The Mail.

BY ATTENDING TO THE FOLLOWING instructions, the work of re-establishing the mails South will be much facilitated.

According to a late order of the Postmaster General, a Route cannot be contracted for, and a mail established, unless there are at least two acting postmasters on said Route at either terminus. If such have not been appointed, see that application should be made by petition immediately. The petition should have a dozen or more signers, and run somewhat thus:

State of _____ }
 County of _____ }
 To the Hon. A. W. Randall, Postmaster General.

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, respectfully petition that _____ be appointed (postmaster or postmistress, as the case may be) at _____ County of _____ State of _____.

He (or she) can take the oath.

No person who is under twenty-one years of age can be appointed a postmaster or a postmistress. Single ladies and widows only can be appointed postmistresses.

No person who is under sixteen years of age can act as mail carrier.

All contractors and mail carriers will be required to take the oath.

A mail contractor is required to take the oath but once only. A person having become a contractor and taken the oath, will not henceforth be required to take it again.

A person cannot facilitate his appointment as postmaster by taking the oath in advance, or when making application; this must be done after appointment.

Levan Home,

BY PAUL WOOLLEY, Esq.
 This romance, considerably announced as a cheap and elegant story—a master production—will be commenced in the FIELD AND FIRESTONE July 7th, 1866.

While the title, as indicated by its title, involves numerous historical incidents—rich by the way are rendered in vivid truthfulness—it is founded upon a plot thrilling in interest, and absorbing in the power and charm of its combinations. Henry W. Miller, Dec 8, and other distinguished North Carolinians, figure prominently in this story.

The author is a gentleman eminent in letters and familiar with all those things of history, science and human nature, which wield the great levers of the world of fiction and romance; and we promise our readers that he has left untouched nothing that should have place in a first-class performance.

The price of the FIELD AND FIRESTONE is $5.00 for one year; 2.50 for six months; 1.25 for three months. Sample copies, postpaid, first portion of "Levan Home" will be sent on receipt of this cent. Address Wm. B. South & Co., 40 and 42, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.
