OXFORD MALE ACADEMY.

The prominent advantages of this Institution, render it peculiarly deserving the notice of parents and guardians. It formerly ranked among the first in the State; and it has at present many additional and solid claims on the public for patronage and preference.

Oxford is surpassed by no village of the south in its healthfulness, pleasant location, good society and freedom from dissipation. During the summer months many persons resort to its salubrious climate, for the purpose of improving or restoring their health; others are attracted by its agreeable environs and social comforts.—There are three churches belonging to different denominations; and the Academy stands convenient in an airy and secluded spot.

Independently of these local recommendations, the principal, Mr. A. HART, is a gentleman of considerable attainments in classical and scientific knowledge, acquired in England, Italy and France. Of the former country, he is a native where he followed his profession with success, many years previous to his practising it in America. He is not only well versed in the Greek and Latin classics, but familiar with modern languages and all the numerous branches of physical, mathematical, moral and intellectual science. Added to these endowments he has formed by travel, research and observation, an extensive acquaintance with the ornamental and critical literature of Europe and America. He will be aided in his duties by competent assistants in proportion to the number of pupils.

In training the Students to respect their teachers, their companions and themselves, strict regard will be had to inculcate virtuous principles, honorable feelings and gentlemanly conduct.—The method of instruction will combine the advantages of domestic and public education.—The government will be paternal rather than severe; and the student's minds directed to habits of industry, accurate observation and deep enquiry. Suitable time and care will be allotted to reading, writing, composition and elocution.

Classical students will be prepared to enter the Freshman or the Sophomore class, agreeably to the course of studies prescribed by the University of the State. Tuition per session $15 00

The course for the English department will consist of four classes to be instructed in the following branches.

	per session
IV Spelling, reading, writing and Arithmetic, - - -	$8 00
III. The above continued, geography, grammar, parsing and exercises, - -	$10 00
II. Composition, logic, rhetoric, history, chronology and Algebra, - -	$12 00
I. Prosody & poetry, natural philosophy, astronomy, chemistry, mineralogy and botony, mental and moral science, geometry, mensuration, land surveying, navigation, &c. - -	$15 00

Modern Languages.

The French course, $7 00 } per session
The Spanish, Italian and German each, $10 00 } extra.

The tuition fees are required in advance; and the amount of half a session will be the smallest charge.

The year is divided into two sessions of twenty two weeks each, the first commences on the third Monday of January and ends on the third Friday of June; the second begins (allowing a week's interval) on the fourth Monday of June, and terminates on the fourth Friday in November. A public examination before the Trustees will take place at the close of every session; when Parents and Guardians are invited to attend

By order of the Trustees.

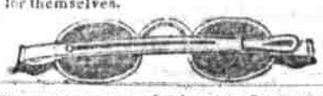
BERNARD DUPUY,

Informs his friends and the public generally, that he has just returned from New York and Philadelphia, with a rich and fashionable assortment of goods, which he is now opening, and will further open in a few days at his new Watch, Jewelry and Fancy Store,

No. 10, Fayetteville Street.

Which, together with his former stock, presents a very extensive and desirable assortment of goods, which will be sold at a very small advance; he invites the public to come and examine for themselves.



The assortment consists in part of very superior Gold and Silver Watches, American, English and French Jewelry, Silver tea Setts, Silver Spoons, do. Cups, Butter Knives, do. Pickle Knives and Forks, Plated Waiters, very fine Japanned do., Castors, Candlesticks, Brittannia ware, Coffee Grecques, Mantel Clocks, do. Lamps, Astral do., fine double and single barrel Guns, dueling, belt and pocket Pistols, gold and silver mounted Canes, Whips, Rogers' superior Raisors and Knives, Music Boxes and Accordions, with a great variety of fancy articles and perfumery.

Thankful for past encouragement, he solicits a continuance of the public favour, being fully persuaded that the manner in which his business is carried on will give perfect satisfaction to all those who may favour him with their custom.

Clocks and Watches of all descriptions repaired in a countenanced superior manner. All orders for Gold or Silver work executed at the shortest notice, and in the most approved style.

WILLIAMS & HAYWOOD

Have lately received at their well known stand on Fayetteville Street, near the market house, their Spring and Summer supply of Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Brushes, Window Glass, Perfumery, &c.

Which with their former supply, make their assortment large and extensive, comprising almost every article usually kept in their line of business.

They offer them at wholesail or retail, upon the most favorable terms, as they are determined their assortment shall not be inferior, nor will they be undersold by any establishment in the State, either OLD or NEW.

Grateful for the patronage heretofore bestowed upon them by their friends and the public generally, they flatter themselves, that by assiduity and constant attention to business, that they will continue to receive the same liberal encouragement already secured to them.

Prescriptions will be carefully compounded and put up with none but the most genuine articles, under the inspection of one of the proprietors.

Orders from Physicians & Merchants, promptly attended to.

SHOCCO SPRINGS.

This well known watering place will be again opened for the reception of visiters on the first of June next. The testimonials of the efficacy of this water, particularly in cases common to the low lands, are of sufficient notoriety, and require reference only to those whose experience has enabled them to test its virtues. I deem it only necessary to state that the water has been recently analyzed, and its ingredients are of the same class with most of the Virginia Springs & the famous Bedford Springs of Pennsylvania.

For the benefit of the public, I have thought proper to subjoin a letter or two from eminent professional men, whose intimate acquaintance with the properties of the water renders them competent judges of its efficacy

Since the last season, several bed rooms with fire places have been erected for the convenience of Families.

ANN JOHNSON.

Shocco Springs, May 25, 1837.

From Simmons J. Baker, M. D.

Dear Madam—The case referred to, in the conversation I had the honor to have with you a few days past, was that of Mr. Paul, of Scotland Neck. He had a violent acute inflamation of the liver, which was subdued with great difficulty; when he was convalescent, his skin was of a deep orange color. As Mr. Paul had been severely disciplined, I was unwilling to give him more medicine, and advised him to accompany me to Shocco Springs, to which he consented. We arrived on a Tuesday evening; on Wednesday morning, business carried me to Raleigh, and I did not return until Sunday evening, when, to my astonishment, Mr. Paul's skin was as clear as it ever was. In two or three days he returned to Scotland Neck, was drafted and went to Norfolk, and remained there until the troops were disbanded. He was one of the few, encamped at the Peach Orchard, who escaped with impunity. Your most obed't,

S. J. BAKER.

Scotland Neck, May 10, 1837.

From F. A Thornton, Esq

Alexandria, Warren county, May 10.

Dear Madam—For several months previous to leaving home for Shocco Springs, my health was dreadful. Indeed, my situation was considered critical. When I reached Shocco, I was unable, without assistance, to get from my carriage to my room. I did not drink the water more than a fortnight, before I had so far recovered my health as to be able to walk alone all over the yard; and, in a very short time afterwards, to the astonishment of my friends, I returned home entirely well

FRANK A. THORNTON.

From John Beckwith, M. D

Raleigh, May 10, 1837.

Dear Madam—You not unreasonably conclude that one who, like myself, has been an occasional visiter at Shocco Springs for more than five and twenty years, should be able to form a just estimate of their medicinal effects. It gives me pleasure to be able, from much observation, and no small personal experience, to say, that the waters are well adapted to cases of convalescence from bilious and intermittent Fevers; that they correct a vitiated or deficient action of the Liver; give keenness to the appetite, and tone and energy to the digestive organs.

They who reside in low and unhealthy districts of country, will find at Shocco during the summer months, a pure and invigorating air, comfortable accommodations, mineral waters answering all reasonable expectations, and a table, of which the only fault is, being rather too tempting for invalids.

It is proper to remark, that the water parts with much of its active properties in a short time after being drawn from the spring, and therefore, in order to realize its full benefits, visiters should take it at the fountain.

Very respectfully,

JOHN BECKWITH.

To Mrs. Johnson, Shocco Springs.

From Ellis Malone, M. D.

May 2, 1837.

Dear Madam—I take pleasure in stating, that in my opinion, the water of Shocco Springs is possessed of an extensive and direct influence over the diseased actions of many of the organs of our system. Actively diuretic, gently laxative, and, if exercise is taken after using it, not a little diaphoretic, together with its invigorating influence over the chylopoetic apparatus, increasing the appetite and strengthening the powers of digestion, it could not well be otherwise than that the proper use of it, should be greatly conducive to the restoration of the healthy action of diseased organs, to which it bears so manifest a relation.

My information in relation to its medicinal properties has been derived from no little personal experience. It will readily occur to intelligent medical men, to what class of diseases a remedy having such effects as described above, will be applicable, who will likely be consulted by invalids wishing to avail themselves of its benefits before leaving their respective homes.

Respectfully, yours, &c.

ELLIS MALONE.

TAILORS, RALEIGH, N. C.

Would most respectfully inform the inhabitants of this city and its vicinity, and the public at large, that they have taken the House next door to Mr. John G. Marshall, on Fayetteville street, nearly opposite the Post Office, where they intend to the best of their ability to carry on the TAILORING BUSINESS in all its various forms and fashions. They flatter themselves, that from many years approved experience, both in cutting and making, they are fully capable of giving entire satisfaction to all who may be so kind as to favour them with their custom. They pledge themselves to the public, that their cutting and sewing in neatness, durability and style, shall compete with any similar establishment in this City or State. If any should call, and we fail to please them, in such event, we will refund the amount expended, and feel perfectly satisfied; because we are determined, no one shall be dissatisfied with us, if it can be possibly avoided upon fair terms

We deem it necessary to say but little respecting our charges, as we intend always to take into consideration the circumstances of the times, the quality of the cloth, and the style in which the Garment is to be made. We would merely further say to the liberal and intelligent customer, far and near, to call and see us, and if we do not give you as good, if not better accommodations than you can get elsewhere in this city, we will strike our colours and give up the ship

The very latest fashions will be regularly received from the Northern Cities.

All kind of Garments cut and warranted to fit on the shortest notice.

And now, in conclusion, it may not be unwise to observe, and we wish to fix the impression in the mind of the intelligent reader, because it is a truth which cannot be controverted, and the public are interested in knowing it, that

Cloths, Cassimeres & Vestings; Summer Cloths, Drillings, &c. &c. Stocks, Collars & Bosoms, and in fact, every thing desirable for gentlemen's apparel can and will be furnished by us or the MERCHANTS of Raleigh on the most reasonable terms.

SOUTHERN TONIC FOR THE CURE OF FEVER & AGUE.

The success of the SOUTHERN TONIC is unprecedented. It has been anxiously sought after by all classes in every part of the United States, and its widely extended distribution has been owing to the many requests received from every section of the South and South West.—Although it originated in an obscure part of the country but a few years since, it is now found in all the principal towns and villages in the Union, and its virtues as a Cure for Ague and Fever, and as a general Tonic, are appreciated by all who have used it. Being as it professes a compound of Southern Vegetables, it is needless to offer the assurance that there is no Arsenic, Mercury, nor any thing in the least hurtful to the human constitution in it. It will be found a valuable Medicine in all cases of Dyspepsia and disorganised Stomach and Bowels, and patients convalescing from Bilious Fever, will derive the most important benefits from the use of the Southern Tonic. It may be administered to children and infants of the most tender age, with the utmost safety. Prepared by Coster & Coxe at their Labratory, at Montgomery Alabama.

From the Washington Reformer.

HON. JOHN C. CALHOUN.

The Editor of the Raleigh Star thus notices the speech of this statesman on the currency, in 1834, which was lately republished in this paper, and which we are pleased to see has been copied into many journals in every section of the Union.

"MR. CALHOUN'S SPEECH.—In this week's Star we commence the publication of the able and patriotic speech of Mr. Calhoun, on the currency, delivered in 1834. It is no ephemeral production. Through every line it bears the impress of a master spirit. When first presented to the public, it was read with deep interest and admiration, and time but serves to give it additional celebrity and importance.—At the present crisis, it is peculiarly interesting and instructive, and we are gratified to perceive that a large proportion of our editorial brethren, impressed with its excellencies, are spreading it before their readers. We wish it could be placed in the hands of every American freeman, for such is the obvious soundness of its enlightened and practical views, the clearness and cogency of its reasoning, and the magnanimity of spirit by which it is elevated above the illiberal and contracted emanations of the partisan, that no candid and unprejudiced man, of whatever party, can fail to read it with pleasure and profit. We shall publish the remainder next week, and would take leave to recommend to the reader the careful preservation of the numbers containing it, for future reference; for it contains the views of a profound statesman and unbending patriot, who may yet be called to the helm of Government to right the ship of State and restore it to its original sound and safe condition."

The speech is, indeed, justly deserving of the commendations here bestowed upon it. It discovers a thorough knowledge of the whole subject of which it treats, and for perspicuity of expression, force of argument, profoundness of thought, and foresightedness in the future, it has no equal even among the many extraordinary efforts of his own great mind. He not only condenses in a few pages all that is valuable, as throwing light on the science of banking, but goes further, and presenting a faithful and luminous picture of the then condition of our own currency, points out the remedies called for by the emergency. He not only predicted the present state of things, but showed how the mischief might be avoided. Unfortunately for the country his counsels were disregarded, and the prescriptions of stupid demagogues and miserable partisans were adopted in their stead. From that time the disease became worse and worse, until we now fully realize the consequences of trusting to the charlatancy of silly experiments, mere empirics; quacks, whose nostrums, administered at a venture, have only made the disease more obstinate & unmanageable.

In connection with the subject, and to show how fully he comprehended the state of affairs, we will give the substance of a conversation between a gentleman, who felt much interest in the question, and Mr. Calhoun, on the day of his departure from this city after the adjournment of the last Congress. The gentleman called on him, and desired that he would communicate his views in reference to the condition of the currency, and to point out the remedy, if any, for the evils which he himself apprehended.

MR. CALHOUN. There is no remedy, sir. It is too late. You cannot prevent the catastrophe. The aspect of things is entirely delusive, and in a much briefer space than is commonly supposed the crush will come. It cannot be arrested. The currency is in the most critical and dangerous situation. I have thought of it much, but can see no remedy for the calamity which is at hand.

GENTLEMAN. Would not a repeal of the specie circular tend to relieve the banks, and give time to correct the alarming expansion of the currency?

MR. CALHOUN. No, sir, it is too late. That measure has done much mischief, but its repeal cannot repair the mischief. It has hastened the catastrophe, and its repeal now can have but little if any effect. The banking system in this country has been, for years, running into greater and greater excesses. It has now reached a point where no remedy can operate. Had my re-
