

Special ASTROLOGY.

The World Astonished, AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, Madame H. A. Ferrigo.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars she sees the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration, from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with safety and satisfaction to themselves as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and prices above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair. Address, MADAME H. A. FERRIGO, P. O. Special Notices. Reparator Capilli.

Throw away your false tresses, your switches, your wig. Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig; Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair; And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair. Reparator Capilli. For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say, how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different Preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, post paid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, providing entire satisfaction is not given. YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognised by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruddy complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its composition, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the entire it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. Price $1, sent by Mail or Express, on receipt of an order, by BERGER, SHUTTS, & CO., Chemists, 285 River St., Troy, N. Y. april 4, '67. tw-ly

ABOUT MY DESTINY.

MADAME E. P. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant, and Psychometrist, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychometre, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can attest. She will send you desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communications strictly confidential. Address in confidence, Madame E. P. Thornton, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y. march 28, 1867. tw-ly

From the Charleston News. General Hindman's Letter. We have of late paid considerable attention to the utterances of the leaders of the Southern people. We have quoted and annotated upon their views, because we deem it natural, that in this time of doubt and perplexity, when the fundamental principles of society and government are brought into the arena of discussion, the people should look for counsel, guidance and direction to those who have gone by and directed positions of honor and of trust among their fellow-citizens. Many of our most prominent public men have spoken; both those who formerly represented us in the halls of legislation, and those also who were wont to lead our enthusiastic citizen soldiery to battle and to victory. With scarcely an exception, the ex-Confederate Generals, who have been heard from in this connection, have been heard from in a conciliatory policy. They accept the situation, and advise all their friends to do so. To the long list of these we can now add General Hindman, one our most distinguished Western chieftains, during the four years' struggle. He wrote a letter on the 29th of June last to the Editors of the Arkansas State Gazette. His language: "I believe it to be a most salutary duty of every friend of the South, who is permitted to do so, to register and vote for a convention, and for good and true men as delegates, who will acquiesce in the Military bills of Congress, not because those bills are constitutional, just, or wise, but because the power that forces them on us is greater than we can resist, and utter and permanent ruin may overtake us in a further contest against it, such reasoning as this controlled Lee and Johnston, when they surrendered to Grant and Sherman, and as there was no disgrace to them, so there can be none to us, in assenting to an inevitable necessity." General Hindman is anxious to correct the impression that has been industriously circulated to his disadvantage, that he is a radical. He denies the accusation, but considers that in giving counsel like that quoted above, he is giving the best possible proof of his love for the South, and his interest in, and sympathy with her people. He urgently advises every man, not disinclined to secure his restoration certificate without delay, and preserve it as carefully as the brave soldier saves his last round of ammunition. "Those certificates are the basis of suffrage now, if not for years. Holding them, we may refuse to vote when we like; but if we do not hold them, we will be powerless to help our friends, although our worst enemies may liberally be elected. Support that a Governor and Congressmen are to be chosen. On one side a Radical ticket is presented, hawking for confiscation and the blood of rebels, and stirring up the negroes to a fratricidal war of races. On the other side the candidates are fair minded conservative men, abiding the results of the war in good faith, maintaining the Union and the laws in all honesty of heart, and bent on doing everything that will extinguish bitter memories and restore prosperity to the whole country. The first of these tickets will destroy us—the last will give equality before the law. Yet many of us have refused to register that our friends are beaten in the State or District for the lack of a few votes, but by neglect of ours. Our ultra Radical pre-ceptors are thus elected, and we make ourselves responsible here for such outrageous tyranny as that of Fletcher in Missouri, or of Brownlow in Tennessee. How dare a true friend of the South take this burden on his conscience?" So far, General Hindman. This letter breathes the proper spirit, a spirit which should be infused into all who desire to see the Southern States saved from further degradation. It is far better for all to adopt the conciliatory plan that he invokes (the course which we have all along counseled), than to arouse passions that may arm us against each other. This the letters and speeches of Messrs. Perry, Hill, Johnson, Tombs and others of that party, are more calculated to do even than the intemperate harangues of a Kelley a Butler or a Stevens. It is no time for crimination or recrimination. We must live on terms of civil and political equality with the negroes. Why should we needlessly do that which must result in their ill-will and distrust, and thus destroy what is left of our former influence with them. The country needs peace and restoration. The uncertain law of a military commander is not equal to the certain enactments of undisturbed legislation. Nothing will prosper as long as we are in our present position. The farms not well stocked, and provisions scarce and costly. Merchants from the highest to the lowest complain of want of business. Mechanics and artisans are not employed because of want of capital by those who need them. All these classes of industry will remain as they are or get worse. No State offers finer inducements to capitalists and they stay away. Money is plenty at the North and in Europe, and yet none can be obtained by farmers of the South on their lands, no matter how badly they need it. Remain as we are, and the effort to regain our lost prosperity will be short, sharp and decisive against us. We appeal to every man in the State to take advantage of the offer now made; to register and qualify to vote, and aid in selecting good men to the Convention that is to be called, so that they can vote upon the constitution that it will adopt and submit for approval or rejection. We know we are open to the charge of repetition, having dwelt now on this topic, almost daily, for some time. But we have no apologies to offer. If we recur to the subject of our duty again and again, we do so only because we deem this the subject of pre-eminent importance at this time to every man, woman and child in the South; and, therefore, the most natural and legitimate topic for discussion in these columns.

From the Charleston News. BREAK OF NATURE.—A child was born at Chippewa, Wis., a few days since, with a body, two heads and four arms. Just above the hips the body increased in size, the back bone branching out to right and left, and diverging sufficiently to give room for two shoulder blades between them, in their proper position, the distinct two forms beginning their separate existence just below the arm pits. In front, the body below the naval appeared natural. Above that point it gradually branched out into two separate organizations the breast bones being joined. The vital organs were all double. The shoulders and neck perfect, the heads well formed. The features regular and well developed, one head appearing to be that of a male, while the features of the other resembled those of a female. One side lived a few moments after birth. The other was born dead.—Rich. Ex.

A Caledonia paper, in an obituary of a young lady, who died lately, closed in saying: "She had an amiable temper, and was uncommonly fond of Icecream and other delicacies."

To THE COLORED MEN.—Mr. Aaron Hart, a colored mechanic of Washington, presents the following views through the Washington Index: "We of the South have to be one, what is the white man's interest must and will be the colored man's. All have been born on Southern soil—some masters and some slaves. I was born a slave; this was not my master's fault. That some (white and colored) are trying to make the former slaves hate their former masters is plain. This I will not do. I know those among whom I was raised; I do not know those that came to me and take me by the hand at night, give me a blow in the dark, and when it is light do not notice me on the street. I notice another thing; those white men that tell us we must wear the Radical ticket and we shall have a farm, do not have enough to build a chicken coop. I think they want the negroes to do the voting, but they want the farms. I was a member of the Gospel—belonged to the Baptist church—and think I have studied the interest of my race since we have been set free, and give it as my opinion, it is best for the colored people to make friends at home. As to politics, I do not know much, but from what I know, I am a Conservative. They say by not having any secrets, but talk out. This I like."

A small party of ladies and gentlemen were recently belated on a mountain near Patterson, N. J., lost their way, and wandered about for hours in the pitchy darkness. At one time a flash of lightning revealed to them their situation, about two feet from the edge of a steep quarry one hundred feet deep, into which, in another second, the whole party would have been precipitated. George Sands' children are in court to break the will of the Business Bulletin. It is estimated that the Republicans can carry Virginia by twenty-thousand majority. On an average the body of our "unknown person," per day is found in the East River, New York. A man in Rutland, Vt., was cured of deafness by a stroke of lightning. Very few would be willing to take that remedy. The American Watch Company, Waretown, C., turns out a watch every two and a half minutes during the working hours of the day. A huge aquarium is being constructed in Berlin on the best scientific principles. It is to contain aquatic inhabitants from all parts of the globe. Peter Cooper who contends for the legs of all oxen killed in New York, is made into grass bundles, valued at $400,000 in the past twelve months. The Bank of England has so much money on hand that the rate of interest has been reduced to 2 1/2 per cent. and there is some talk of reducing it to 2 per cent. Some very amusing and interesting stories are told of the political career in Kentucky. One of them is related by the Frankfort Commonwealth. It runs: "We learn that one of the rebel Democratic candidates for representative in this country, in his speech, recently made by his competitor with having furnished the United States Government with horses to be used in putting down the rebellion. The second party replied that he had a contract to furnish horses to the Government; that he had so furnished them but that he had so arranged the plan and time of their delivery as to secure their capture by John Morgan, who was then on a raid in Kentucky."
