PROSPECTUS OF

THE AMERICAN SIGNAL.

THE AMERICAN SIGNAL will be published in the City of Raleigh, as a campaign paper, Semi-Weekly and Weekly It will be the expenent of the great national principles upon which MILLARD FILL-MORE and ANDREW JACKSON DONELSON have planted themselves, in accepting the nomination made by the National American Convention at Philadelphia. It will advocate the claims of John A. GILMER to the office of Governor, as the bearer of that American flag, under which it is the purpose of every true American in North Carelina to march to the conflict of Americansmagainst Foreignism, conservatism againstradicalism, of devotion to the Union against disunion.

The SIGNAL has been gotten up under circumstances, that assure to the friends of the American cause a paper worthy of their confidence and support, arrangements ing to the American Party.

Terms for the Campaign, invariably in advance: Semi-Weekly, $1,00; Weekly, 75 cents for a single copy, or 10 copies for $5.

WILL. C. DOUB, Publisher and Proprietor. The friends of the cause will please circulate this Prospectus, and send up lists of subscribers without delay, as the campaign has already commenced."

"Death darkens his eye, unplumes his wings, But the sweetest song is the last he sings." In the volume entitled "Ernest Liawood," just issued by Jewett & Co., of Boston, we have the dying song while our stock is full. All our seed are warranted of the elegant and gifted Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz .- fresh and genuine, and among them are some new and Mournfully sweet like the sigh of an Æolian lyre, yet splendid varieties. deep and oracular as the voice of many waters, it seems to have been poured forth while her soul floated down to the ocean of Rest. On almost every page we can trace the shadow of the death-angel, who bore her away when her song was ended. Mysterious gleams from beneath the uplifting veil of Spirit-land stare a we read. The book is a broad-cast farewell-a lingering hand-grasp from one we loved. If we mistathot, its impressive passages are revelations of the inner life of the writer-wonderfully vivid and absorbing, because wonderfully real. We will not attempt to follow out, in this notice, the thread of an inimitable tale; in so doing we should only anticipate scenes and events, which come, with beautiful linkings and fine effect, before the eye of the reader. We would not rob the book of half its charm.

A COLLECTION OF NORTH CAROLINA POETRY. Compiled by Tenella. 2 Vols. 12mo. $1.75:

THE Volumes of poetry now presented to the public had their origin in a collection for the compiler's own use. As it increased, a few friends expressed a wish that it should be rendered as c amplete as possible an opportunity of possessing in a permanent and con-venient form, a copy of many pieces that they had probably read and admired, and perhaps for a time preserved from regard for the authors. Encouraged by their kind co-operation, the work has been steadily, though slowly, growing until it has reached its present size: though it has been impossible to procure many pieces Political, and Military—now agitating the nations of the Old World, give to these Publications will meet with the favor of the citizens for whose use For Sale by have produced any very great poets, still these "foot-prints of the Muse" will show them we posses some of "the poets that are sown

By Nature; men endowed with highest gifts, The Vision and the faculty divine."

It is from our knowledge of the writers that many pieces in this collection will derive their interest, and though viewed by the severe eye of criticism, they would have been rejected, still it was thought that public expectation would have been disappointed had they been mitted .- - [PREFACE.] For sale wholesale and retail by the publisher.
