Before the people can submit to the dictation of such a body, they will demand of their presses to show their authority—the manner of their appointment, and the number and character of their constituents.

That the names of the delegates from this State may not hereafter be unknown to fame, we here give them a conspicuous insertion. They are

Although the Territories have no vote for President, it must not be forgotten that they have electors to be represented.

The sovereign power in motion—The Caucus is rebuked.—The people are not coming, but rushing to the standard of their liberties. The truth and propriety of this remark are abundantly established by the overwhelming meeting of the citizens of Rowan county, which took place at Salisbury on the 18th instant, the proceedings of which will be given in our next.

At the meeting in Rowan, there were at least one thousand persons present; and the one in Iredell three hundred and fifty or four hundred. At both of these meetings of the real people—the bone and sinew of the country—Judge Warren was nominated for the presidency. What a contrast between these vast assemblages and the petty Van Buren Caucuses, composed of from six to thirty persons! We have every day the most convincing and convincing evidence that North Carolina will indignantly trample the chains forged for her by the Baltimore Caucus under her feet; and, by pursuing the course which comports with the true and original principles of our constitutional Government, prove to the world the genuineness of her republicanism, and command the admiration of her sister States, and show herself worthy of the affection of her children scattered throughout the State of Tennessee and over the powerful and patriotic West, where the people properly appreciate, and are determined to exercise the right of self-government.

P. S. We learn from the last Greensboro Patriot, that the people of Guilford county held a meeting at their Court House on the 19th instant; which a resolution denouncing the Baltimore Caucus was adopted by a vote of 93 to 3. Well done Guilford!

Judge White, it will be recollected, is a native of Iredell county.

Salisbury Congressional District.—ANTON CHAIKIN, Esq. is announced in Salisbury papers as a candidate to represent that District in the next Congress. ABRAM RENCHER, Esq. the incumbent, is also a candidate.

Florida.—Col. White has been rejected Delegate to Congress from this territory. His competitors were Messrs. Gadsden, Wyatt and Nuttall.

Ohio.—The Governor of Ohio has issued a proclamation, summoning the Legislature to meet on the 8th proximo, to take into consideration the controversy now pending between that State and the Territory of Michigan.

The Administration party going White by whole States.—It is stated by the Mississippi Courier and that "Judge WHITE will be the choice of the JACKSON PARTY in Mississippi." Thus are we assured another Jackson State will spurn the dictation of the Van Buren Caucus, and vote for that plain and honest republican, HUGH LAWSON WHITE. We have no doubt that, in a short time, all the truly democratic portion of the South and West at least, will follow the example of Tennessee, Iowa and Mississippi, and declare White, who is emphatically the people's candidate.

New Branch Bank.—We learn from the Fayetteville Observer that the Bank of the State of North Carolina has purchased the Banking House at town at present occupied by the branch of the U. S. Bank, and that it is in contemplation to establish a Branch of the former institution there.

The Family Minstrel, a notice of which appears in our Advertisement columns to day, is a neatly printed periodical, and merits the patronage of the lovers of music. The pieces of music alone which accompany each number, are well worth the amount of subscription.

Rhode Island Senator.—Nehemiah R. KNIGHT, a firm Whig, has been elected a Senator of the United States from Rhode Island, by a majority of three votes over ELISHA R. POTTER, the Administration candidate. The votes stood thus: For Knight 41, Potter 38. Governor KNIGHT has represented his State in the Senate sixteen years without intermission. The N. Y. Evening Star observes, "Gov. Knight is a republican of the old school. Mr. Potter, the Jackson candidate, was an active federalist, and voted against the war—yet he is called the Democratic candidate, forsooth!—What an abuse of terms!"

Cholera.—We regret to perceive that this dreadful pestilence has already commenced its ravages in the west and south west this Spring. At Memphis, Tennessee, where a few cases occurred early in the Spring, the disease, a few weeks ago, seemed wholly to have disappeared. It appears, however, from the following remarks of the Memphis Gazette of the 7th instant, that its cessation was of short duration, and that it has again broken out with great violence: "On Sunday morning several cases of this disease presented themselves among the citizens; since which, it has raged with increased malignity and violence. In the last five days there have been upwards of twenty cases, six of which have proved fatal. We were informed this morning, by one of the Physicians of this place, that since the cholera broke out here (which was about a month since), that there had been 27 deaths, including those from the river, at the Hospital, and the resident citizens: 18 of which were of Cholera."

Letters received at Charleston from New Orleans, dated 9th instant, state that the Cholera has broken out there with great violence. One gentleman, who arrived there about the 1st inst. with eighteen slaves, had lost eight of the number by this disease.

"He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."—The Port Gibson (Mississippi) Correspondent, speaking of the delegates sent from Mississippi to the Baltimore Van Buren Convention, says—"we now assert in confidence that there are not five men in the county—that there are not fifty men in the state who either know who they are, or how or when they were appointed. And yet they will presume to represent the State of Mississippi in the Baltimore Convention."

This is the democracy of the partisans of Mr. Van Buren; but who can be so ignorant or regardless of his own character as to call it the democracy of the American Constitution?

The Rutherfordton Spectator, a Van Buren paper, has been discontinued.

Who are the "political enemies" of the people? Are they those who show respect for their virtue and intelligence, and confidence in their ability to govern themselves, by defending their right to choose their public servants, by the exercise of their own unbiased suffrages, according to the provisions of the Constitution; or those who scoff at the idea of the people's acting for themselves, and impudently strive to control them in their elections by means of that powerful engine of TYRANNY—a CAUCUS? Let the people consider, and answer the question.

The great Celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.—The streets of Charlotte were thronged throughout the day with a dense crowd of people, assembled from all the surrounding country—to witness the imposing spectacle of the first Grand Celebration of our own Independence. The feeling and enthusiasm of the whole multitude was beyond anything we ever witnessed. The Revolutionary Soldiers—with their sash badges marked '75 instead of '76—the great men of our State, and a numerous concourse of strangers, from South-Carolina, and the more distant counties of our own State, were present and joined in the celebration. The day was unusually splendid. The immense military parade, under the command of General Polk, opened the ceremonies of the day. His excellency, the Governor, was present and reviewed the troops. At 12 o'clock the Military passed through the streets and the procession formed, and joined in opposite Dr. Boyd's Hotel. Thence they proceeded to the Church grove, where arrangements had been made for the delivery of the oration, and the reading of the Mecklenburg Declaration. The stand from which the oration was delivered, was wreathed all around with flowers—a decoration for which we were indebted to the taste of the young ladies of Charlotte. The Grove was crowded all around further than the human voice could reach—and it is no exaggeration to say that there were five thousand within hearing of the stand.

At precisely half past one, the Rev. Mr. Armstrong opened with a prayer; and then followed Mr. Osborne, the Reader of the Declaration, who prefaced his task with a few eloquent and pertinent remarks. He then read the Declaration and gave out the name of the Signers, in a loud and impressive voice. Then followed the Oration, Franklin Smith, Esq. He gave a succinct and eloquent account of the aggressions of the Mother country upon the rights of the Colonies, and then came down to the period of the Declaration. He sketched the character of the Mecklenburg Convention, and in a strain of feeling eloquence, commemorated the virtues of the heroes of the 20th of May, 1775. It was an eloquent performance, and gave universal satisfaction.

Then came the dinner. Upwards of 600 persons sat down to the table, prepared by Dr. Boyd, in a Grove fronting the house of Dr. Caldwell. The greatest good feeling prevailed, and merriment and social cheer went brisk around. The toasts announced as the toasts of the day—were arranged by the committee consisting of Mr. Davidson, Dr. Dunlap, Wm. J. Alexander, and Franklin Smith, Esq. Mr. Senator Mangum, Governor Swain, and General Duff Green spoke at length upon politics of the day. Gen. Graham gave an interesting historical sketch, by way of compliment to him. The whole day went off joyously well. In the evening, there was a splendid Ball. The room was crowded with ladies, gaily attired, who seemed to enjoy the celebration as much as the youth of the county. The supper table was beautifully arranged, and the large centre cake was gilded with the inscription—The 20th of May, 1775, Charlotte has not seen such a day for 60 years.

In our hurry to go to Press, we are obliged to omit the Toasts, and the Letters from invited guests, who could not attend, and a more particular account and notice of the proceedings of the day.—Charlotte Journal.

The individuals of the Ohio surveying party, who were captured by the Michiganians, have all been released on bail except a Mr. Fletcher, who would not even plead or give bail.

Pensacola, April 25. The annals of crime and infatuation can scarcely furnish a parallel for an outrage, committed in this city on Saturday night last. A Mr. Whitaker, who has for some years been engaged here in business, after returning to his residence from a public assembly with his wife, cut her throat from ear to ear; and then made an unsuccessful attempt to destroy himself, by cutting his own throat. When the alarm was given, they were both found lying on their piazza, weltering in blood, the wife, of course, entirely dead, and Whitaker himself in a dangerous situation. It is said he will recover. He was actuated by jealousy.

Melancholy Even.—We regret to learn that ADAM KING, Esq. one of the editors of the York Gazette, put a period to his existence on Wednesday evening last, by hanging himself. The deceased was formerly a member of Congress from the district in which he resided, was in easy circumstances, and stood high in the confidence and esteem of his fellow-citizens. He was appointed by the Democratic Convention of the 4th of March, one of the Electors of President and Vice President, and we are informed that the Lewistown Convention placed his name at the head of the Electoral Ticket formed on Wednesday. No cause can be assigned for the commission of this rash and melancholy act.

Another Railroad.—A company of individuals, residing principally in Boston, have obtained from the Florida Legislature a charter for a Railroad from St. Augustine, or some other point on the Eastern coast of Florida, across the country to some point on the Western coast, probably the mouth of the Suwanee River. The company is composed of wealthy men, who are determined to complete the Railroad as soon as possible.

A case of Desertion.—An attempt was lately made in New York, to recover deserters from his Britannic Majesty's brig Sylla, which arrived there the latter part of last month. Nine of the seamen, including the Sentinel on duty, deserted from the brig, and taking a boat with them, came on shore and took quarters in a boarding-house in Water Street. Four were subsequently carried to the Police Office, where it was urged, on their part by the Counsel, that there was no treaty existing between the two countries on the subject, by virtue of which Great Britain could reclaim deserters from among us. The case was to be argued at a future day, and the seamen were discharged, to reappear if they choose. The seamen who left the brig are American born, and being in England, destitute of money, and almost of clothes, represented themselves as British subjects, and entered on board the brig for the sole purpose of supplying their temporary wants. They had been four months on board, and received two months' pay. The balance they were willing to relinquish to escape the service.

The Reverend (alias) Doctor Chas. L. Cook, was sentenced yesterday morning to three days solitary confinement, and seven years hard labour in the State Prison, as a notorious receiver of stolen goods. The Transcript gives the following account of this monster:

Cook has kept an apothecary's shop lately on the corner of Broad and Purchase streets where he took in the goods which were stolen by four boys, whom he kept as regular apprentices. The trial of this man has excited much curiosity; but some of the details connected with it are of a nature too gross for publication. He was tried for receiving stolen goods only, but in the course of the trial testimony was elicited which exhibited him as a wretch added to the most infamous practices. He at one time officiated as a clergyman, in various parts of Maine and New Hampshire, and was once settled at Boothbay, (Me.) as pastor of the Congregational Church there and was dismissed by an ecclesiastical council for gross offences.

He left the Orthodox church, and by false but plausible representations procured a license to preach as a Restorationist, and was settled over a church of that denomination, at Watertown. Here, on charges preferred against him by his wife, his license was revoked, and he came to Boston and commenced operation as a physician and apothecary—His whole life has been one of disgusting vice and turpitude, and society is well rid of him and his demoralizing influences. His punishment in proportion to his crimes is light as dust.

Previous to receiving his sentence, he addressed the Court in a style which exhibited talent and great fluency of language. He assigned as the cause of his trouble; his marrying against his wishes, to gratify his mother and family.

OUR DELEGATE TO THE CAUCUS.—The following article from the "Standard," printed at Raleigh, by Philo White, furnishes an item of news to the good people of Rowan, Davidson, and Montgomery, which three counties compose this Electoral District. It has truly astonished the natives here, and one of the Resolutions, adopted at the great meeting on the 18th instant, shows that astonishment is not the only feeling excited by this piece of news. If Philo White himself had been present, we do not believe, as some suppose, that he would have received the ungrateful dress of tar and feathers, but he certainly would have wished himself away without loss of time, either in the Caucus at Baltimore, or even beyond Cape Horn, to escape the contempt and indignation of an outraged and insulted People. We call upon delegate White to publish the proceedings of the meeting which authorized him to go on to Baltimore, and represent the Freeman of Rowan, Davidson, and Montgomery in the Officeholder's Caucus;—let us have the names of the Chairman, Secretary, and Committee present on that occasion; let us have the time, place, and particulars of the whole affair. We wish to publish them for the information of the people—that they may see who it is that are so very good as to authorize Philo White to make a President for the People, while they are engaged in making their crops.

Salisbury Electoral District.—Archibald Henderson, and Philo White, have been delegated to attend the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, on behalf of the Republican friends of the Administration in the Salisbury Electoral District, composed of the counties of Rowan, Davidson, and Montgomery.
