CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Candidates.

We are authorized to announce the name of HENRY WALSER, as a candidate to represent Davidson County in the ne. t Legislature-in the Senate.

COMMITTED .- Jefferson Miller, freed man, arrested some days ago on the charge of having set fire to the house of Major Turner of this city on the night of the 26th ult., was committed by Justice Enniss today to await his trial for the crime of arson; at the next term of our Superior Court .--The evidence was all circumstantial and very strong. The investigation was very tedious and occupied several days. The great patience of Mr. Justice Enniss, the calm judgment which he displayed during the long investigation, the vast amount of labor which he performed in making a 15; red $2 75. We once knew a Judge to fine a justice of the peace $1000 for neglecting to make a record of the testimony taken before him in a proliminary investigation, tut justice Enniss THE PRESIDENT IN ST. LOUISso far from incurring such penalties for neglect of duty, will extort the commenda tion of the judges for his faithfulness.

RAIL ROAD ACCIDENT .- We are pained to learn that a serious accident occurred on the N. C. Railroad this morning. The freight train came in collission with a gravel train at Caudle's Creek a few miles South of Concord. Both engines were badly smashed up, and three persons were killed and three badly wounded. We have not learned the names of the killed and wounded.

BARN BURNT .- In Union County, near Walkerville, on Tuesday night; the light-ning struck Mrs. Susan Norwood's barn, burning it to the ground with its contents, consisting of all her provender, wagon, buggy, &c. The loss is quite a severe one to Mrs. Norwood -Char. Dem.

Levan Home. A Historical Romance of the 19th Century.

BY PHIL WOODLEY, Esq. This romance, couldently announced as a chaste and elegant story—a master production—will be com-menced in the FIELD AND FIRESIDE July 7th, 1866. While the tale, as indicated by its title, involves numerous historical incidents—which by the way are rendered in vivid truthfulness—it is founded upon a plot thrilling in interest, and absorbing in the power and charm of its combinations. Henry W. Miller, and charm of its combinations. Henry W. Millar, dec'd, and other distinguished North Carolinians, fig-ure prominently in this story. The author is a gentleman eminent in letters and fa-miliar with all those things of history, society, science and human nature, which wield the great lever of the world of fiction and romance; and we promise our readers that he has left untouched nothing that should ave place in a first class performance. The price of the FIELD AND FIRESIDE is $5.00 for one year; 2.50 for six months; 1.95 for three months Sample copies, containing first portion of "Levan Home" will be sent on receipt of ten cents. Address Wm. B. Sn. th & Co., 40 and 42, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C. June 28, '66. no69tf.

the prospect is fair. The late rains in this section have done much good.

But we are sorry to hear of poor prospects in Union county. The whole of that county appears to have suffered from drouth.

Let us all resolve to help each other in these times as much as possible. Let those who have corn to spare be particular not to sell to extortioners, but to those who actually need it .- Ib.

THE CORN TRADE .- We presume that several of our merchants will make arrangements to bring to this market corn from Baltimore, Norfolk, &c., and we hop they will co-operate so as to put it at the lowest possible figure to consumers. It will benefit the trade of the town, besides relieve the necessities of many, to sell corn here at a moderate price. We do not think the scarcity in this section will be anything like what was feared a few weeks_ago-this whole country is a long ways off from a famine yet awhile-but the importation of corn from other markets will not hurt anything but do much good, provided it can be sold at ordinary prices. After the new crop begins to arrive at Baltimore and Norfolk we think it can be afforded here at at $1 25 per bushel .- Char. Dem.

detter from Fineastle, September 1. gives us the particulars of a foul and brutal murder committed at Clover Dale Mills, in Botetourt. It appears that young J. W. Bates, formerly chief clerk at General Langhorn, who lived near there. He struck him while asleep' pulled him off the coun-ter and kicked him senseless. Bates expired in thirty minutes. There were five full-grown men who witnessed the murder, and did not interfere for fear of the bully Langhorn. He is in jail to await trial. Bates was an inoffensive man, and many who came in contact with him at headquarters of the Army of Northern Virginia can S C; Capt E G Blackmer, H C Cox, W testify to the same .- Valley Virginian.
