, of loving and being loved, of thinking to the end that we may be wiser. We possess these spirit-born forces equally with all God's children. Therefore we, too, see the lightnings and hear the thunders of Sinai. We, too, march through the wilderness and the solitary place that shall be glad for us, and as we pass God maketh the desert to blossom like the rose. We, too, get in unto the promised land to possess the treasures of the spirit, the unshaken permanence of life and nature.—Helen Keller in Century.

Stomach troubles are very common in the summer time and you should not only be very careful about what you eat just now, but more than this, you should be careful not to allow your stomach to become disordered, and when the stomach goes wrong take Kodol. This is the best known preparation that is offered to the people to day for dyspepsia or indigestion or any stomach trouble. Kodol does not irritate. It is pleasant to take. It is sold here by Hunter Drug Co.

Death of Miss Green.

Miss Adeline C. Green, daughter of Col. W. J. Green, of Fayetteville, N. C., died at the home of her father, Tokey, on Wednesday, May 20th.

The following tribute to the deceased, was written by Father O'Brien:

"Miss Adeline C. Green was a deeply religious character. Her strong convictions brought her into the Catholic church to which she has been very loyal. Her loyalty to the church was extraordinary, even generous. She was generous not only in hearing the teachings of the church, but in obeying her commands like a child obeys the commands of its mother. Besides her generosity in hearing, believing and obeying the commands of the church, she has been a generous contributor. As she lived, so she died, a practical Christian character. She did not fear to die as she felt prepared, having been fortified with the sacraments of the church. As a sincere and practical Christian character we will miss her very much, but are consoled in her beautiful and peaceful end.

May her death, while so full of resignation and submission to the Will of God, bring comfort to her bereaved father and mother and devoted sisters. May she rest in peace. A Requiem Mass will be sung for the repose of her soul."

Rhododendrons Strangely Dying.
A new and mysterious bug, or perhaps a worm, has made its appearance in Asheville, and local experts are trying hard to discover the nature of what it is that is killing young trees in various parts of the city. The unknown terror seems to have a particular fancy for young rhododendrons and several promising growths on Cumberland and Montford avenues are said to be shriveling up and showing signs of early decay. The death blow seems to be inflicted at the roots of the young trees, and an examination made by a Cumberland avenue resident yesterday showed that the boughs were rotting, and in some cases ready to drop off.—Asheville Citizen.

Bucklen's Arnica Sale Wins.
Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cash, N. C., writes: "I had a bad sore on the instep of my foot and could not find anything that would heal it until I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 25-cent box won the day for me by affording a perfect cure." He had a guarantee at O. A. Thomas drug store.

Mike to the Rescue.
There were two Irishmen who recently came over to seek employment in America. Pat secured a position here, but because of some misunderstanding between his employer and himself he was to be discharged on the following Monday, if he could not answer three questions.

Pat came home with a heavy heart that night, and told his twin brother Mike the questions, which were: How much does the moon weigh? How many stars are there? What am I thinking about?

As the brothers looked very much alike, Mike said that he would go in Pat's place and answer the three questions, for he considered himself brighter than Pat.

As soon as Mike entered the office Monday morning his brother's employer said:

"Pat, are you ready for the questions?"

"Yes, sir," said Mike.

"Very well; how much does the moon weigh?"

"Hundred pounds?"

"How d'ye know?"

"There's four quarters."

"How many stars are there?"

"A million."

"How d'ye know?"

"Go count 'em."

"What am I thinking about?"

"You're thinking that I'm Pat, but I'm not; I'm Mike."—Merchants Journal.

The "Do-Nothing" Congress.

Congress will adjourn next week, unless some unforeseen condition arises to upset present plans. The sixtieth session is about to wind up a five months' sitting. The sixtieth session of Congress has adjourned. In some respects this has been a most remarkable congress.

The fact that it voted away over one billion dollars in appropriations is sufficient to distinguish it over former congresses for this is a new record. Aside from this unheard-of extravagance, the one hundred and fifty days, or more, have been consumed in fruitless harranguing, and the skillful avoidance of definite action. Congressmen have been known for their much speaking and scant accomplishment and well has this session earned the title, "The do-nothing Congress."

Here is what has been done in five months.
Enacted child labor law for the District of Columbia.

Secured to labor the liability of employes.
Continued the Hepburn rate law.

Stopped race track gambling in the District of Columbia.
Passed several other measures of more or less importance.

Authorized an enormous increase in army and navy appropriations.
Appropriated over a billion dollars to various causes.

Bore patiently the onslaught of the President's special messages, and gave Jeff Davis and others opportunity to rid themselves of a congestion of oratory.

Here are a few of the meritorious measures the people joined in requesting, but which were interred with "appropriate ceremonies":

Campaign contribution publicity bill.
Numerous anti-injunction bills.

Reduction of tariff on products of Philippines, as well as all bills tending to tariff reform.
Bill to amend Sherman anti-trust law.

Removal of duty on print paper and wood pulp.
Prohibition in the District of Columbia.

Bill to make Porto Ricans citizens of United States.
Appalachian-White Mountain forest reserve bill.

Swamp land reclamation bill.
Revision of copyright laws.

Establishment of Federal grain inspection.
Retirement of superannuated Federal clerks, and numerous other measures of importance.

It may also be added that nothing was done on the subject of currency legislation, for the "makeshift" which passed is admittedly a trevesty on real legislation in this direction.

This, readers, is the partial record of the Sixtieth Congress, now on the eve of adjournment. The most brilliant fiasco of the nation's history is about to come to an end and even the most ardent admirers of the administration can find extremely little to justify pride in this record of do-nothingness made by the 60th congress.—Charlotte News.

True Worth.
It will be but a little while until those who knew us and those who never heard of us will pass along through the green mounds in the cemetery and read the epitaphs on our tombstones. And those who knew us will summarize our entire life into a few essence of truth born of the knowledge of how we lived and what we did to help make life brighter and better for others. They may add, casually, that we left a fortune, but they will dwell rather upon the roses we strewed along the pathway than upon what we put away in our safety boxes for heirs to squabble over. For the money we left they will speak no eulogy upon us, but for the good we did and the perfume of character and gentleness we left behind, they will weave the only wreath that can give glory to the deed and joy to the living.—Western Publisher.
