

The "CALL" Subscription Books are open for inspection and our affidavit man is always in to those wishing to Advertise.

in Philadelphia. returned to-day from New York. He saw the teachers sail for Nevada," and as the dock the company ovation. he attended the governors of the States, that city states that among them. The ng was preliminary grand monument to centennial of the con- of the country. as selected to respond welcome, which he eloquently. During de another speech, tion of one by Lt. York, was the only ess. It was our e initiative and e following ef- bers of all the e in Washing- the purpose for a suffi- itable monu- of the centen- history of the was adopted.

ts. ented. See Tucker & Co. ment to-day explain "How body wants to this just now. line there is a y to "keep well" medicines at low this matter. Mr. S. P. Mordecai, as trustee of Mr. J. S. Pescud, makes an important announcement.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION AT MOSELY'S DINING HALL.—To make it pleasant and agreeable, have placed in my Dining Hall the rotary Fly Fans, which make the pest fly go and you are left to enjoy the luxuries of the season. A new enterprise for Raleigh, and unless you visit Daily Express joys will not be any better. Every one going to eat in abundance, and every with neatness and dispatch. You can have served, and made to order, anything the market affords. Prices to suit the times. Rooms clean, neat and comfortable. 124 Fayetteville street, Raleigh, N. C.

Railroad Office Changes. Mr. D. S. Hudgings, who has for a number of years past been the very efficient train dispatcher and car accountant of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, has resigned that position, and will enter commercial business circles in Alabama. Capt. Louis Renz has been promoted to train dispatcher in his place, and the position of car accountant has been offered to Mr. Will P. McGehee.

Capt. Dallas Ward, the genial, popular and widely-known conductor on the R. and A. A. L. division of the Seaboard and Air Line, has resigned that office, and will enter other business. Everybody will regret Capt. Ward's relinquishment of a position which threw him so often and so pleasantly in contact with them. They will miss his jovial greeting and genial sunshine and polite attention, but in retiring he will carry with him the sincerest wishes of hundreds of friends, for success in his new line of duty.

Mr. Will Clemmons has been promoted from baggage master to conductor on this line.

Fire-Works To-Night. All the necessary arrangements for the grand display of fire-works have been made, and the exhibition will come off to-night at Athletic Park at 8 o'clock. Don't fail to see the finest pyrotechnic display ever shown in Raleigh. Entrance fee, 25 cts.; to grand stand, 10 cts. extra.

THE GRISSOM INVESTIGATION.

Dr. Grissom Still on the Stand—His Testimony on the Charge of Cruelty.

On Saturday evening the testimony of Dr. Grissom was continued with reference to the charges against himself. In continuation of his reply to Miss Edwards' testimony he said: I did not propose to Miss Edwards to run away with her. I did not tell her I would make her matron of the asylum. I did not have the power to do it. I never had any conversation with her of an improper character.

Gov. Jarvis next took up the specifications regarding cruelty to Miss Nancy Flood.

Dr. Grissom said: Miss Nancy Flood has been here several years. She is mischievous but not what would be considered a violent patient. I have no recollection of any ill treatment to her. The charge in the specification never occurred. I never choked or knocked her down. I have never given her any violence. She is here now. She is a patient of many hallucinations. She imagines herself to be the wife of Dr. Rogers. She had the habit of seizing hold of him when he came about her. She had a demoralizing influence over other patients. She is not addicted to fighting. Miss Edwards' testimony as to my treatment of Miss Foy did not occur. On a different occasion and not in the presence of Miss Edwards I ordered her locked up in a room and threw a dipper of water in her face for the purpose of impressing her with the impropriety of her conduct. I have found a certain class of patients who are very hard to impress. Words are not sufficient. It is necessary to restrain them. This, however, should be resorted to only in cases of necessity. I have frequently resorted to throwing water in the face for the purpose of producing a mental impression that could not be done otherwise. In her case there has been a great improvement. It was the only time I ever threw water in her face. It is the usual custom in all institutions of this kind for the superintendent to establish and maintain a system of discipline. I do not remember what attendant was present at the time of the occurrence. It was not Miss Edwards. I do not recall any other instance of unusual treatment to Miss Foy.

The allegation that Mrs. Overman and Mrs. Whaley were locked in a room together and told to fight till they got tired of it is totally untrue. On one occasion I remember threatening to lock up two patients who had been fighting. I don't remember who they were. I told the attendant in their hearing to lock them up and let them fight it out. If they were locked up at all they did not fight and would not have been permitted to fight. Mrs. Overman is a violent patient at times. She is strong and stout. Mrs. Whaley is a patient who fights a great deal and is very mischievous. Mrs. Overman has perhaps not improved while here. Mrs. Whaley has improved and is now easy to manage. Not one word of the testimony of Miss Edwards that I knocked down and pulled the hair of Miss Lulie Roberts and put sticks in her mouth is true. Miss Roberts is a strong, manly woman, and I remember that on one or two occasions I was forced into a scuffle with her. She pulled out my watch on one occasion and threw it on the floor. If ever I put pegs in her mouth it was for the purpose of feeding her. Patients sometimes refuse to eat and have to be fed by force. This consists of opening the mouth with small pegs and pouring in fluid. This was done to save life in cases of protracted fasting that might end in starvation. Insanity frequently takes the form of refusing to eat. The method of feeding by force is frequently productive of good results. A lady patient at the asylum was on one occasion fed by force for several weeks. Her life was thus saved and eventually her mind was restored and she was discharged.

I never used such an expression as Miss Edwards attributed to me when she said I called the patients wild cats. At this point examination was suspended and the board adjourned till this morning at 11 o'clock.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

The board met at 11 o'clock this morning. In the opening of the session, Gov. Jarvis, of counsel for defence, requested that the steward produce, tomorrow morning, the reports for the male wards of the asylum for 1883.

The examination of Dr. Grissom was resumed. He said:

Mrs. W. T. Howle was admitted in July, 1887. The allegation in regard to offering personal indignity to Mrs. Howle is cruelly and infamously false. There has been a rule for more than 10 years, understood by all the officers and employees, that no male, either visitor or physician should ever have an interview with a female patient unaccompanied by a female attendant. I heard Miss Edwards' testimony as to this charge to the effect that she was with me and I sent her away and when she returned I was dallying with Mrs. Howle. It is utterly untrue. I never offered Mrs. Howle an indignity of any kind, anywhere or under any circumstances, nor to any other female patient of this institution. Mrs. Howle is not now a patient here. She was transferred to Mt. Hope Retreat, November 5, 1887, improved, as I thought. She was a victim of chronic mania, and was suffering on dementia while here. She had no perfect lucid intervals. She was moved by her husband on my advice because I thought it would be better for her to be away from visitors whom she knew, and because there were more facilities for recreation there than here. Her home was in Wake county. Her husband visited her here occasionally. He removed her to Mt. Hope Retreat. I have no sort of recollection that during 1887, that it was made known to the superintendent that an attendant had assaulted Mrs. Summerlin a patient, and that the attendant was retained; but if so, I must have investigated the matter and took such action as in my discretion seemed just and proper. Mrs. Summerlin was discharged in July, 1889, cured. She never mentioned to me any complaint. The discharged patients always have an opportunity to make this complaint.

Mr. W. C. Pridgen was admitted here on September 10, 1880. He died January 20, 1889 of paralysis. He was 25 years old when admitted, had epileptic mania; had been an epileptic since he was 21. While here he lost his eyesight, from neuralgia it was thought. He had periods of maniacal excitement. He would sing, talk and move almost constantly about. He would get upon the door or window guard and in such places as would seem almost impossible for one to get. After his blindness he had to be frequently restrained, or have an attendant to hold him. This latter seemed to irritate him and cause almost a constant struggle. He was in the habit, after going blind, of springing upon persons. I remember on one occasion he sprang at me, and I know that it was my habit when he done so to catch him on both sides of the neck and hold him off till he became quiet. I do not remember the occasion alluded to in the charge. If on any occasion I put my hand on his throat or neck, it was for the purpose of restraining him in such a way as I thought proper. I used no more force or violence than was necessary.

W. P. Upchurch was admitted here as a patient on January 12, 1878, and is here now. He belonged to the criminal insane and was decidedly homicidal; shot his brother and attempted to kill other people. He thought that his bones, neck, &c., were crushed; had hallucinations of hearing; thought he heard people planning to kill him. On one occasion he kicked a guard out of a window and defied any one to come to

[CONCLUDED ON FOURTH PAGE.]

THE CITY.

Centre Lodge K of P. meets to-night.

The Governor's Guard leave to-morrow for the State encampment at Rightsville.

Wm. G. Hill Lodge, A. F. and A. M., meets to-night. Visiting brethren cordially welcomed.

The joint board of the Agricultural and Mechanical College meets here this week, to elect a faculty for the college.

The trustees of Trinity College meet this week, to decide whether or not the college shall be moved to Raleigh.

The street sprinklers have arrived and also the dust. Good time to put them on. What say ye, brethren of the Street Committee?

The directors of the North Carolina Railroad meet in Greensboro. Wonder, oh! wonder if they will think about the new depot matter for Raleigh?

There will be a shooting match of the Raleigh Gun Club at Athletic Park to-morrow evening at 5:30 P. M. Let every member be present. The public invited.

The grand display of fire works intended for the 4th of July at Athletic Park, and which was postponed on account of the rain, will be given at the park to-night, sure.

The bridge over Rocky branch, at Tucker's mill, on the Fayetteville road, between this city and the water works, is in a dilapidated condition, and vehicles, when heavily loaded, are running great risk in passing over it. The attention of the county commissioners is called to the fact.

Change in Schedule.

A slight change of schedule on the R. and D. Railroad went into effect this morning, by which the morning express train arrives from Greensboro at 7:45, instead of 8:30, and leaves for Goldsboro at 9 o'clock. Express No. 52 arrives from Goldsboro at 8 P. M. and leaves for Greensboro at 1 A. M., instead of 12 midnight.

which accompanied Hon. Jefferson Davis, while Secretary of War under President Pierce, 1855. The map shows several routes, all starting at Chicago and terminating at different points on the Pacific coast. The Library is an excellent depository for such curiosities, and the Librarian, while collecting portraits of Confederate soldiers, is also engaged in securing old papers, etc.

Third Baptist Sunday School Picnic. This afternoon, about half past two o'clock, in charge of their worthy and efficient superintendent, Mr. Jno. T. Pullen, the Sunday-school of the Third Baptist church, left the city by the street car line, for Brookside Park to hold their annual picnic. After some interesting exercises, consisting of short speeches, recitations, and vocal and instrumental music, the children will regale themselves with ice cold lemonade and the many other nice things which have been prepared for them by the teachers. At the hour of going to press the park presents an animated scene and hundreds of little children are happy.

Election of Graded School Teachers.

The following have been elected as teachers in the Raleigh public schools for the ensuing year:

In the white schools:—J. D. Miller, F. M. Harper, C. J. Parker, St. Clair Hester, Mrs. James Williamson and Misses Jean C. Gales, Mary V. Marsh, Ruth Lanier, S. W. Ashe, Carrie C. Strong, E. A. Pool, Loula Riddle, Grace H. Bates, Annie W. Conigland, Mary E. Wiley, Minnie Redford, Kate D. Fuller, Myrtle Branson and Emily Tillinghast.

In the colored schools:—E. A. Johnson, D. A. Lane, W. H. Peace, E. H. Hunter, J. R. Davis, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. H. W. Laae, E. J. Hackney, Mrs. A. W. Hamlin, Mrs. E. Mitchell, Mrs. S. P. Martin, Mrs. K. S. Richardson, Florence Gray, Fannie O'Kelley.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of County Commissioners will meet in Raleigh on Monday, the 8th day of July, 1889, for the purpose of revising the tax list for 1889 and hearing complaints of over valuation. J. P. H. ADAMS, Clerk.