Wedding Rings.

Some one wanted to know without asking directly how long a certain woman had been married. "About fifteen years," said a man who was a jeweler. "How do you know?" asked his wife. "You don't know anything about her. You never met her until tonight." "I can tell by the size of her wedding ring," said the man. "The width of wedding rings changes about every five years. Their size repeats itself at certain periods, but figuring that way, the woman must have been married fourteen years ago, if not fifteen. She isn't old enough for forty-five; consequently she must belong in the fifteen year class." Subsequent inquiry proved that the jeweler was right.—New York Sun.

Business Judgment.

There can be no greater mistake than to believe that their interest can be best promoted by grasping and clinging to all they can get and never letting a cent slip through their fingers. As a general thing, it will be found, other things being equal, that he who is most liberal is most successful in business. Of course we do not mean it to be inferred that a man should be prodigal in his expenditures; but that he should show his customers, if he is a trader, or those whom he may be doing any kind of business with, that in all his business transactions, as well as social relations, he acknowledges the everlasting fact that there can be no permanent prosperity or good feeling in a community where benefits are not reciprocal.

HELD EATING CONTEST.

Three Fat Men Get Away With 675 Oysters and 22 Pounds of Steak.
 From the New York World.
 Three men of the Manhattan Fat Men's Club who are in training for the forthcoming annual championship eating contest met Sunday at 244 East Third street to settle a private wager of $50 as to which of the trio could get outside of the most food. Here is what they consumed:
 Ex-Alderman Frank J. Dotzler, who weighs 380 pounds—275 oysters.
 8 1-8 pounds of steak.
 12 rolls.
 11 cups of coffee.
 3 large pies.
 Jack Gossman, who weighs 315 pounds—210 oysters,
 6 pounds of steak,
 9 rolls.
 10 cups of coffee.
 3 large pies.

Jack Probst, who weighs 320 pounds—

190 oysters.
 12 pounds of steak,
 10 rolls.
 6 cups of coffee.
 4 large pies.
 Peter Balvado, the referee, awarded the $50 to Dotzler, who had hard work pushing the money into his vest pocket. A dozen other members of the club were present as watchers, got so interested in the contest that their mouth opened and shut automatically, as the trio ate. Finally they all began to howl for some food for themselves. "It's all gone," said Balvado. With loud cries the twelve rushed out to a restaurant.
