

POETRY.

THE DELUGE.

The mandate from on high had sped—and judgment Sped was at hand. From zone to zone of Heaven's high canopy the Night began to Hold his ancient sway; cloud after cloud spread Out his wide pavilion o'er the sun and stars.

As for myself I'd call to see The loved at least three times three,
Each passing month.
And then should think the number small,
So in each week make one more call,
That I'd make on Sunday eve, If she would then that call receive,
I should be pleased.

Would that be right ye ladies say, Or should he call once every day, When Sol has set, and Luna shines, To calm your face, while he divines Your secret thoughts.
Since your opinion now is ask'd, I hope you'll be once unmask'd, And tell your lovers—gently say—
Which the best—which that narrow way—
To walk secure!

The shepherds
Of the upper and the lower storms are Blended—the filmy mists are scattered back In floating folds from the tremendous bow Of that tall mountain, by the swiftly-rushing Rain the silence of the forest wild is broken By the swarming of the tempest thro' its graining Boughs—before the surges of the storm And sea that moaned audibly in dashing Death-like sounds—frail, helplessly, wretched man toiled.

PROSPECTUS OF
The Southern Review:
To be Published at Washington, quarterly, in an 8vo. No. of 275 to 300 pages; price $5 per annum, payable in advance. The price is chosen not only for its facilities of information, literary and political, but because it is that at which the Southern States can be united upon the most advantageous terms, and with the greatest freedom of the matter, three fourths (say 225 pp.) shall consist of regular Reviews, embracing about one of 25 pp. each. These shall, as to literary works at least, return as a general rule, somewhat towards that older method, now almost forgotten, and give a regular abstract of the book reviewed, if it be of any merit. In politics, and upon occasional subjects, there may be a greater liberty of deviating into mere disquisition.

In this portion of the Review; there will be given, in each No. a paper historical of the politics and general events of the day, to serve as a Historical Register. Its execution will always be committed to the strongest hands only, and its purpose to give a unity and consistency to the public doctrines of the Review, such as can scarcely be so well effected in any other manner. Occasional RETROSPECTIVE REVIEWS will also be embodied in this part of the plan, with a view of favoring, in a certain degree the more curious reader, to revive the knowledge of important books, forgotten in the confusion of modern learning.

Writers will be led, of regular purpose, to give their papers, whenever the subject will permit, the form of a series; in order not only that they may thus afford a more complete body of information, but serve, also, to reprint part, for popular circulation—a method that will not only augment both the reputation and the utility of the Review.
A body of MISCELLANEOUS—some 30 pages, will form the subordinate and more amusing part of the Journal. Its contents will be somewhat various, but will, for the most part, consist of short LITERARY NOTICES; BIRTO-GRAPHICAL ARTICLES; a critical list of New PUBLICATIONS, foreign and domestic, and general LITERARY INTELLIGENCE.
In communications, the most compressed mode of writing will be every where required. Papers in which the words do not bear a just proportion to the information conveyed, or the effect intended, will be either rejected—without scruple, or abridged without mercy.
To warrant this execution, the usual rate of compensation to writers will be advanced to 2 dollars per printed page; a price that will offer fair remuneration to talents and labor. In this sort of note-making, we know that "cunctis studiorum premis, etiam studia peritura."
Of this revival of a Review of the South, the purpose is, to give once more to our region, now eminently needing it, an Interpreter and a Defender—the common Representative of our Institutions, and of the mind itself amongst us. Such, in that great Congress of opinion, where the fates of civilized nations are now so largely settled, we do not possess; and we have already suffered much for it.
It is time to make ourselves understood and respected there. The Journal which shall do this, must combine the general strength of all who, in the South, love their country, and are capable of doing it still actual service. It must, then, be, not the champion of the propagandist of local opinions, but the friend of all that pursue the public good.
Into the vulgar methods of politics, debased by partisan rancor, or corrupted by the interest, or overcome by the popular passion of the hour it must not fall. From it, the pride of the Nullifier must receive no diminution, the fidelity of the Unionist no reproach. It must be no vantage ground to either party; nor serve but as a common field, where they will only contend which shall most advance the cause of the South.
To vindicate, then, our peculiar institutions, to repel with argument, lest externally we be forced to repel with arms, all present interference with our domestic condition, against the will rule of mere Chance and Corruption; to uphold a republicanism and a literature, as distinguished from a mere political administration of the National affairs, from the disorders of the Central Government—where Reform is hopeless, and even unless it you have given yourselves stronger and wider local systems; to direct the public view towards a home policy of the States, capable, through itself, to confer upon our people those blessings of well ordered Liberty which we expect in vain from the Federal power, from the delusions of party politics abroad, to call home the attention of our people to those arts by which the wise and brave have often raised petty States into noble and prosperous Commonwealths; to attach men, if possible, to their birth-place, and convert them from wandering and selfish adventurers into citizens, the lovers of civilization, to re-animate public spirit, and give it purpose, as well as energy; to hold over parties and politicians the tribunal of a public opinion far different from that idle and corrupt one of which the newspaper press is the voice; for these purposes, to give direction through the land to sound and well-considered public doctrines, spreading with firm knowledge and taste, their natural alliance, such will be the constant effort of that literary league among the talents of the country, which has been set on foot in the present undertaking.

WILLIAMS & HAYWOOD

on Fayetteville Street, near the market house, a large and complete supply of Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Brushes, Window Glass, Perfumery, &c.
Which with their former supply, make their assortment large and extensive, comprising almost every article usually kept in their line of business.
They offer them at wholesale or retail, upon the most favorable terms, as they are determined to receive the same liberal management already accorded to them.
Prescriptions will be carefully compounded and put up with none but the most genuine articles, under the inspection of one of the proprietors.

NEW FIRM.
CUSTIS & SYKES,
TAILORS, RALEIGH, N. C.
Would most respectfully inform the inhabitants of this city and its vicinity, and the public at large, that they have taken the House next door to Mr. John G. Marshall, on Fayetteville street, nearly opposite the Post Office, where they intend to do the best of their ability early on the Tailoring Business in all its various forms and fashions. They flatter themselves, that from many years approved experience, both in cutting and making, they are full-ly capable of giving entire satisfaction to all who may be so kind as to favour them with their custom. Their clothes themselves to the public, that their cutting and sewing, in neatness, durability and style, shall compare with any similar establishment in this City or State. If any should call, and we fail to please them, in such event, we will refund the amount expended, and feel perfectly satisfied because we are determined, no one shall be dissatisfied with us, if it can be possibly avoided upon fair terms.
We deem it necessary to say but little respecting our charges, as we intend always to take into consideration the circumstances of the time, the quality of the cloth, and the style in which the garment is to be made. We would merely further say to the liberal and intelligent customer, far and near, to call and see us, and if we do not give you as good, if not better advantage than you can get elsewhere in this city, we will strike our colours and give up the shop.
The very latest fashions will be regularly received from the Northern Cities.
All kind of Garments cut and warranted to fit on the shortest notice.
And now, in conclusion, it may not be accrued to observe, and we wish to fix the impression in the mind of the intelligent reader, because it is a truth which cannot be controverted, and the public are interested in knowing it, that Cloths, Cassimeres & Vestings; Summer Cloths, Drillings, &c.
&c. Stocks, Collars & Bosoms, and in fact, every thing desirable for gentlemen's apparel can and will be furnished by us or the MERCHANTS of Raleigh on the most reasonable terms.

for the sale of the above Tobacco, and will from the same manufactory, put up in 8 and 12

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.
The time of holding the proposed Editorial Convention in this City, has been changed from the 31st Monday in September, to Wednesday, the 1st day of November next. This alteration has been made because of the inability of several of our brethren to attend in September, on account of previous indispensable engagements. No valuable results can spring from such a meeting, unless the whole Press of the State be represented, and the postponement of it, it is hoped, will have the effect of securing a general attendance on the part of those whom it concerns.

Twenty Dollars Reward!
From the subscriber on Monday the 31st of July, two negroes of the following description: A negro woman, about thirty-five or forty years of age, by the name of Eliza; she has a light complexion for a negro, about the common size, speaks quickly, and is smart and intelligent. She has been accustomed to waiting in the house. She has a very large head of hair, and well mouth. Also, her own son, sometimes called Abel; a mulatto boy, about 17 years of age; he is lame in his left hand, and is a little cross eyed. He is slow in speaking, with a swelling countenance; he resembles an Indian in appearance. It is expected that these negroes will make for North Carolina, at the women several years ago, and was taken up and put in jail at Raleigh, N. C. I will pay twenty dollars reward for their apprehension and delivery to me, near Cheraw, and all reasonable expenses, or for their delivery in any jail in South or North Car-either of them.

MARK'S OINTMENT
FOR THE CURE OF PILES.
The subscriber begs leave to offer to the attention of those who are subject to that most disagreeable of disorders, the Piles, a remedy, the efficacy of which has been tested by the experience of years, and the utility of which has in instance been impaired from failure to relieve.
To those who have been subjected to this disease, it will prove, if applied when re-stacked, a sure preventive to its continuance, without the least pain; indeed many have pronounced it the most agreeable remedy ever applied. There can be no danger in its use as its component parts are of harmless vegetable matter.
The mother of the subscriber who is the maker of the ointment, has been in the habit of giving it to her friends and neighbors for the last five or six years, and in no instance to her knowledge has its application been ineffectual, as will be seen by a number of certificates annexed, as well as the testimony of a medical gentleman who has used it himself, and prescribed it to the relief of others.
Those who are suffering will do well to make trial of the remedy. Its efficacy is guaranteed, and there can be no doubt but that the disease may be arrested in its earliest stage, if no delay be made in its application.
The directions for use will be found on each bottle.
SAMUEL H. MARKS,
Peterburg, Va., Aug. 21, 1856.

Prince George County, July 30, 1856.
Mr. S. H. Marks:
Dear Sir: In compliance with your request I will inform the public that I have had two members of my family frequently attacked with the Piles, and from an ointment that I obtained from your mother, they have in all cases found entire relief with a few applications.
JESSE HEATH.

Prince George County, Aug. 18, 1856.
Mr. Saml. H. Marks:
Dear Sir: Yours of the 17th inst.
was duly received, and it affords me pleasure to comply with your request. I have been afflicted with that disagreeable disorder, the Piles, and also my negro man, and I obtained from your mother the ointment that you offer to the public, and in all attacks both my man and myself have found entire relief. In addition to the above experience, I have given it to some of my friends, and I have never known it to fail giving relief. I would recommend this ointment to those who are subject to this disagreeable disease, as an effectual and agreeable remedy.
Yours respectfully,
JOHN McROOM.

Richmond, July 16, 1856.
Sir: I received yours of the 15th inst., and wish to inform you of my situation at the time that you gave me a bottle of your Pile Ointment, and what effect it had on me.
I had the piles as bad as any person could have been—so much so, that I could not attend to my business; and in truth, I could scarcely get out of my room. I commenced with your ointment, and in three or four days, I was entirely relieved. I would recommend it to the public, as being one of the most excellent remedies that was ever offered to the public.
WILLIAM CARSON.
Peterburg, Aug. 19, 1856.

Mr. S. H. Marks:
Dear Sir: I take pleasure in informing the public, that I was very lately afflicted with that disagreeable disorder, the Piles, and I obtained from you, a bottle of your ointment, and in a few days the disease was entirely removed. I would recommend it as an infallible remedy.

FEVER & AGUE.
The success of the SOUTHERN TONIC is unprecedented. It has been anxiously sought after by all classes in every part of the United States, and its widely extended distribution has been owing to the many cures received from every section of the South and West.— Although it originated in an obscure part of the country but a few years since, it is now found in all the principal towns and villages in the
