THE AMERICAN SIGNAL will be published in the City of Raleigh, as a campaign paper, Semi-Weekly and Weekly. It will be the exponent of the great national principles upon which MILLARD FILLMORE and ANDREW JACKSON DONELSON have planned themselves, in accepting the nomination made by the National American Convention at Philadelphia. It will advocate the claims of JOHN A. GILMER, as the office of Governor, as the bearer of that American flag, under which it is the purpose of every true American in North Carolina to march to the conflict of American against Foreignism, conservatism against radicalism, of devotion to the Union against disunion.

The SIGNAL has been gotten up under circumstances, that assure to the friends of the American cause a paper worthy of their confidence and support, arrangements having been made to secure for its columns the efficient services of several writers of eminent ability belonging to the American Party.

Terms for the Campaign, invariably in advance: Semi-Weekly, $1.00; Weekly, 75 cents for a single copy, or 10 copies for $5.

WILL C. DOUB, Publisher and Proprietor.

The friends of the cause will please circulate this Prospectus, and send up lists of subscribers without delay, as the campaign has already commenced.

JUNE 16, 1856.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the American Party of North Carolina will earnestly urge on the friends of FILLMORE, DONELSON and GILMER, the great importance of distributing at once, such political papers and documents as are calculated to explain the principles and advance the cause, for which the banner of the National American Party has been unfurled. We do not shrink from the discussion of our principles, and if every true man does his duty, there will be no reason to fear the result of the contest. To the prompt and full performance of such duty each and all of us are invoked, by every consideration of patriotism.

The Committee having been confidently assured that the "AMERICAN SIGNAL" will be made an able and efficient campaign paper, would respectfully commend it to the patronage of those friendly to the National American nominations.

The British Periodicals and the Farmer's Guide.

GREAT REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF THE LATTER PUBLICATION.

L. SCOTT & CO., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

The London Quarterly (Conservative.)

The Edinburgh Review (Whig.)

The North British Review (Free Church.)

The Westminster Review (Liberal.)

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Tory.)

THE great and important events—Religious, Political and Military—now agitating the nations of the Old World, give to these Publications an interest and value, they never before possessed. They occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news-items, crude speculations, and flying rumors of the newspapers, and the more intelligible and reliable account of the movements of the great historian, written long after the living interest in the facts he records shall have passed away. The progress of the War in the East occupies a large space in their pages. Every movement is closely criticized, whether of friend or foe, and all short-comings fearlessly pointed out. The letters from the Crimea and from the Baltic in Blackwood's Magazine, from two of its most popular contributors, give more intelligible and reliable account of the movements of the great belligerents than can elsewhere be found.

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical—but politics forms only one feature of their character. As Organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand, as they ever have stood, unrivalled in the world of letters, being more indispensable to the scholar and professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world, than can be possibly obtained from any other source.

ERNEST LINWOOD, BY CAROLINE LEE HENTZ.

ALTHOUGH but a single month has passed since the first copy of this brilliant book was issued, yet so great has been the demand for the last and most beautiful work from the pen of its lamented authoress, that we are now printing the TWENTIETH THOUSAND, with an unabated demand still pressing us. Since the days of the Lamplighter, no book has sold so rapidly, or become so universally popular.

Col. Fuller of the New York Mirror, in his one of the most elegant articles ever penned, in regard to authors or their productions, uses the following beautiful language:

"Death darkens his eye, unplumes his wings, But the sweetest sing is the last he sings."

In the volume entitled "Ernest Linwood," just issued by Jewett & Co., of Boston, we have the dying song of the elegant authoress, Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz. Mourningly sweet like the sigh of an Eolian lyre, yet deep and arduous as the voice of many waters, it seems to have been poured forth while her soul floated down to the ocean of Rest. On every page we can trace the shadow of the death-angel, who bore her away when her song was ended. Mysterious gleams from beneath the uplifting veil of Spirit-land stare a we read. The book is a broad cast farewell—a lingering farewell—grassy from other worlds. If we mistake not, the impressive passages are revelations of the inner life of the writer—wonderfully vivid and absorbing, because wonderfully real.

We will not attempt to follow out, in this notice, the thread of an inimitable tale so doing we should only anticipate scenes and events, which come, with beautiful linkings and fine effects, before the eye of the reader. We would not rob the book of half its charm.

Sweet Gabriella Lynn will tell her own story.

Wood-Notes, or Carolina Carols, A COLLECTION OF NORTH CAROLINA POETRY.

Compiled by Tenella. 2 Vols. 12mo. $1.75.

THE Volumes of poetry now presented to the public had their origin in a collection for the compiler's own use. As it increased, a few friends expressed a wish that it should be rendered as complete as possible and published that every North Carolinian might have an opportunity of possessing in a permanent and convenient form, a copy of many pieces that they had probably read and admired, and perhaps for a time preserved from regard for the authors. Encouraged by their kind co-operation, the work has been steadily, though slow, growing until it has reached its present size, though it was impossible to procure many pieces which it was thought could be procured, yet it is hoped that this first attempt of the kind in North Carolina will meet with the favor of those for whose use the work is principally intended. Though we may not have produced any very great poets, still these "foot-prints of the Muse" will show them we possess some of the best. By Nature; men endowed with highest gifts, The Vision and the faculty divine."

It is from our knowledge of the writers that many pieces in this collection will derive their interest, and though viewed by the severe eye of criticism, they would have been rejected, still it was thought that public expectation would have been disappointed had they been omitted. [PREFACE.] For sale wholesale and retail by the publisher.
