Young Lady returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognised by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twentythree she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change. she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Baim, and considered it an inval-uable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion-By its direct action on the cuticle if draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. ASTROLOGE.

The IVerid Astonished, HE WONDERPUL REVERTIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, THE GREAT ASTROLOGIS.

She reveals secrets no mortals ever know.

She reveres to happines those who, from doletul vents, catastrophies, crosses in love, loss forfeations and friends, loss of money, &c., bee become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information con-crening absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with safety and satisfaction to themselves as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secreey will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the mouth and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

Reparator Capilli. For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing the will force or hasten the growth of the har or beard. Their assertions are false, as dousands of living witnesses [from their ova experience] can bear witness. But rany will say, how are we to distinguish de genuine from the spurious? It certainy is difficult, as nine-tenths of the differed Preparations advertised for the hair and seard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts a their purchase. H'DQ'S, SECOND MILITARY DIST,) Charleston, S. C., April 11, '67. General Orders No. 10.

The general destitution prevailing among the population of this Military District cannot be relieved without affording means for the development of their industriai resources. The nature and extent of the destitution demand extraordinary measures. The people are borne bown by a heavy burden of debt; the crops of grain and garden produce failed last year; ma nany families have been deprived of shelter; many more need food and clothing; needful implements and auxilliaries of husbandry are very scarce; the laboring population in numerous localities are threat ened with starvation, unless supplied with food by the Government of the U. States ; the mability of a large portion of the people to pay taxes leaves the local authorities without adequate means of relief; and the gravity of the situation is increased by the general disposition shown by creditors to enforce, upon an impoverished people, the immediate collection of all claims.

To suffer all this to go on without restraint or remedy is to sacrifice the general good. The rights of creditors shall be respected; but the appeal of want and suf-fering must be leeded. Moved by these considerations, the following regulations are announced They will continue in force with such modifications as the occasion may require, until the civil government of the respective States shall be established. in accordance with the requirements of the Government of the United a servance of these regulations, and coperation of all persons concerned in employing fairly and justly the advantages still remaining to them, will mitigate the distress now existing; and that the avenues of industry, enterprise, and organization thus be enforced. opened, will contribute to the permanent | X. In suits brought to recover ordinary welfare and future happiness of the people.

I. Imprisonment for debt is prohibited, anless the defendant in execution shall be convicted of a fraudulant concealment or disposition of his property, with intent to hinder, delay and prevent the creditor in the revery of his debt or demand. And the proceedings now establised in North and South Carolina, respectively, for the trial of and determination of such questions may be adopted.

II. Judgments or decrees, for the payment of money, on causes of action arising between the 19th of December, 1860, and the 15thof may, 1865, shall not be enforced by execution against the property or the person of the defendant. Proceedings in such causes of action, now pending. shall bestayed; and no suit or process shall be hereafter instituten or commenced, for any such causes of action.

III. Sheriffs, Coroners, and Constables, are hereby directed to suspend for twelve calander months the sale of all property, upon execution or process, on liabilities contracted prior to the 19th of December 1860, unless upon the written consent of the defendants, except in cases where the plaintiff, or in his absence his agent or attorney, shall upon oath, with coroborative testimany, allege and prove that the defendant is removing, or intends fraudulently to remove, his property beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the Court. The sale of real or personal property by forclosure of mortgage is likewise suspended for 12 calendar months, except in cases where the payment of interest money, accruing since the 15th day of May, 1865, shall not have been made before the day of sale.

IV. Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled, on causes of action arising subsequent to the 15th of May, 1865, may be enforced by execution against the property of the defendant; and in the application of the money arising under such execution regard shall be had to the priority of liens unless in case where the good faith of any lien shall be drawn in question In such cases the usual mode of proceeding adopted in North and South Carolina, respecttively, to determine that question, shall be

V. All proceedings for the recovery money under contracts, whether under seal or by parole, the consideration for which was the purchase of negroes, are suspended. Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled for such causes of action, shall not be enforced.

The Handwriting on the Wall Panic in the Radical Party There are two remarkable article from the Providence Journal, Sens Englard. The "lesson of Chorous as the Tribune calls it, has cen thorous the car of national progress a little too fa for some sections of the party:" The Providence Journal states the case more nearly, when it declares that the party "cannot endure everything which ambitious and extreme men may undertake to accomplish in its name;" that the schemes now fostered by the Radical leaders "are mischieyous enough to ruin an party;" that if impeachment is successful, "it is enough to see that the Republican party is ruined ;" that forcing suffrage upon the States is "beyond the power of Congress and will be exceedingly injurious to the continuance of the party's power." The Springfield Republican, of the same date, talks in the same strain. These journals see that their leaders will ruin the party. They see the defeat of Radicalism in one of its strongholds-Connecticut. The handwriting on the wall produces a panic in the party. The cry of the lead is, that the party "has gone too far."-N. Y. Will There be War in Europe? Will Napoleon go to war? He is now fifty-nine years of age; with a constitution somewhat impaired; with several failures reckoned against him by the French people; with a "World's Fair" on his hands, the expenses of which he has cunningly and meanly settled upon the different governments whose people take part in it; with an heir to his throne, growing up but not yet of age, to take part in affairs; with a growing suspicion among the French people that their master is a bit of a blunderer; with a man before him, Count Bismarck, of great ideas, more powerful will and real courage, as the head of a united and victorious Germany. This is Napoleon's position in brief. He has himself given some hostages for peace -but aside from those he can scarcely afford to go to war in Europe. To make war on Prussia is to venture on what, if he is deteated, would ruin him; it would be a war in which he must ruin his adversary of the ruined himself. We do not think Napoleon's position yet so desperate that he is likely to dare and risk so much, It is true that his curses are now-a days coming home to roost; his plans, so long maturing, have one after the other failed; he has lost the reputation he once had for strength and successful cunning; his temper is doubtless somewhat affected by his failures. But he le yet firm on the throne he stole, and unless he has become blind at last, it is hardly possible that he would venture on the great game of a general European war .- New York Evening Post.

A novel election wager was fulfilled in Meriden, Conn., a few days ago, by the defeated party wheeling the other through the public street some half a mile and giving three cheers for his opponent's candidate, James E. English, in the presence
